

Weekly

Published by College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community

August 29, 1990

President to Faculty: College at 'Critical Turning Point'

Expounding a theme that the college is at a critical turning point in its history, President Charles O. Warren urged the college community Friday to address the future "with intelligence and wisdom based on principles and values of service, quality and humaneness."

In his academic year-opening welcoming address to faculty and staff, President Warren reflected on the rapidly changing nature of the world, particularly in the past year, and the impact of change on students beginning the college experience. It was a year, he said, characterized by an unprecedented array of momentous and contiguous events — some full of hope and freedom, others discouraging and potentially disastrous.

"Our broader global environment demands leadership, vision and results from the academy in a most insistent manner," he said. "We are a strong, appropriately self-confident community of teachers, learners, scholars and providers of service. The contributions we must make, the connections we must establish, the challenges we must face are greater than ever. Institutionally, as we reflect on society and the world, we really are at a turning point. And I sincerely believe that we have the conviction and courage to turn in a most positive and responsible direction."

Warren focused on selected areas of achievement, including an enrollment that is on target, significant gains in fund-raising and sponsored research, advances in a multifaceted affirmative action program, and enhancement of the academic program, which, he described as "central among our various activities." The college's students, he said, have the potential to succeed at high levels, and the institution itself has the quality of faculty, staff and facilities to guarantee that success.

"This year we begin a new general education program; it is potentially a very good one," said Warren. "It is derived from many years and countless hours of analysis, planning and serious, controversial debate and honest debate. That is as it should be. Good curricula are established in no other way. Not it is time as a faculty to offer that curriculum with conviction, determination and a strong sense of common cause."

The president described the college's current budget climate as "challenging at best, and dreary at worst." He said he would schedule a series of open forums at various campus locations during the next few weeks to discuss the budget situation in detail and to allow for widespread interaction and participation.

"This chronic budgetary climate has contributed greatly toward our current turning point," said Warren. "Based firmly on the assumption that quality must be preserved and even enhanced, we cannot continue

(Continued on back page)

'90-91 Academic Year Begins With Enrollments on Target

SUNY Plattsburgh's second century officially began last weekend with the arrival of yet another freshman class.

New students checked into the residence halls on Saturday and participated in a variety of social and academic activities on Sunday. Upper-level students arrived back on campus on Sunday and classes began on Monday. Special Opening Week activities began during the weekend and are continuing through this week (see calendar for details).

Admissions Targets Met

Admissions director Richard Higgins said this week that the college has achieved 112% of its enrollment goals. This year's targets were set at 915 new freshmen, 630 new transfer students and 125 re-admitted students (students who had previously been enrolled, but who had left for a variety of reasons).

Higgins was pleased with the level of enrollments, commenting, "This year there was a significant decrease in the number of graduating high school seniors. Yet we were able to increase our share of the market and have done very well in attracting quality students."

He added that the college has also succeeded in attracting an increased number of multi-cultural students, with approximately nine percent of freshman and four percent of transfer deposits coming from Asian, Black, Hispanic and Native American students. Deposits have also increased from international students, with about 35 students representing 21 countries expected to enroll.

New Security System

Residence halls will be filled to capacity this fall and four of those halls have new security systems. Law-

(Continued on back page)

Welcome Back Students and Faculty!

LaBastille to Receive Honorary Degree at Convocation

SUNY Plattsburgh's newest students will be welcomed and initiated to the campus community during the third annual fall Academic Convocation and Matriculation Ceremony to be held at 4 p.m. next Wednesday (Sept. 5) in the Amitie Courtyard.

Highlights of the program will be presentation of the honorary degree of Doctor of Science from the State University of New York to author-conservationist Dr. Anne LaBastille, and recognition of faculty and professional staff who will formally receive honors conferred upon them toward the end of academic 1989-90.

Dr. Douglas Skopp, professor of history and chairperson of the college's convocation and matriculation committee, urged faculty, staff and resident assistants to encourage all first-year and transfer students to attend the program. Classes and all college activities have been canceled for the event from 3 to 5:30 p.m.

Students and their faculty mentors will assemble in Memorial Hall gymnasium at 3:40 p.m. Teaching faculty will gather in the Angell Center Blue Room, and librarians and professional staff in the building's Cardinal Lounge, also at 3:40 p.m. A foul weather plan has been formulated, and participants should review Dr. Skopp's August 25 memo for details.

Music will be provided by the Cardinal Singers and the College Brass Ensemble. President Charles O. Warren will greet the assembly, deliver welcoming remarks and preside at the matriculation ceremony. The honorary degree from SUNY will be conferred on LaBastille by Judith L. Duken, a 1959 Plattsburgh graduate and a member of the State University Board of Trustees. Medallions will be presented to Dr. Bruce Butterfield, associate professor of English, Dr. Philip DeVita, professor of anthropology and Anna Nardelli, associate professor of education, as recipients of 1990 SUNY Chancellor's Awards for Excellence in Teaching, and to Suzanne Sokolowski, director of financial aid, who received the 1990 Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Professional Service. Dr. James Ashe, professor of education, Cheryl Hogle, associate director of campus life, Dr. Eleanor Stoller, professor of sociology, and Dr. Taher Zandi, associate professor of psychology, will be recognized as recipients of Excellence Awards sponsored by New York State and U.U.P.

Honorary degree recipient LaBastille has devoted her career to studying the effects of humans on the world. The holder of the Ph.D. from Cornell University, she taught at Cornell in the department of natural resources and the department of science and environmental education. She served as a biologist on the National Geographic Society expedition to Guatemala and conducted wildlife studies on the Atlantic coast for the Smithsonian Institution.

LaBastille has also worked for the World Wildlife

Fund, Defenders of Wildlife and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. She is the author of several books, including Birds of the Mayas, Woodswoman, Woman and the Wilderness, Beyond Black Bear Lake and the recently released Mama Poc. She is currently a freelance wildlife ecologist, consultant, writer and photographer.

Domenico Assumes Role as Education Center Director

Dr. Raymond Domenico, chairperson of the department of hearing and speech science, has been appointed acting director of the Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services, replacing Dr. Michael Wolfe, who resigned this summer to accept a new position.

Dr. E. Thomas Moran, vice president for academic affairs, said, "Dr. Domenico has received widespread support from members of our teacher education faculty. He is a very capable, balanced and committed administrator."

Moran added, "We will begin meetings early in the fall semester to determine the future direction and leadership of the teacher education center.

Domenico has been a member of the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty since 1982. He has been active in campus governance, serving the past two years as chair of the Faculty Senate. He currently holds the elected post of Presiding Officer of the Faculty.

He holds the Ph.D. and M.A. from Syracuse University and the B.A. from Northeastern University.

Howarth Visit to Begin

The college's fall semester Distinguished Visiting Professor program begins next week with the appointment of Dr. John Howarth, professor of physics and former director of the Honors Program at the University of Maryland.

Howarth, a national authority on honors programs, will be on campus from Wednesday, Sept. 5 through the following Wednesday.

A past president of the National Collegiate Honors Council, Howarth is the author of numerous articles on x-ray crystallography, radiological physics and nuclear medicine. His campus host is Dr. David Mowry, professor of philosophy and director of the college's Honors Program (ext. 3075).

Text of President Warren's Address to the Faculty

August 24, 1990

Once again, this year is one of temporal significance in the life of our College.

We begin the first decade of our second century, just as we begin the final decade of a most impressive and rather astonishing century in the history of humankind.

This summer, as for the past 23 years, we hosted our new students at 10 separate orientation sessions. Almost 1600 students and 1,000 parents and family members attended. Thanks to our maintenance and operations staff, Daui and Nick Woodin, Cheryl Hogle, Bill Laundry, Paul Berry, the Student Orientation Staff and dozens and dozens of faculty members, classified professional colleagues and professional staff, they were welcomed to a beautiful, warm campus with caring support, serious academic challenges, good advancement and very useful information as they began the process of joining our college community. Clearly, they are at a turning point in their lives..a critical turning point.

As I spoke with each group, I asked them to reflect on their lives over the past year, first in a personal way and then from a global perspective. The litany of societal and world events that they quickly recited made crystal clear what all of us know: it was an incredible year, characterized by an unprecedented array of momentous and contiguous events—some full of hope and freedom, others discouraging and potentially disastrous. Those events continue, and so they will throughout the decade. As the students and I thought along together about the complexity, diversity and rapidly changing nature of the world, a notion seemed to emerge in their minds. That notion was of the critical linkages, the connections, between and among the goals and expectations of their baccalaureate experience, the pragmatically idealistic role of the academy, and the hopes and challenges that lie ahead. As that notion is transformed to vision, commitment and philosophy, they are truly at a turning point.

But, then, so are we.

Our broader global environment demands leadership, vision and results from the academy in a most insistent manner. Our more immediate political, economic and social environment calls clearly for incisive insights, coordinated efforts and a resolute commitment to the integrity of our mission. We are a strong, appropriately self-confident community of teachers, learners, scholars and providers of service. The contributions we must make, the connections we must establish, the challenges we must face are greater than ever. Institutionally, as we reflect our society and the world, we really are at a turning point.

And I sincerely believe that we have the conviction and courage to turn in a most positive and responsible direction.

Our one hundred year history and our recent past are reassuring. We have accomplished a great deal. Since those recent accomplishments are part of the draft of The Plattsburgh Plan you just received and also will be described in a forthcoming biennial report, I won't go into great detail. But let me reflect on selected areas of achievement and challenge.

Enrollment

This week-end, we expect about 930 freshmen and 750 new transfer students. While our freshmen enrollment is right on target, an unusually high yield rate has resulted in approximately 100 more transfer students than expected. However, enhanced academic standards and more stringent academic progress guidelines resulted in a higher dismissal level during 1989-90, so that our overall enrollment should be very near the target number.

Minority enrollments of nine percent of the freshmen class and 6.5 percent of all new students equal last year's levels, which were double those of the previous year. Progress has been made in this critical area, but we must redouble our efforts both in the recruitment and retention of multicultural students. I am pleased to report that international student enrollment is expected to be up about 40 percent (from 70 to 100 students) over last year.

In a very competitive climate with discouraging demographics, our colleagues in admissions and others have done very well in meeting our goals, while maintaining and even enhancing standards of quality. We are very grateful.

These recruitment efforts are being complemented successfully through a number of initiatives including the Freshmen Experience and the FIPSE Transfer Project. Again, our thanks to all of you who are so involved in and committed to those and similar efforts.

External Funding

Self-help, through external fundraising, has become a central focus for our College and our University. In this area, SUNY Plattsburgh remains a leader. With assets approaching $4.5 million dollars, the Plattsburgh College Foundation raised last year more than $1.1 million in gifts and pledges, including a five-year pledged Centennial Endowment total of $652,000. Please note that the Centennial Endowment produces unrestricted income that can be matched with state dollars to accomplish important projects that otherwise would remain elusive.

In a similar fashion, our Sponsored Research and Programs Office reports a funding level over the past two years of $5,518,000, with a number of project proposals still pending.

Affirmative Action

To reflect the values of democracy and the principles of liberal education, we have established a serious and multifaceted affirmative action program. Through the efforts of the Affirmative Action Committee; the Commission on Women; the Minority Concerns Committee; the Sexual Harassment Committee; the Personal Safety Committee; the Faculty, through the Senate; our Student Association and many, many of you contributing in many ways, we have made significant progress.

But these challenges are not ephemeral. To satisfy our principles and values, efforts in this complex, interactive area must continue. To assume completion is to reverse our progress. To do less than establish a community that celebrates diversity and rejects discrimination in response to race, gender or sexual preference is unacceptable. We have passed that turning point, and it must never be revisited.

(Over)

Curriculum

Central among our various activities, of course, is our academic program.

In recent years, we have renewed our focus on a campus culture that is permeated by a sense of academic seriousness of purpose. While all of us realize that student growth and development is multidimensional and depends upon the interactive efforts of all of us, we have enhanced our commitment to high academic standards, in a supportive, nurturing environment. That theme of intellectual commitment is stressed during orientation, through the Freshmen mentor program, the Transfer Project, SSP, EOP, Campus Life, the Learning Center, Computer Services, the Library and throughout support activities across the campus.

All of this effort is in support of what goes on in the classrooms, laboratories and seminars. And it must be of whole cloth. Standards and expectations must be high; they must not be compromised. Our students have the potential to succeed at high levels, and we have the quality of faculty, staff, and facilities to guarantee that success.

This year, we begin a new general education program; it is potentially a very good one. It is derived from many years and countless hours of analysis, planning, and serious, controversial debate and honest disagreement. That is as it should be. Good curricula are established in no other way.

Now it is time as a faculty to offer that curriculum with conviction, determination and a strong sense of common cause. Concurrently, we must confirm our obligation to nurture, assess and improve the program as it takes root and grows.

Other curricular initiatives at various stages of discussion and development include a B.S.W., a Master's degree in Nursing and, possibly, an interdisciplinary program in International Business and Economics. The extensive cooperative efforts last year between the Center for Teacher Education and Arts and Science departments were fruitful and should be continued. And the Counseling Program is to be congratulated on achieving national accreditation (1 out of 65 programs nationally) for three graduate programs.

Many departments continue to monitor and modify their various curricula, and 5-7 areas are scheduled for self-studies and external evaluations during the 1990-91 session.

Budget

As hinted earlier, our current budget climate is challenging at best and dreary at worst. It is an acute continuation of an erosion process of more than a decade.

By now, you have probably become aware of some of the specifics by reading Weekly or commercial newspapers or through discussions with colleagues. Rather than take this time to cover facts, figures and details, I will schedule within the next few weeks a number of open forums at various locations around the campus. That will allow for greater interaction and participation.

Let me say now, though, that this chronic budgetary climate has contributed greatly toward our current turning point.

Based firmly on the assumption that quality must be preserved and even enhanced, we cannot continue to do all that we are doing. Over the next months, we must engage in inclusive, serious and focused analyses and discussions about the most central aspects of our mission. We must see ourselves as part of the University, and we must work together to preserve quality throughout the University and the College. The decisions will be difficult, but they must be derived from a process that is thoughtful, humane, incisive and determined.

At the same time, many of us will be working very hard to encourage a long overdue tuition increase. While not a panacea for budget woes, it is a responsible and fair approach toward guaranteeing access to quality. Please keep in mind that, university-wide, each one hundred dollar tuition increase generates about 13 million dollars in revenues. Only 10 million of each 13 million is available to the budget, however. Three million of each 13 million dollar amount is set aside to fund access for economically-needy students. So access for those less well off financially is not comprised...and it never should be.

As we squarely face the challenge of "turning point" this year, we also will focus on a number of critical questions and areas, including the following:

. Tom Moran will establish appropriate groups to examine the future nature of Lifelong Learning, certain aspects of our graduate programs and the college-wide effectiveness of our academic advisement program.

. El Roark, Bill Sherman, Student Association President, and Ed Lenane, Greek Council President, will coordinate a Task Force charged with clarifying and enhancing mutual and highly responsible expectations among the College, the Student Association and the Greek organizations. Dr. Roark also will convene a group to examine various elements of our college health services program.

. Jan Edwards is in the process of forming a task force to examine the historical and future roles of institutional research on campus.

Finally, this fall we will begin the process for the ten-year Middle States Review. Members of the Steering Committee and the committee chairperson will be selected by mid-September. Serious efforts will be made to blend this process with our ongoing planning and assessment activities. The final report will be due early in 1992, followed by the campus visitation later that spring.

Concluding Remarks

The faculty and staff at SUNY Plattsburgh are outstanding. You have responded to more than a decade of budget stress and uncertainty with remarkable dedication and creativity. You have accepted mergers, reconfigurations, and even reductions in support with determination and reasonable good humor. You have been strongly committed to the notion of self-help, as reflected by a sustained and relatively high level of external grant support and by an unusually successful and dedicated college foundation. Our student leaders also have been very responsive and supportive.

All of this brings us, against an increasing complex, unsettled global backdrop, to a most critical turning point. Along with our students, we must address our turning point with intelligence and wisdom, based on principles and values of service, quality and humaneness.

To prepare our students to live and lead in a world growing ever closer, we must debate, analyze, honestly dissent and then agree and move our institution forward in a sincere effort to make a positive difference.

I join you in looking forward to that challenge and to the coming year.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, AUGUST 30 - THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 6

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, August 30

11 am Feinberg Library tour, sponsored by the Opening Week Committee and the Library. Open to the campus. Tour departs from the Feinberg Library Main Lobby, second floor.

11 am - 1 pm Welcome reception for all SUNY Plattsburgh Transfer students, sponsored by the Transfer Student Club and the Transfer Project. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Noon - 3 pm WPLT Radio Station Open House. Tour the facilities of SUNY Plattsburgh's own FM Radio Station. Yokum CL 202D

4 pm Arts and Science Faculty Meeting. Angell Center Centennial Room.

4 pm Shifting Gears — Resources for Adult Students. Informal gathering hosted by the Adult Student Group. Adult Student Center, Angell College Center, second floor.

4 pm The Renascence Club, which addresses the needs and concerns of physically challenged and learning disabled students, is sponsoring a welcome reception. Open to the campus. SSP Office, Angell Center Room 110.

4:15 pm Educational Opportunity Program Orientation Meeting, for all freshmen and transfer E.O.P. students who did not attend summer orientation. E.O.P. Office, 103 Algonquin Hall.

8 pm Club Canada Organizational Meeting. Open to campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

8 pm Public Address by Dr. Helen Fisher, anthropologist entitled "Sex, Monogamy, Adultery and Divorce — Where Did We Come From And Where Are We Going". Sponsored by Campus Life and the Student Association. Open to the campus and community, no charge. E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

8 pm College Mainstage Production — "They're Playing Our Song", sponsored by the SUNY Plattsburgh College Foundation Friends of The Theatre. Tickets: $10 general public, $8 senior citizen and $4 students, on sale at the Hartman Box Office. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts Building.

Friday, August 31

4 pm Billiard Demonstration featuring New York State Pocket Billiard Champion Ed Church. Open to the campus and community, no charge. Angell Center Billiard Room, second floor.

4:30 pm Good - Better - Best Aerobics, sponsored by the Opening Week Committee. Thirst quenching refreshments for all participants. Open to the campus, no charge. Memorial Hall Gymnasium.

7 pm - 9 pm Coffee house and reception featuring Irene Boire and Lisa Winter on guitar. Hosted by the Protestant Campus Ministry. Open to the campus and community, no charge. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street, across from the Kehoe Administration Building.

7 pm Organizational Meeting for Intervarsity Christian Fellowship. Open to the campus. Angell Center Blue Room.

8 pm College Mainstage Production — "They're Playing Our Song" (See 8 pm Thursday, Aug. 30 for details).

9 pm Frank Santos, World Famous R Rated Hypnotist/Comedian. Sponsored by the Student Association. Tickets: $3.00 SA Members and $5.00 faculty/staff and general public, on sale at the Angell College Center Desk. E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

Saturday, September 1

Noon - 2:30 pm Trip to Ausable Chasm, sponsored by the Opening Week Committee. Tickets: $2.00 per person, includes bus transportation to and from Chasm, walking tour and the boat ride. Tickets on sale at the Angell College Center Desk. Open to the campus. Bus departs from the Angell Center, Rugar Street pull-off.

2 pm Courtyard Concert featuring the band "Thick As Thieves", direct from N.Y. City. Sponsored by Campus Life and the Student Association. Open to the campus and community, no charge. Angell Center Courtyard. (Rain location — Angell Center Ballrooms)

4 pm - 7 pm All-campus picnic featuring a great menu (hamburgers, chicken, hot dogs, salads, corn and all the fixins') and great music by "Thick As Thieves". Meal card and cash basis, $5.00 per person. Angell Center Courtyard.

8 pm College Mainstage Production — "They're Playing Our Song" (See 8 pm Thursday, Aug. 30 for details).

Sunday, September 2

1 pm - 3:30 pm Trip to Ausable Chasm, sponsored by the Opening Week Committee. Tickets: $2.00 per person, includes bus transportation to and from Chasm, walking tour and the boat ride. Tickets on sale at the Angell College Center Desk. Open to the campus. Bus departs from the Angell Center, Rugar Street pull-off.

6:45 and 9:15 pm SA Film Committee presents "Pretty Woman". Tickets: $.50 SA Members and $1.00 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

Monday, September 3

4 pm All academic and professional staff and their families are invited to attend the Twelfth Annual Labor Day Picnic at Valcour Educational Conference Center, Rte. 9 South, sponsored by UUP and President Warren. Food and beverages will be served. Cost: $2.00 per person over 5 years of age, $7.50 maximum per family, payable at the picnic.

8:30 am Workshop: "Sexually Abused Children and the Court System", sponsored by the Center for Lifelong Learning. Registration fee: $25 students, $35 faculty/staff and $45 general public. Call Ctr. for Lifelong Learning, 564-2050 for registration information. Angell Center Ballrooms.

12:15 pm Study skills workshop sponsored by the Learning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4 pm Men's "B" Soccer vs. Clarkson. Open to the campus and community, no charge. SUNY Plattsburgh Field House.

7 pm Cardinal Points Recruitment Meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Wednesday, September 5

4 pm Third Annual Fall Academic Convocation and Marticulation Ceremony. The campus and community are invited to attend. Angell Center Amitee Plaza. In the event of rain it will held in Memorial Hall Gymnasium.

4 pm Men's Soccer vs. Castleton State. Open to the campus and community, no charge. SUNY Plattsburgh Fieldhouse.

Thursday, September 6

12:15 pm Inaugural Women's Studies Forum presents Patricia Bentley speaking on "Michigan Women's Music Festival: A Touchstone of Women's Culture". Refreshments will be served. Open to the campus and community, Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:15 pm Organizational Meeting of the Transfer Club. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

NOTES

The Office of Campus Life is sponsoring a bus to Montreal on Saturday, September 8. Round-trip tickets are $9 and will be on sale at the Angell Center desk beginning Monday, Sept. 3. Bus departs Angell Center at 9 am and returns at 6 pm. Call Campus Life (564-3824) for more details.

Barker Is New Professional Studies Dean

Dr. Virginia Barker, former Dean of the Mary Black School of Nursing at the University of South Carolina/Spartanburg, has been named Dean of the Faculty of Professional Studies, succeeding Dr. Nicholas Troisi, who retired this summer after 35 years of service to the college.

Dr. E. Thomas Moran, vice president for academic affairs, said, "Dr. Barker brings to our campus broad experience from her many years as a dean, a strong commitment to the ideals of our programs in professional studies and a strong sense of community service, which is essential to many of the programs for which she will be responsible. She is an extraordinarily energetic, capable and likeable person and we welcome her to campus."

During Barker's nine-year tenure at the Spartanburg campus, nursing enrollments increased more than 100 percent, a new B.S.N. program was implemented, and the school achieved regional and statewide prominence as a health-care educational provider.

Barker earlier served as founding dean of the School of Nursing at the University of Louisville (1978-1981) and dean of the School of Nursing at Alfred University (1969-1978).

She has also served as director of nurses at the Indiana Masonic Home, where she shared responsibilities for the day-to-day management of a three-story hospital and for the health care of more than 500 children and adults.

She is the author of Nursifax—A Quick Reference Book for Nurses, which is under contract for publication by Meducation. Barker is the recipient of several grants, totalling more than $800,000, to fund various health care and educational projects. She served as primary investigator for a grant from the Regional Medical Program for Western New York which funded the design and implementation of a mobile health unit to provide access for health care to county residents of all ages. During a six-year period, the unit served over 4,000 residents in six locations.

Barker holds the Ed.D., the M.S.Ed. and the B.S.N.Ed., all from Indiana University.

Feldman Opted to Return to Full-time Teaching Duties

Dr. Wallace Feldman, dean of the School of Business and Economics for the past four years, has announced his intention to return to the faculty as professor of marketing, effective next year. Feldman said, "As my 60th birthday approaches, together with my fifth year in this position, the time has come to reassess my priorities. I would like to resume the teaching faculty role I enjoyed for 16 years prior to assuming the deanship."

He added, "I believe the School of Business and Economics will be well positioned to continue the significant gains it has made. Our agenda this year includes initiatives that will lead to continuing progress toward several of our major goals — the increased internationalizing of our curricula, the first full-scale self-study assessing our progress toward accreditation, and a major effort in competing for a Title VI grant from the Department of Education."

Vice President for Academic Affairs E. Thomas Moran said that he will be meeting with faculty in the School in the near future to discuss the next steps in selecting new leadership for that area.

Feldman came to Plattsburgh from Suffolk University. He also has 15 years of private sector business experience. He holds the D.B.A. from Harvard.

Cadyville Civic Group Creates $10M Endowment

The Plattsburgh College Foundation is the recipient of an endowment fund created by members of the former Cadyville Civic Association. The association, which had been founded to support community activities in Cadyville, has dissolved and its remaining funds were split among several beneficiaries. The Foundation received $10,881.70.

Income from the endowment fund will support scholarship awards, which are restricted to students who are residents of the Cadyville Union Free School District #13 (part of the current Saranac Central School District) or students who have themselves or whose parents have worked in community activities, such as youth commission activities or scouting, in that district.

Foundation Executive Director Don Garrant said, "We are very pleased to receive this endowment fund. Many Cadyville citizens worked hard to support the youth of that area and it is appropriate that their efforts will now support a high quality education for those same students."

SPOTLIGHT

College photographer Robin Brown's exhibit "A View of One's Own" has been on display in the Schoharie County Arts Council Gallery for the past month. The exhibition was complimented by a literary presentation in August by area poets/writers Ina Joines, Frank Stock and Hilda Wilcox. Also, four of Brown's photographs are included in "An Adirondack Invitational" at the Hyde Gallery in Glens Falls ... William Crosby, professor of art, and Kathryn Lanier, visiting assistant professor of art, are exhibiting paintings and ceramic sculpture through September 10 at the Arts Center in Old Forge. Crosby is showing recent landscape paintings, including work completed this summer of Lake George and the High Peaks region, while Lanier is exhibiting her most recent works ... "Working for Patients: the National Health Service in the 1990s," a recent manuscript by Dr. Leonard Fontana, associate professor of sociology, has been accepted for publication in the Journal of Health and Social Policy. The paper will be presented also in October in New York City at the annual meeting of the American Public Health Association. His work is based on research conducted while he was a visiting professor at the University of Reading in England.

President Challenges Faculty to do all that we are doing. Over the next months we must engage in inclusive, serious and focused analyses and discussions about the most central aspects of our mission."

Warren acknowledged the outstanding performance of the college's faculty and staff in responding to more than a decade of budget stress and uncertainty with dedication and creativity. "You have accepted mergers, reconfigurations and even reductions in support with determination and reasonable good humor. You are strongly committed to the notion of self-help.

(Continued from page 1)

"All of this brings us, against an increasing complex, unsettled global backdrop, to a most critical turning point. To prepare our students to live and lead in a world growing ever closer, we must debate, analyze, honestly dissent and then agree and move our institution forward in a sincere effort to make a positive difference."

The complete text of President Warren's remarks appears as an insert to this issue of Weekly.

New Academic Year Underway

rence Lorch, director of public safety, explained that an electronic lock system for outside doors has been installed in Harrington, Macomb, Hood and DeFrederburg Halls. The system is connected to a computer in the Public Safety Office and is capable of showing when an outside door has been left open and if someone needs assistance. The system eliminates the need for keys, since access is gained via an individual code inserted into a scrambler pad which unlocks the doors. "Peep holes" have also been installed in the doors of student rooms in all twelve residence halls, to allow students to identify visitors before opening their doors.

Budget Problems Continue

Budget problems continue to loom for SUNY Plattsburgh. President Charles Warren said this week, "The current and future budget climate is highly problematic. During the next few months, we will conduct an open inclusive process, which will include discussions of possible programmatic reductions, reassessments and reconfigurations. It is critical that we approach the future with a strong commitment to quality." Warren emphasized that while budget deficits have resulted in the loss of just over 20 positions during the past two years, no one has been retrenched. Savings have been achieved through retirements, resignations and reassessments.

Offices Relocated

Several offices have relocated on the campus during the summer months. President Charles Warren's office is now located in Hawkins Hall in the office originally used by Presidents Charles Ward and George Angell. His former office is now occupied by the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs, which includes Vice President E. Thomas Moran and Associate Vice President Ingrun LaFleur.

(Continued from page 1)

The office of the Dean for Professional Studies moved in mid-August to the former office of the Center for Teacher Education and Educational Studies in Sibley Hall and newly-appointed dean Elizabeth Barker has assumed her new duties. The teacher education center office moved across the hall, but is still located in the same vicinity in Sibley Hall. With the departure of Center Director Michael Wolfe in August, Dr. Raymond Domenico, chairperson of the hearing and speech science department, is serving as acting director. (See related stories.)

The Center for Lifelong Learning has moved to the fourth floor of the Kehoe Administration Building, with Elizabeth Pasti, former director of the Special Services Project, serving as acting director. Their former space in Hawkins Hall will be occupied by the Women's Studies and Latin American Studies Programs.

The Office of Academic Advisement is now located on the third floor of the Kehoe Building.

Weekly

Published by College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • September 5, 1990

Special Collections
Feinberg Lib., PSUC
Does Not Circulate

13 Faculty Promoted; Six to the Rank of Full Professor

Six members of the faculty have been promoted to full professor, effective with the fall semester. They are: Dr. George Flynn, physics; Dr. Donald Haight, Center for Human Resources, Dr. Carrie Harris, Center for Human Resources; Dr. David Mowry, philosophy; Don

Flynn

Haight

Harris

Mowry

Osborne

Poveda

professional specialization. He was promoted in 1977 to associate professor in the department of counseling. He chaired that department in 1981-82, then served as coordinator of the counselor education program in the Center for Human Resources. Haight has been active Osborn, art; and Dr. Anthony Poveda, sociology.

Additionally, thirteen faculty members were promoted to associate professor. They include Dr. Nancy Church, management and marketing; Dr. Anthony D'Aristotle, mathematics; Dr. Robert Fuller, Center for Earth and Environmental Science; Dr. Geoffrey Guest, Center for Human Resources; Dr. David Kenoyer, mathematics; Dr. Ruth Kline, theatre; Dr. Thomas Konda, political science; Dr. James Lindgren, history; Dr. John Moravek, Center for Earth and Environmental Science; Dr. Nicholas Stupiansky, Center for Teacher Education; Dr. F. Daniel Vogt, biological science; Dr. Roberta Wacker-Mundy, hearing and speech science; and Dr. Thomas Wolosz, Center for Earth and Environmental Science.

Flynn joined the faculty in 1975 after teaching physics for several years at Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University. Flynn has, for many years, conducted research on cosmic dust at the Brookhaven National Laboratory, under the auspices of NASA. His work has involved measuring the minor elements found in extremely small meteorites, which are generally thought to be the most primitive material in existence, and he has published numerous articles on the results. Flynn was instrumental in developing, with Dr. Fritz Kissner, a pre-physics course which serves as a bridge between high school and college physics courses. He co-chairs the President's Commission on Women, chairs the Faculty Affairs Committee of the Faculty Senate, and is a freshman mentor. Flynn holds bachelor's and master's degrees from MIT and earned his Ph.D. from Washington University.

Haight was hired in 1972 as an assistant professor in the counselor education program of the department of with school counselors in the North Country area and was one of the originators of the Northeastern New York Elementary Guidance and Counselling Interest Group. He has served as a consultant to the State Education Department, the Regents Action Plan, Educational Testing Service, several public schools and other agencies. He has published articles on counselor education in several professional journals. Haight is a former Faculty Senator, has taught Freshman Seminars and is currently a member of the Sexual Harassment Committee. He earned the bachelor's degree from Lebanon Valley College, the M.Ed. and CAS from Springfield College and the Ed.D. from the University of Florida.

Harris, who was recently appointed director of the Center for Human Resources, joined the faculty in 1977 and has taught primarily courses in food and nutrition. A registered dietitian, Harris has served as a reviewer for three professional journals, The Journal of the American Dietetic Association, the Journal of Nutrition Education and Topics in Clinical Nutrition. Harris is active with the American Dietetic Association and has chaired its Council on Education, and served as career guidance chair and on the Board of Directors. Harris earned the bachelor's degree from Kansas State University and the M.S. and Ph.D. from the University of Massachusetts.

Mowry came to SUNY Plattsburgh in 1971 as an instructor in the philosophy department and chaired the department from 1978-1984. He became involved in the college Honors Program several years ago and was named director of that program in 1985. Mowry currently chairs the Honors Council, coordinates the

(Continued on next page)

Foundation Board Approves Changes in Internal Policies

The Plattsburgh College Foundation Board of Directors approved several major changes in internal policies during its August meeting, according to its executive director Don Garrant.

Garrant said that the minimum level for creation of an endowment fund has been raised from $5,000 to $10,000. Endowment funds may be created through one gift or through gifts totalling the full amount received over a five-year period. Endowment funds already established at the $5,000 level are unaffected by this change.

A new special gift club has been established in memory of Dr. Edward E. Redcay. The club, which will be called the Redcay Society, will recognize donors of $2,500 or more annually. Privileges will include a yearly dinner at the President's Home either before or following a special college event or with a noted guest on campus. The highest level giving club was previously the E. Glenn Giltz Society for donors of $1,000 per year.

The name of another gift club has been changed. The club for those persons donating annually at the $250 level will now be called the Dean's Club, instead of President's Associates.

Two new members have been appointed to the Board of Directors. Dr. Nancy Church, associate professor of marketing in the School of Business and Economics, was appointed by President Charles Warren to complete a one-year term as the faculty representative, replacing Dr. Annette Manganel, who has moved to Florida. Jacqueline Walker was appointed by College Council Chairperson Robert Garrow to a one-year term representing the Council.

CAS to Inaugurate 'President's Speakers Series;' Nominees Sought

College Auxiliary Services (CAS) has announced inauguration of the "President's Speakers Series."

The series, new this year and sponsored by CAS, will bring one or two major speakers to campus each semester. It will be administered by Cheryl Hogle, president of CAS, Student Association President William Sherman and college President Charles O. Warren.

Nominations for major speakers are welcome from all members of the campus community and should be forwarded, along with a description of the area(s) of expertise and the target audience, to Hogle, Sherman or Warren.

Six Named Full Professor

(Continued from page 1)

Presidential Scholarship program, coordinates the Distinguished Visiting Professor Program and serves as advisor to Phi Eta Sigma, the national freshman honorary society. He also serves as campus coordinator for various post-graduate fellowship programs. Mowry served as acting assistant vice president for academic affairs during the 1984-85 academic year and, for several years he coordinated and chaired the Academic Convocation Planning Committee. Mowry earned the bachelor's degree from SUNY Oswego and the M.A. and Ph.D. from Boston University.

Sculptor Don Osborn joined the faculty in 1985 after teaching at Arkansas State University and Bethany College. He specializes in metal sculpture and is perhaps best known in the area for "Thoughts on Pheidias," the monumental sculpture located on the lawn between the Kehoe Administration Building and Broad Street. His work has been exhibited in numerous shows, most recently in national juried exhibitions at the Hoyt Institute of Fine Arts and the San Diego Art Institute, and is held in permanent collections in Texas, Maryland, Arkansas and Kansas. One of his pieces won a purchase award at the 1989 National Drawing and Small Sculpture Exhibition in Texas. Osborn has served on numerous departmental and college-wide committees, including the Faculty Senate, the Winkel Student Awards Committee, and the College Services Committee. He earned the B.A. from Northeastern State University in Oklahoma and the M.F.A. from Wichita State University.

Poveda was appointed to the sociology faculty at SUNY Plattsburgh in 1970 after earning his A.B., M.Crim. and D.Crim. from the University of California at Berkeley. He chaired the sociology department from 1977-80. Poveda played a major role in designing and implementing the criminal justice program here at Plattsburgh and served as its coordinator for its first three years of existence (1985-88). His research interests have centered on the FBI and he has written extensively on that subject. Lawlessness and Reform: The FBI in Transition, a major work, was published this year by Brooks and Cole. He is a manuscript referee for Justice Quarterly. Poveda has served on numerous committees and is currently a member of the President's Advisory Committee on Personal Safety.

Council Meets Sept. 11

The College Council will hold its next regular meeting at 3:30 p.m. on September 11 in the Sixth Floor Boardroom of the Kehoe Administration Building.

Discussion items will include the Claude J. Clark Learning Center and the Special Services Project.

Dawson Appointed to Joint SUNY/DEC Task Force

Dr. James Dawson, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, has been appointed by SUNY Chancellor D. Bruce Johnstone and Thomas Jorling, Commissioner of the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation, to a task force charged with "developing a joint agenda for cooperation and interaction between (the) two organizations."

The letter appointing Dawson suggested the task force should consider encouraging SUNY faculty to use selected large tracts of state land for teaching and research projects, studying how data gathered by DEC can be made more useful to the academic research community, helping DEC recruit minority staff through minority fellowships and internship programs for SUNY students, creating attractive sabbatical opportunities for SUNY faculty with DEC, and holding joint seminars on environmental issues.

A member of the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty since 1970, Dawson has long been active in environmental issues and research. He spent last fall as the forest preserve specialist on the staff of the Governor's Commission on the Adirondacks in the 21st Century. Dawson is New York vice chair of the Lake Champlain Committee and on the Boards of Directors of the Adirondack Nature Conservancy and Adirondack Land Trust and of the Adirondack Council.

He also serves on four DEC committees, including the Forest Preserve Advisory Committee and the Regional Committee for the 21st Century Conservation Quality Bond Act.

Senate Exec Group Names Standing Committee Rosters

The Executive Committee-elect of the Faculty Senate has selected members of its Standing Committees for academic 1990-91. Dr. Ed Miller, who will chair the new Senate, said that members of Standing Committees were chosen on the basis of nomination and with an eye to having balanced representation from the campus community.

The committees and their composition:

Academic Policies: J. Madison, chair; B. Dixon; J. Ellis; J. Irwin-Devins; M.D. Kutzer; E. North; and M. Stoller.

Curricula/Programs: K. Whittier, chair; P. Gulati; N Hoshlyk; D. Kenoyer; R. Pollow; J. Shout; and J. Sullivan.

College Services: A. Champagne, chair; J. Ashe; J. Groth; R. Quesal; J. Olmsted; D. Osborn; and D. Robertson.

General Education: W. Culver, chair; K. Adams; A. Beaderstadt; G. Guest; P. Hoffman; J. Kellermeir; J. Kim; J. Myers; M. Onofrio; P. Szydlik; W. Teter; R. Wacker-Mundy; and K. Whittier.

Resources and Planning: M. Miranda, chair; E. Brohel; J. Coleman; R. Domenico; J. Gore; R. Heintz; B. Kelting; T. Palkovic; C. Sample; and L. Soroka.

Faculty Affairs: G. Flynn, chair; P. Bentley; E. Engelbride; E. Heuston; R. Hofer; C. Smith; and M. Winterkorn.

Besides the usual Senate committees, a special group has been formed and charged with evaluating the Faculty By-Laws. This committee is composed of L. Arcarese; E. Brohel; R. Guydosh; J. Lewis; H. Miller; C. Mitchell; M. Morton; and M. Wyand.

Courtesy Call

A group of city and college administrators took a walk around the neighborhood last Thursday afternoon to meet and chat with students and deliver "Good Neighbor Kits." The kits contain informational materials about living in the city of Plattsburgh and encourage students to be considerate of their neighbors in the city. Shown here talking with students (backs to cameras) are: (l. to r.) Don Garrant, executive assistant to the president for college relations and development; Dr. Eldridge Roark, vice president for student affairs; President Charles Warren; Plattsburgh alderman George Rotella and Plattsburgh Mayor Clyde Rabideau. The group talked with students who are members of fraternities or sororities or who live in off-campus apartments on Brinkerhoff, Williams, and Couch Street.

SPOTLIGHT

Dr. Francis Bethlen, professor of marketing, gave two presentations in Hungary this summer. He discussed "Recent Developments in Agromarketing" on June 28 at the Hungarian Academy of Science in Budapest, and on August he talked on "Recent Trends in Foreign Trading" at a meeting of the Hungarian Joint Ventures Club ... Dr. Caridad Buncab, associate professor of nursing, presented a poster exhibit of her research entitled "Nursing Students' Perceptions of Effective and Ineffective Teaching Behaviors" at Nursing Education '90: The Conference for Nursing Faculty, held in June in Washington, D.C. ... Mary Dossin, writing specialist in the Claude Clark Learning Center, gave a presentation on "The Affective Dimension of Writing Conferences" at a meeting of the Higher Education Opportunity Program held in June in Saratoga Springs ... Tim Palkovic, associate professor in the Center for Art, Music and Theatre, spent a week in July with Paul Sills (author of Story Theatre and co-founder of "Second City" improvisation) studying Viola Spolin's improvisation techniques ... President Charles O. Warren will be a panelist for a September 14 discussion of "Comparative Perspective on Campus Planning and Budget Development" at a retreat of SUNY Local Governance Leaders in Saratoga Springs. He will give a presentation on the budget and planning process at SUNY Plattsburgh and the role of the governance groups/committees in that process.

50 Newcomers Assume 1990-91 Faculty/Staff Positions

Fifty new faculty and staff members have joined the SUNY Plattsburgh community this fall, replacing people who have resigned or retired, according to the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action. They are listed below with their titles and departments or offices, but are not differentiated between full or part-time.

Faculty of Arts and Science: Dr. Marjorie Pryse, visiting assistant professor for curriculum inclusion; Anthropology - Jeffrey Kelley, lecturer; Art - Mark Davison, lecturer; Biological Science - Rita Heragu, instructional support assistant; Peter Lauzon, research support specialist (professional staff) and Dr. Jeanette Rasmussen, assistant professor; Center for Earth and Environmental Science - Lyn McIlroy, assistant professor; Communications - Deborah DeSilva, assistant professor; Computer Science - Charles Weber, assistant professor; and Richard Wilson, lecturer; Foreign Languages and Literature - Dr. Marie-Elena Angula, assistant professor; History - Dr. Bethany Andreasen, assistant professor; Dr. William Irwin, lecturer; and Dr. Miriam Jackson, visiting assistant professor; Music - Dr. Kenneth Ayoob, assistant professor; Psychology - Dr. Cynthia Lightfoot, assistant professor; Kristine Lutters, instructor; and David Shryock, lecturer; Sociology - Adela Beckerman, lecturer; Dr. Stephen Light, assistant professor; and P. Mary Savage, lecturer;

Faculty of Professional Studies: Dean - Dr. Virginia Barker; Center for Human Resources - Dr. Richard Schnell, assistant professor; Center for Teacher Education - Deborah Borie, lecturer; Dr. Thomas Caron, assistant professor; Barbara Gallagher, lecturer; Dr. Warner Houth, visiting assistant professor; Dr. Sophie Jeffries, visiting associate professor (with a joint appointment in the foreign languages and literature); David Mitchell, lecturer; and Dr. Geraldine Wolfe, assistant professor; Nursing - Susan Goffe, visiting assistant professor; Pamela Prag, lecturer; Physical Education, Athletics and Recreational Sports - Lawrence Carpenter, lecturer; Robert

Emery, men's ice hockey coach and assistant professor; and Karen Wiley Waterbury, coach/assistant professor.

Feinberg Library: Susan Guest, instructor.

School of Business and Economics: Accounting - Timothy Lawliss, lecturer; Economics - Dr. Robert Christopherson, assistant professor; Management and Marketing - James Csipak, assistant professor; and Dr. Kevin O'Neill, lecturer.

Professional Staff: Admissions - Timothy Penix, admissions counselor; Auditory Research Laboratory - Dr. Sheau-Fang Lei, research scientist; Career/Life Planning Center - Erwin "Joe" Bornstein and Steven Frederick, both Cooperative Education job developers; Claude J. Clark Learning Center - Dr. Thelma Yarborough, director; Personnel Office - Robert Tabor, senior personnel associate; Special Services Project - Cordelia Avery, counselor; Marta Clute, writing/reading specialist; Marilee Patnode, science skills specialist; and Ann Toohill Petro, educator.

Open Forum Schedule Announced

As promised in his welcoming address to faculty and staff on August 24, President Charles O. Warren has scheduled a series of forums at various campus locations to discuss budget difficulties facing the college. The schedule is as follows:

- Tuesday, Sept. 11, 12 noon, Cardinal Lounge;
- Thursday, Sept. 13, 12 noon, Sibley Hall, Room 100;
- Tuesday, Sept. 18, 12 noon, Hawkins Hall, Room 103; and
- Wednesday, Sept. 19, 8 a.m., Memorial Hall Conference Room.

The forums are open to all members of the college community.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 6 - THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 13

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, September 6

12:15 pm Inaugural Women's Studies Forum presents Patricia Bentley speaking on "Michigan Women's Music Festival: A Touchstone of Women's Culture". Refreshments will be served. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:15 pm Organizational Meeting of the Transfer Club. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room

3 - 4 pm Intramural Entries Due for Men's Football, Men's and Women's Volleyball and Tennis Singles. Memorial Hall Room 219.

Friday, September 7

8 pm Friday Night Film Series presents "Big Business". Tickets: $.50 SA Members and $1.00 Faculty/Staff and community, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

Saturday, September 8

9 am Bus to Montreal, sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Open to the campus and community. Tickets: $9.00 round trip, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Bus departs from Memorial Hall.

11 am Men's "B" Soccer vs. Adirondack Community College.SUNY Plattsburgh Fieldhouse.

2 pm SNAPS Annual Welcome Picnic for all Nursing students, featuring music, volleyball, barbecue and a treasure hunt. Sponsored by the Student Nurses Association at Plattsburgh State. Open to members only. Rugar Woods.

Men's Soccer Cardinal Classic with Utica, St. Rose and John Abbott participating.SUNY Plattsburgh Fieldhouse.

Sunday, September 9

6:45 and 9:15 pm ACB Film Committee presents "Hunt For Red October", sponsored by the SA Mandatory Fee. Open to the campus. Tickets: $.50 SA Members and $1.00 Faculty/Staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Hawkins Hall, Giltz Auditorium.

Monday, September 10

Noon - 1 pm Open Forum, sponsored by the President's Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:30 pm Men's "B" Soccer vs. Clinton Community College.SUNY Plattsburgh Fieldhouse.

7 pm Reception sponsored by the Forensics Union.Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7:30 pm Campus Poet Series — Open Reading. Sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science and the Department of Foreign Language and Literature.Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

8 pm Club Canada meeting, Open to the campus. Angell Center, Conference Room.

Tuesday, September 11

12:15 - 1 pm Workshop on "Reading and Studying Your Textbook", sponsored by the Learning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:15 - 5:30 pm Tuesday Reflections presents Dr. John Howarth, Distinguished Visiting Professor, University of Maryland, speaking on "Professors Turning Themselves Into Teachers".Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

6 - 7 pm Campus Tour Guide training sessions, sponsored by the Admissions Office. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Wednesday, September 12

12:15 - 1 pm Workshop on "Reading and Studying Your Textbook", sponsored by the Learning Center.Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4 pm Men's Soccer vs. New England College.SUNY Plattsburgh Field House.

4:15 pm International Awareness Forum presents Dr. Adnan Abu-Ghazaleh, Department of History, speaking on "The Persian Gulf Crisis". Sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science, History Department.Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

6 - 7 pm Campus Tour Guide training sessions, sponsored by the Admissions Office.Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Thursday, September 13

Noon SA Club and Organization Fair. Sponsored by the Student Association. Open to the Campus. Angell College Center.

12:15 pm Women's Studies Forum presents Bruce Butterfield speaking on Canadian Women Writers, Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from College Auxiliary Services.Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:30 pm Men's "B" Soccer vs. North Country Community College. SUNY Plattsburgh Field House.

4:30 pm Guest Speaker sponsored by the American Marketing Association, Collegiate Chapter. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

6 - 7 pm Campus Tour Guide training sessions, sponsored by the Admissions Office. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

NOTES

Applications for the 1990 in vitro cell biology and biotechnology program are now being accepted. The deadline for receipt of all applications materials is November 1. Four James A. FitzPatrick Scholarships valued at $2,000 each are available for students accepted to the program. The scholarships cover full tuition, room and board and fees. For further information and application materials, contact Dr. William Graziadei at Miner Institute (846-7144) or by e-mail CRAZIAWD. Materials may also be obtained from Dianna Seymour in the Department of Biological Sciences, Beaumont Hall, Room 207 (564-3155).

The President's Advisory Commission on the Status of Women has some funds available to bring consultants to campus to assist departments working to integrate scholarship on women and minorities into their courses and curricula. The funds may be used to pay travel, lodging and modest honoraria, and they may be combined with funds from other sources to support a visit. Application forms and guidelines are available in the Deans' offices.

Water Safety Instructors: If you need the American Red Cross WSI Update to retain your WSI, see Mrs. Bardon 220

Memorial Hall immediately. Last update workshop to be held September 28 and 29.

The SUNY Plattsburgh Art Museum presents ROGER WILLIAMS: Panoramic Photography. The show is located in the Myers Fine Arts Gallery, second floor and will run through September 23. The hours are noon - 4:00 pm, Saturday through Thursday. Open to the campus and community, no charge.

Executive Boards for Sports Clubs who wish to be recognized for the 1990-91 school year must make an appointment with Mrs. Bardon prior to any facilities being reserved or practices held.

Library Hours: Fall Semester 1990

Regular Library hours are:

Mon. - Thurs.	8:00 am - 11:30 pm
Friday	8:00 am - 9:00 pm
Saturday	9:00 am - 9:00 pm
Sunday	9:00 am - 11:30 pm

Special Collections regular hours are:

Mon. - Friday	9:00 am - 12 noon 1:00 pm - 4:00 pm
Saturday	1:00 pm - 5:00 pm

The Library will be closed:

October 8, 1990
November 17-18; November 22-24, 1990
December 22-25; December 29-31, 1990

Special hours for Breaks and Final Exams will be announced. Call 564-3180 for recorded announcements of Library hours.

Weekly

Special Collections
Feinberg Lib., PSUC
Does Not Circulate

Published by College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • September 12, 1990

Myers Named to Chair Middle States Steering Committee

Dr. John Myers, professor of history, has been appointed by President Charles O. Warren to chair the Middle States Review Steering Committee, which is the first official task leading to the official Middle States Review scheduled for the spring of 1992.

Warren said, "The committee will have its first meeting within the next two weeks and will spend the remainder of the fall semester establishing the themes of the self-study and organizing and charging the appropriate sub-committees. The sub-committees will begin their work by January, 1991. Throughout the self-study and review process, the committee will be responsible for oversight of the work of the sub-committees and for the preparation of the final report."

He added, "It is critical that we undertake this work

Center Receives $117,500 to Continue Funding of CFDC

SUNY Plattsburgh's Center for the Study of Canada has received a five-year grant from the Canadian Department of External Affairs to continue its operation of the Canadian Film Distribution Center (CFDC). The grant was awarded in the amount of $117,500 and will fund the CFDC through April, 1995.

Dr. Richard Beach, director of the Center for the Study of Canada, said, "The CFDC was established in 1986 on a somewhat experimental basis. This five-year grant is a major commitment on the part of the Canadian government and a recognition of the effective manner in which the college has operated the CFDC in the past four years. This is in large part due to its capable administration by Margaret Lanoue."

Beach added, "The Center maintains more than 900 films and videotapes in its collection. Those titles are detailed in a recently updated catalog and we would like to remind everyone that all of those titles are available for review and for loan at a nominal fee."

The CFDC is the only official distribution center in the United States for educational materials produced by the National Film Board of Canada. The collection consists of a wide variety of films on virtually every in an open, interactive and totally honest manner so that we can continue to enhance our teaching, scholarship and service over the next decade."

Other members of the committee are: Julius Archibald, professor and chair of the computer science department; Patricia Bentley, head of technical services in Feinberg Library; Edward Brohel, director of the SUNY Plattsburgh Art Museum; Robert Garrow, chair of the College Council (ex officio); Angela Gilbo, student; Raymond Guydosh, assistant professor and chair of the department of management and marketing; Dr. Robert Hofer, associate professor of mathematics; Kathleen Kiernan, assistant facilities program coordinator; William Laundry, director of campus life; Thelma Lyon, secretary to the president; Dr. John Madison, associate professor in the Center for Teacher Education; Dr. E. Thomas Moran, vice president for academic affairs (ex officio); Marilyn Morton, associate professor of nursing; William Sherman, president of the Student Association (ex officio); and Carolee Smith, director of public information.

conceivable topic relating to Canada. Films and tapes have been loaned, Beach said, to individuals and groups in 49 states.

Convocation

Some of SUNY Plattsburgh's newest students gather to be initiated officially to college life at last Wednesday's fall convocation ceremony in Memorial Hall (a second convocation photo appears on the following page).

Vermont Firm Publishes Two Works by Abu-Ghazeleh

Amana Press of Brattleboro, VT., which specializes in publishing manuscripts related to the Middle East, has just published two manuscripts written by Dr. Adnan Abu-Ghazeleh, professor of history.

The History and Culture of the Ancient Middle East and North Africa is a textbook that examines the major cultural contributions of the Babylonians, Egyptians and Israelites as well as the impact of the Greek and Roman culture on the area. Most of the books that deal with Middle East history concentrate on the Islamic and modern

Malpass Elected to Top Posts

Dr. Roy Malpass, professor and coordinator of the behavioral science program, has been elected to top posts in two professional associations. At meetings in Japan this summer, he was confirmed as the founding president of the Psychology and Law Division of the International Association of Applied Psychology (IAAP). The new division is the Association's tenth division and brings together specialists in this area of research from more than 80 nations throughout the world.

Malpass will serve a four-year term as president.

He also became president-elect of the International Association for Cross-Cultural Psychology, and after a two-year term in that position will serve a two-year term as president. The IACCP is an association of psychologists from more than 60 nations and is devoted to the scientific study of behavior. Malpass has been active in the organization since 1974, as treasurer, chair of the membership committee, chair of the publications committee, member of the executive committee and as editor of the association's journal The Journal of Cross-Cultural Psychology. Malpass currently heads the bibliography project, which identifies and gathers cross-cultural research materials from around the world.

Malpass recently completed a term as president of the Society of Cross-Cultural Research, which is an interdisciplinary society focusing on scientific studies of behavior, cross-culturally, and include predominantly scholars from North America.

eras. Ghazaleh's manuscript, therefore, fills a gap in the coverage of the history of the Middle East.

Palestinian Arab Cultural Nationalism is an expansion of a former work on Palestinian culture during the British Mandate by the same author and published by the Institute of Palestine Studies. This new book examines Palestinian nationalistic writing during the association with Jordan, stressing the Arab response to the establishment of Israel as well as the literary production of Palestinian writers.

Ghazaleh has written two other books, Fundaments of Arab Society, published in Arabic, and American Missions in Syria, a third updated edition of which is due out later this fall.

Ghazaleh joined the faculty of the history department in 1964 and has served as acting chair of the department on two occasions.

in Professional Associations

A member of the faculty since 1973, Malpass won the Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Teaching in 1982. He is a Fellow of the American Psychological Association.

LaBastille Honored

Last week's fall convocation ceremony was highlighted by presentation of the honorary degree of Doctor of Science to noted author and conservationist Anne LaBastille (c). President Charles O. Warren affixes the ceremonial hood. Looking on is Judith L. Duken, a 1959 Plattsburgh graduate and member of the SUNY Board of Trustees, who conferred the degree on behalf of the University and the Trustees. LaBastille, nominated to receive the degree by SUNY Plattsburgh, was recognized as "a brilliant and sensitive author, distinguished biologist, prominent educator and conservationist" whose research and public works have "created an awareness of wildlife conservation issues on an international scale."

Special Services Project Gets $657,763 for Next 3 Years

The U.S. Department of Education has renewed funding for the Special Services Project (SSP) at SUNY Plattsburgh for a three-year period, effective September 1. The grant totals $657,763 and provides for staffing and some tutoring services by students.

The Special Services Project is housed on the first floor level of the Angell Center.

Michelle Little, who has assumed the position as SSP program director after several months as acting director, explained that the project serves about 350 students each semester. In contrast with the Claude Clark Learning Center, whose services are discipline-content-oriented and available to all students at all levels of ability, SSP focuses on skills development in reading, writing, mathematics and science.

SSP's clients include the learning disabled, the physically challenged and first generation college students. It has been operating at the college since 1978.

Besides Little, the project has a staff of eight. It includes Aruna Gandhi, administrative assistant; Marcia Gottschall, writing/English (second language) specialist; Janice Beach, mathematics skills specialist; Ann Petro, mathematics skills specialist; Elizabeth McKee, reading and study skills specialist; and three new staff members: Cordelia Avery, program counselor; Marta Clute, reading/writing skills specialist; and Marilee Patnode, science skills specialist.

SSP is located on the ground-floor level of the Angell Center, near Feinberg Library, and the Clark Learning Center. It is open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily and at other times by appointment, and faculty and staff inquiries are welcome (ext. 2810).

1990 Parents' Drive Ready to Begin; Goal is $30,000

The Plattsburgh College Foundation's 1990 Parents' Fund Campaign will begin next week with a direct mail appeal to parents of all undergraduate students. The goal for the campaign is $30,000.

Dan Milliman, associate director of development and alumni affairs, said the theme for this fall's fund drive is "Enhancing the Educational Experience." He pointed out that three areas of need have been designated for support by parent contributors: equipment for seminar rooms to be established throughout the campus; expansion and furnishing of departmental and academic center commons areas; and purchase of additional equipment for the Claude Clark Learning Center.

According to Milliman, four previous parents' campaigns have generated about $56,000 in contributions. Those dollars have been expended to renovate, equip and provide furnishings for the Clark Center/late-night study area on the ground floor of the Feinberg Library.

"Last year," commented Milliman, "we received $28,899 in gifts from 879 parents of Plattsburgh State students. That represented a dollar increase of nearly $8,900 in comparison with the previous year, and a participation increase of 22 percent. The parents' drive remains a relatively new component of the College Foundation's overall Annual Giving Campaign, so we're cautious in predicting results. Nevertheless, we are optimistic the goal will be met."

The mailing to parents is scheduled for September 17. It will be followed by a phonathon to be held over 10 days beginning October 1.

Co-op Week Activities Set

Governor Cuomo has declared September 17 to 21 as "Cooperative Education Week" in the Empire State.

SUNY Plattsburgh will observe it with two activities: an information booth that will be staffed all day in the Angell Center lobby on Thursday and Friday (Sept. 20 and 21) and a panel discussion featuring students who have participated in co-ops scheduled for noon on Friday in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. Both activities are sponsored by the Career-Life Planning Center.

The program encourages the integration of classroom study with practical work experience. It allows students to earn salaries, and sometimes college credit, for their efforts. More than 375 Plattsburgh students took part in co-ops last year, and collectively they earned $359,000.

Message from the President

To all members of the college community who worked so hard and gave extra of themselves to ensure a smooth and successful opening of the 1990-91 academic year, please accept my sincere appreciation.

CHARLES O. WARREN

SPOTLIGHT

Dr. Anthony D'Aristotle, associate professor of mathematics, was a visiting scholar at Stanford University from June 25 to August 19, 1990 ... Dr. Stewart Denenberg, professor of computer science, presented a paper entitled "A Course for the Nonmajor: Teaching Collaborative Problem-Solving Via the Classical Computer Science Space-Time Tradeoff" at the Fifth World Computer Conference in Education held this summer in Australia. The paper was published in the conference proceedings ... Dr. Jane Gore, professor in the Center for Human Resources, has received the Helen Bull Vandervort Alumni Achievement Award from Cornell University, her alma mater. The award was presented to Gore in recognition of "her outstanding professional career, her high level of community service and her extensive volunteer work in support of Cornell and its College of Human Ecology" ... Dr. Padi Gulati, associate professor in the Center for Human Resources, gave a presentation on "Changing Perceptions of Homelessness in the 80s" at the XII World Congress of Sociology held in July in Madrid, Spain. Gulati earlier attended an International Conference on Housing sponsored by the French government and held in Paris ... It was a busy summer for Dr. Kenneth Hoeltzel, professor in the Center for Human Resources. He served for a third consecutive year as a member of the selection committee for the ten outstanding occupational educators in New York State, an annual competition sponsored by the State Education Department's Bureau of Occupational Development; he presented a workshop on the use of "Career Quest" at the national convention of the American School Counselors Association held in July in Pittsburgh; he presented three workshops on "Vocational Assessment" at an Introduction to Occupations Conference held in August in Liverpool; and he conducted local workshops on the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator for Teen Institute, Upward Bound and the education office at Plattsburgh Air Force Base. Hoeltzel has been selected by the State Education Department and the State department of Labor to serve on the planning committee for next summer's first Convention on Career Development ... "And We Sold the Rain: Contemporary Fiction from Central America," a book review by Dr. Alexis Levitin, professor of English, appeared in a summer edition of Review: Latin American Literature and Arts. His other recent publications include a translation of Luiz Vilela's short story "Loss" in Hawaii Review and translations of two prose poems by Eugenio de Andrade in Asylum.

Men's Soccer Team Wins 2 to Cop Own Classic Title; Tracy Named Tourney MVP

The Plattsburgh State men's soccer team blanked Utica College, 4-0, and Bishops College, 2-0, to capture its own Cardinal Classic championship last weekend. Bishops advanced to the finals with a 3-1 opening round triumph over St. Rose. The Cardinals placed two players on the All-Tournament Team: Tom Cordy and Marc Whitman. Plattsburgh goalie Brian Tracy was named the tourney's most valuable player. Plattsburgh, which topped Castleton State earlier in the week by a 5-1 margin, is now 4-0-1 on the season.

The tables were turned on the Cardinal women, however. They lost 1-0 and 2-0 decisions in the past week in road matches at Johnson State and Cortland, respectively.

In cross country, the Plattsburgh women placed second and the men runners seventh in a weekend invitation meet hosted by St. Michael's College. The Cards' Becky Pagano placed third overall over the 3.1 mile course with her personal best time of 20:19. Felix Moreno finished eighth among 81 competitors for the Cardinal men. His time in the 5.2 mile race was a personal best of 29 minutes flat.

The volleyball team won one of three matches at the weekend's Cortland State Red Dragon Classic. The women spikers beat Penn State but lost to Alfred and Ithaca.

UUP Awards on Tap Again this Year for Faculty, Staff 'Exemplary Achievement'

In accordance with the agreement between the State of New York and United University Professions, Excellence Awards will be given to faculty and professionals again this year.

UUP President James Ashe announced this week that the awards will be given to exemplary individuals for outstanding achievements in both the academic/professional discipline and campus/community life. All full and part-time employees in the negotiating unit are eligible.

While official deadlines have not yet been set, Ashe encourages interested faculty and staff to contact him for more information. Nominations may be made by colleagues, supervisors, members of the administration or by candidates themselves.

Last year, four members of the faculty and staff were honored through this program. Receiving 1990 awards were Dr. James Ashe, Cheryl Hogle, Dr. Eleanor Stoller, and Dr. Taher Zandi.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 13 - THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 20
Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, September 13

12:15 pm Women's Studies Forum presents Bruce Butterfield speaking on Canadian Women Writers. Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3:30 - 7:30 pm SA Club and Organization Fair. Sponsored by the Student Association. Open to the campus. Angell College Center.

4:30 pm Men's "B" Soccer vs. North Country Community College. Field House.

4:30 pm Guest Speaker sponsored by the American Marketing Association, Collegiate Chapter. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

6 - 7 pm Campus Tour Guide training sessions, sponsored by the Admissions Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Friday, September 14

3:30 pm Faculty/Student Reception sponsored by the English Department. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 pm Welcome Back Reception, sponsored by AKEBA. Angell Center Centennial Room.

4 pm Men's Soccer vs. Buffalo State. Field House.

8 pm Friday Night Film Series presents "About Last Night", sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and the Student Association. Open to the campus. Tickets: $50 students, faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

10 pm - 2 am Dance sponsored by AKEBA. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Saturday, September 15

1 pm Men's Soccer vs. Fredonia. Field House.

2 pm Tennis vs. Bard. Field House.

3 pm Women's Soccer vs. New Paltz. Field House.

Sunday, September 16

3 pm Men's "B" Soccer vs. Giroux. Field House.

6:45 and 9:15 pm SA Film Committee presents "Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles". Open to the campus. Tickets: $.50 SA Members and $1 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Hawkins Hall Giltz Auditorium.

7 - 9 pm R.A.P. Training Session: "Celebrating Multi-Cultural Diversity", sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Open to members only. Angell Center Conference Room.

Monday, September 17

Noon - 1:30 pm Grant Workshop on NYS/UUP PDQWL Programs, sponsored by Sponsored Research and Programs. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 - 5:30 pm Grant Workshop on NYS/UUP PDQWL Programs (see above) Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm Weekly Meeting of the American Marketing Association Collegiate Chapter. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 7.

8 pm Reading and Talk by Martin Tucker, Poet, Critic, Editor of the Literary Magazine Confrontation. CV Hall Commons.

Tuesday, September 18

12:15 - 1 pm Studying Mathematics Workshop sponsored by the Learning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

2:30 - 3:30 pm EAP Health Education Workshop: "Wellness and Ways To Achieve It", sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3 pm Tennis vs. Champlain. Field House.

4 pm Women's Soccer vs. St. Lawrence University. Field House.

4:15 pm Study Elsewhere Informational, sponsored by the Office for International Education. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

9 - 10 pm EAP Health Education Workshop: "Wellness and Ways To Achieve It" (see 2:30 pm above).

Thursday, September 20

10 am - 3 pm Information Table — Cooperative Education, sponsored by the Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Lobby.

12:15 pm Women's Studies Forum presents Kay Branagan speaking on "Women and the INTIFADA: The effects of the occupation on Women in Israel and Palestine", sponsored by the Women's Studies Program. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

NOTES

Non-credit CPR and standard first aid classes: the Recreational Sports Program is offering a series fo community CPR, Basic Life Support, standard first aid, and re-certification of current American Red Cross Card through a non-credit program. See Mrs. Bardon (220 Memorial Hall) for more information, dates and times.

DO YOU FEEL STRESSED? The Psychological Services Center is running a Stress Management Clinic. Students will be taught on an individual basis to relax and control their tension using relaxation techniques and biofeedback equipment. The Clinic services are open to all students and are FREE OF CHARGE. You may phone ahead for an appointment (564-3086) or further information. Walk-ins are welcome. The Clinic is located at the Psychological Services Center in the Infirmary.

Applications for the 1991 in vitro cell biology and biotechnology program are now being accepted. The deadline for receipt of all applications materials is November 1. Four James A. FitzPatrick Scholarships valued at $2,000 each are available for students accepted to the program. The scholarships cover full tuition, room and board and fees. For further information and application materials, contact Dr. William Graziadei at Miner Institute (846-7144) or by e-mail GRAZIAWD. Materials may also be obtained from Dianna Seymour in the Department of Biological Sciences, Beaumont Hall, Room 207 (564-3155).

The student group AKEBA will host a reception for the college community from 4 to 6 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 14 in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. The purpose of the activity is to welcome and introduce new students and faculty. Dr. Eldridge W. Roark Jr., vice president for student affairs, will give welcoming remarks, and Dr. Thelma Yarborough, newly appointed director of the Claude Clark Learning Center, will be the speaker. Refreshments will be served. The reception is open to all.

The SUNY Plattsburgh docents are organizing a bus trip to visit and tour three museums on Oct. 12. They will visit the Williams College Museum of Art, where the work of American impressionist Maurice Prendergast is featured; the Clark Institute, well known for its many French impressionist paintings, including more than 30 by Renoir, and for a significant group of American Works by Homer, Sargent, Cassatt and Remington; and MASSMOCA, a museum that is currently being established. In the interest of time, lunch will be brown bag. However, dinner will be available at the end of the day. The bus will depart from the Myers Fine Arts Building at 7:30 a.m. and return at about 10 p.m. Tickets are $28. For more information, call the docent office at 564-2813.

Current Position Vacancies

Professional

Staff Associate (Director of the Small Business Development Center, Technical Assistance Center). Deadline: 10/15/90

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action. For campus position vacancy information anytime, day or night, please call 564-JOBS.

SUNY Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer. It is the policy of this college to provide equal opportunity in employment for all qualified persons without regard to race, color, national origin, age, sex, handicap, or veteran status.

Weekly

Published by College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • September 19, 1990

'Curriculum Inclusion' Focus of Venture Fund Appointee

Author-educator Dr. Marjorie Pryse has joined the college this fall as "visiting associate professor for curriculum inclusion." Her work will support college-wide efforts to integrate new scholarship on women and minorities into the curriculum.

Pryse is one of three visiting faculty (see related story) appointed to serve one-year terms here under the Chancellor's Venture Fund, a program established in 1989 on a temporary basis to encourage and support innovative curricular programs. According to Dr. Ingrun Lafleur, associate vice president for academic affairs, Plattsburgh received more Venture Fund positions than any SUNY college because of "its record of support for such innovative activities."

Besides teaching, Pryse is acting as a resource person for research, course materials and pedagogy. She is available to hold workshops in varied curricular areas and to consult with individuals and campus constituent groups. She has met already with several departments and faculty, and has been asked to form an advisory board for her project. Her office is in room 106 of Hawkins Hall.

The course in English Pryse is teaching is entitled "Visions of America: Twentieth Century Immigrant Voices," and it requires students to read texts that reflect diversity of American writers selected from dissimilar national, racial or ethnic origins. She has written about such writers in her book, Conjuring: Black Women, Fiction and Literary Tradition and in the course guide she wrote to accompany the Norton Anthology of American Literature.

Pryse, who holds the Ph.D. in literature from the University of California at Santa Cruz, has taught

(Continued on next page)

Two Venture Fund Posts Relate to Fortifying Teacher Education

Besides "curriculum inclusion," creative activities that can strengthen teacher education rank as high priorities within the SUNY system. Two of three 1990-91 Chancellor's Venture Fund positions established here relate to the latter emphasis.

Dr. Geraldine Wolfe has joined the college's Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services as visiting assistant professor. She is supervising student teaching in the Albany-Glens Falls region, and she will be working with high schools and two-year colleges in supporting the entry of minority students into the teaching profession. Wolfe holds the Ph.D. from Cornell University.

Dr. Sophie Jeffries is serving a joint appointment as visiting associate professor in the Center for Teacher Education and the Department of Foreign Languages and Literature. She will be working to strengthen both the foreign language education of prospective teachers and the articulation of foreign language requirements with high schools and two-year colleges. Jeffries received the Ph.D. from The Ohio State University.

Diana Green to Step Down as Registrar at Month's End

Director of Institutional Research and Records Diana Green will retire from service to the college on October 1, 1990. Green also serves as the college Registrar.

President Charles O. Warren commented, "Diana Green has been respected by everyone on campus for her kindness and responsiveness, as well as her willingness to adapt to changes and accept new responsibilities. She is a thoughtful and kind colleague who will be missed both on the campus and in the community."

Green was hired in 1969 as a part-time technical assistant in what was then called the Office of Records, Analytical Studies and

(Continued on next page)

Plattsburgh
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

Smith's Book Published by University Press of America

Greek and Interbehavioral Psychology: Selected and Revised Works, the third book by Dr. Noel Smith, professor of psychology, has been published by University Press of America. In the book, the author examines the psychological concepts of hunter-gatherers, Mesopotamians, Egyptians, and Indo-Europeans and contrasts them with those of Western thought for occurrences of psychophysical dualism.

Smith also presents the general framework of interbehavioral psychology and compares it with eleven recurring problems that are inherent in traditional approaches. Additional papers deal with the traditional question of sensing versus perceiving, the presumed duality of heredity and environment, the role of brain evolution in behavior, volitional acts, hypnosis, cognitive interbehaviors and the evolution of the interbehavioral field formulation of J.R. Kantor and responses to it. The volume concludes with a selected bibliography of interbehavioral publications by various authors.

Smith, who has been a member of the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty since 1963, is a Fellow of the American Psychological Association. His first two books are entitled The Science of Psychology (co-authored with J.R. Kantor and published by the Principia Press) and Reassessment in Psychology: The Interbehavioral Alternative (edited with P.T. Mountjoy and D.H. Ruben and published by the University Press of America).

Smith's fourth book, An Analysis of Ice Age Art: Its Psychology and Belief System, will be published by Peter Lang Publishers within the next year.

Smith has written extensively on interbehavioral psychology and has served as editor of Interbehavioral Newsletter. He is currently on the board of editors of The Psychological Record.

Smith earned the A.B. and the Ph.D. from Indiana University and the M.A. from the University of Colorado.

Canadian Government Grant Supports Outreach Programs

The Center for the Study of Canada has received a grant of $12,000 from the Government of Canada in support of outreach programs for the 1990-91 academic year.

Dr. Jeanne Kissner, associate director of the Center, said, "Despite a reduction in the total applications for this grant competition, the Center received $2,000 more than last year."

Also, according to Dr. Norman London, the Academic Affairs Officer at the Canadian Embassy in Washington, D.C., this was the largest single amount granted to any American university."

(Continued from page 1)

Long-Range Planning and was responsible for teaching faculty how to program the college's computer.

She was promoted to assistant and later to associate for Institutional Research. In 1977, she became director of institutional research and also became a member of the President's Executive Staff. In 1989, when Daui Woodin retired as Registrar, several offices were reconfigured and Green was named to her current post.

She has served on numerous campus committees, including the Middle States Review Steering Committee in 1980-81 and the Information Systems Task Force. She has also chaired the Board of Directors of the Faculty Association.

Green is a past president of the SUNY Association of Institutional Research and Planning Officers, and a past secretary and publications chair of the Northeast Association for Institutional Research.

She has worked with the New York State Education Department on several occasions. She was a member of that department's Research Information Systems Advisory Committee, worked on the Institutional Information Systems Project and did extensive consulting work with several colleges in self-assessment projects under a grant awarded to the Education Department.

Green holds a bachelor's degree from Smith College and did graduate work at the University of California at Berkeley.

Green and her husband plan to leave Plattsburgh early in October to travel extensively on their boat.

Pryse Visit — (Continued from page 1)

English there and at the University of Tennessee and at Southern Vermont College. In addition to her books, she has edited anthologies and short stories and she has contributed articles and reviews in scholarly journals and popular periodicals ranging from The Los Angeles Times Book Review and The Boston Globe to Mother Jones and The Nation.

Weekly deadlines

News items or story suggestions for Weekly are due in the Office of College Relations and Development (8th floor Kehoe, ext. 2090) no later than noon on Monday of the week of publication. Earlier notification will be appreciated. Please note guidelines for submitting items for this week on campus at the bottom of the back page of that publication.

Memorial Service for Nina Winkel to be Held Saturday

A Memorial Service for Nina Winkel will be held at 4:30 p.m. on Saturday, September 22 in the Hartman Theatre and Winkel Sculpture Court. Winkel died May 24, 1990, following a January 22 car accident.

President Charles O. Warren will preside during the service. Among those who will remember Winkel are Dr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Burke, who will address the group via videotape. Burke, now SUNY Provost, was President of SUNY Plattsburgh when the Winkel Sculpture Court was established. That court, which houses an extensive collection of the internationally renowned sculptor, is the largest gallery space in the country devoted to the work of one woman.

Also speaking will be Dr. Douglas Skopp, William Sherman, Sara Gaffney, Bette Brohel, Phyllis Freedman, Regina Slatkin, and Edward Brohel. Music will be provided by the College Brass Ensemble, Jun Matsuo, Robert Hall and Kathryn Stuart.

A reception will follow the service.

A President Emeritus of The Sculpture Center, Winkel won five gold medals for her work, including the

EAP Presenting Balanced 'Wellness' Program Series

Several changes have taken place within the SUNY Plattsburgh Employee Assistance Program (EAP).

Helen Rock, EAP coordinator, reports that the program headquarters has moved from Memorial Hall to room 410 in the Kehoe Administration Building. Also, EAP has retained the services of its first student intern.

Lisa Helene Helfman, a senior health education major, will be working with Rock to present a well-rounded program for EAP. The first of ten workshops was held earlier this week. Others on topics ranging from high blood pressure, smoking cessation, stress management and cholesterol control to weight management, fitness, back strength and alcohol and drugs are scheduled through the end of November.

The workshops will be held three times on the dates they have been scheduled (refer to this and future issues of this week on campus for their dates, topics, times and locations, respectively). Rock said that President Charles O. Warren and the college's Executive Staff have approved release time for classified and non-classified professionals who wish to attend the sessions.

The EAP Committee has three new members: Barbara Soper, Beverly Forster and Michael Kelley. The committee is chaired by Elizabeth Lennon.

"The goal of all who work with EAP on our campus is to keep the quality of the program at a high level," commented Rock. "Questions or comments are welcome and should be directed to me or any committee member."

Samuel F.B. Morse Medal and the E. Watrous Gold Medal. She also won the Medal of Honor of the National Sculpture Society.

In addition to the Sculpture Court, the Winkels also established a major trust fund with the Plattsburgh College Foundation, which not only supports the Winkel Collection, but provides student scholarships in the visual arts and humanities, supports development of the college's permanent art collection, and also provides for academic program enrichment.

Winkel received an Honorary Doctor of Fine Arts Degree from the State University of New York in 1984. She and her husband, George Winkel, a retired importer, received the college's Distinguished Service Award in 1987.

Executive Chamber Memo Focuses on Political Activity

The college has received a State of New York "Executive Chamber Memorandum" spelling out a policy in effect regarding the "necessary separation of political activities from the conduct of official state business." The main points of the memo:

- While (state) employees are not discouraged from participating in the political process, there must be a clear separation between their political activities and the proper discharge of duties. No employee is to conduct political activities on paid state time. In addition, stage equipment, vehicles and office space are to be used only for official business.

- Employees are also reminded they must not violate the prohibitions against political activities contained in the Civil Service Law and the Election Law.

- Any individual employed by the state whose principal employment is in connection with an activity which is financed in whole or in part by loans or grants made by the United States or a federal agency are reminded that they must not violate the "Hatch Act."

Copies of the laws governing participation in political activities are available in the college's personnel office.

Reading Center to Open Officially

SUNY Plattsburgh's Reading Center officially opens for the fall session on Monday, September 24.

Applications are currently being accepted for children in grades 2-12, adults and college students who would like to improve their reading and writing. There is a fee for services.

Additional information is available at the Reading Center, Room 332, Sibley Hall (564-5146 or 564-5145).

SPOTLIGHT

Dr. Sunderesh Heragu, assistant professor in the Department of Management and Marketing, recently presented a paper titled "Modeling the Machine Layout Problem" at the Joint National Meeting of TIMS/ ORSA at Las Vegas, Nevada, May 7-9, 1990. Heragu also presented a paper titled "A Knowledge-Based System for Machine Cell Layout" at the 1990 International Industrial Engineering Conference, San Francisco, CA, May 20-23, 1990. The paper has been published in the conference proceedings ...Dr. Phil Reines' essay, "The Emergence of Quebec Cinema," will appear in the forthcoming volume Essays in Quebec Cinema to be published by Michigan State University Press. This is the first scholarly volume on this subject to be published in the United States ...Dr. Peter Hornby, professor, and Margaret Anderson, lecturer, both in the psychology department, have published two papers during the summer. The first, "Computer Use in Psychology Instruction: A Ten-Year Perspective," appears in the 1990 edition of Behavior Research Methods, Instruments and Computers. "A Review of Software for Introductory Psychology Instruction" appears in the same publication. Hornby and Anderson also presented an invited workshop on "Electronic Mail for Psychologists: What's Available and How to Use it" at the annual meeting of the American Psychological Association held in August in Boston, and they served on the program committee and reviewed submissions for the Annual Meeting of the Society for Computers in Psychology to be held in New Orleans in November...Dr. E. Thomas Moran, vice president for academic affairs, and Dr. Henry Morlock, professor of psychology and coordinator of assessment, presented a session on "Assessment in the Major: What Worked, What Didn't, and What'll Last" at the Fourth Conference on Assessment, sponsored by the American Association for Higher Education and held in Washington D.C. this summer.

Alumni Road Show

College representatives met with more than 75 SUNY Plattsburgh alumni in the New England region last weekend in separate reunions in Hartford and Boston. Here, some who attended the Hartford gathering pose with (kneeling, front) new chapter President Joyce Hooley Bartlett '78 and Malcolm Lavery, director of development and alumni affairs at the college. Plans are underway for a reunion later this fall for alumni who reside in the greater Atlanta, Ga. area.

Visiting Soviets

Dr. Zubaidur Rahman, associate professor of accounting (r.), is currently working closely with Soviet accounting experts to make changes in Soviet accounting practices with the goal of bringing that system into conformity with Western practices, so that Western businesses may be attracted to investing in the Soviet Union. Two Soviet experts recently spent several days on campus as part of that cooperative venture, which is operating under the auspices of the United Nations. Seen here on a tour of the Georgia Pacific plant with Priscilla Hammond (back to camera) are (l.) N.V. Panteleev, head of the department of accounting, and L.Z. Schneidman, chief accounting expert, both from the Soviet Ministry of Finance.

Women's Soccer Team on Track with Back-to-Back Wins

The Plattsburgh State women's soccer team was victorious twice during the past week while the Cardinal men won two of three. The women nipped Clarkson 2-1 early in the week on Kim Baeyens' overtime goal and edged New Paltz 1-0 on Saturday on Baeyens' tally at 33:28 in the second half.

The men drubbed New England College and State University conference foe Buffalo State by 6-1 and 8-1 on Wednesday and Friday, respectively, before bowing 1-0, to SUNYAC rival Fredonia on Saturday.

In tennis, Plattsburgh's women crushed Clarkson 6-

1 last Sunday and came back on Wednesday to top Potsdam 6-3.

The Cardinal women's volleyball team finished third in the North Country Invitational Tournament by whipping Elmira 15-11 and 15-4.

The Plattsburgh cross country team placed last at Dartmouth in a six-team field composed of mostly Division I institutions. The Cards' Becky Pagano ran the 3.2 mile course in 20:41, while Dave Seguin was Plattsburgh's top performer in the men's competition covering the 5.8 mile circuit in 37:46.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 20 - THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 27

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, September 20

10 am - 3 pm — Information Table — Cooperative Education, sponsored by the Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Lobby.

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Carol Frome, tutor/coordinator in the SUNY Plattsburgh Learning Center, reading from her work and commenting on "Being a Writer." Sponsored by Women's Studies and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Friday, September 21

10 am - 3 pm — Information Table — Cooperative Education, sponsored by the Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Lobby.

Noon - 1:30 pm — Student Information Panel, sponsored by the Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm - 9 pm — Intervarsity Christian Fellowship weekly meeting. Angell Center Blue Room.

8 pm — The Student Association Activities Coordination Board presents Dennis Miller, Comedian. Tickets: $5.00 SA members, $8.00 faculty/staff and public, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

8 pm — The Friday Night Film Series presents "The Odd Couple." Tickets: $.50 students, faculty/staff and public, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

8 pm — The Council on the Arts for Clinton County presents "Table Manners," a production of the Pendragon Theatre of Saranac Lake. Tickets: $10.00 students and senior citizens, $12.00 COACC members and $14.00 general public, on sale at the Hartman Box Office. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

Saturday, September 22

9 am - 6 pm — Bus To Montreal, sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Tickets: $9.00 round trip, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Bus departs from the Rugar Street pull-off, Angell College Center.

11 am — Cross Country/Track Cardinal Classic. Field House.

12:30 pm — Men's Rugby vs. Hartwick College. Field House.

Sunday, September 23

6:45 and 9:15 pm — A.C.B. Film Committee presents "Crazy People." Open to the campus. Tickets: $.50 SA members, $1.00 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

7 pm — Informational meeting for the Adirondack Bike Trip. This meeting is mandatory for all participants. Sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Angell Center Conference Room.

Monday, September 24

10 am - 2 pm — The Office for International Education presents: "Study Elsewhere — Australia," an informational meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4 pm — Men's "B" Soccer vs. St. Michael's College. Field House.

8 pm — Club Canada Meeting with featured speaker Dr. Bruce Butterfield. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

Tuesday, September 25

9 am — Multi-Media Instructional Development Presentation, sponsored by the Computing Support Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom A.

2:30 - 3:15 pm — E.A.P. Health Educators Workshop "High Blood Pressure: ways to prevent and reduce it," sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom B.

4 pm — Women's Soccer vs. Albany. SUNY Plattsburgh Field House.

4:15 pm - 5:30 pm — Tuesday Reflections presents John Bradley, Computer Support Center, speaking on "Electronic Mail: Techniques and Privacy Issues." Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Introduction Program/Reception for all new faculty and professionals, sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa and College Auxiliary Services. Open to the campus. Angell Center Blue Room.

9 - 9:45 pm — E.A.P. Health Educators Workshop "High Blood Pressure: ways to prevent and reduce it," sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program. Open to the campus Angell Center Ballroom B.

Wednesday, September 26

3 pm — Tennis vs. St. Lawrence. Field House.

4 pm — Men's 'B' Soccer vs. Paul Smiths. Field House.

4 pm — Men's Soccer vs. Potsdam. Field House.

7:30 pm — Phi Eta Sigma General Meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

Thursday, September 27

12:15 pm — Omicron Delta Kappa regular meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4 pm — Tennis vs. Siena. Field House.

4 pm — Fox CPA Review, sponsored by the National Association of Accountants. Angell Center Centennial Room.

8 - 10 pm — The Union of Concerned Students presents David Aube, Capital District Committee for Palestinian Rights speaking on "A Trip To The INTIFADA." Angell Center Ballroom A.

WEEKLY NOTES

Non Credit CPR and Standard First Aid Classes

The Recreational Sports Program is offering a series of community CPR, Basic Life Support, Standard First Aid, and Recertification of current American Red Cross Card through a non credit program. See Mrs. Bardon 220 Memorial for further information, dates and times.

The Annual Campus - Community Carnival is scheduled for Sunday, September 30, from 10 am - 4 pm, featuring games, prizes, dunkin'booth, rides, great food, pie eating contest, music and much more. Admission to the carnival is free and tickets ($.25) are sold for each of the games. Sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Angell Center Plaza.

The Adirondack Bike Trip is scheduled for Saturday, September 29 - Sunday, September 30. Bikers leave the Angell Center at approximately 9 am and tour through scenic Adirondack roads with Twin Valleys as their destination. The ride is approximately 40 miles. Participants stay overnight at Twin Valleys and return Sunday afternoon. All meals are included. For more information, come to a meeting on Sunday, September 23 at 7 pm, in the Angell Center Conference Room. Sponsored by the Office of Campus Life.

DO YOU FEEL STRESSED? The Psychological Services Center is running a Stress Management Clinic. Students will be taught on an individual basis to relax and control their tension using relaxation techniques and biofeedback equipment. The Clinic services are open to all students and are FREE OF CHARGE. You may phone ahead for an appointment (564-3086) for further information. Walk-ins are welcome. The Clinic is located at the Psychological Services Center in the Infirmary.

Applications for the 1991 in vitro cell biology and biotechnology program are now being accepted. The deadline for receipt of all applications materials is November 1. Four James A. FitzPatrick Scholarships valued at $2,000 each are available for students accepted to the program. The scholarships cover full tuition, room and board and fees. For further information and application materials, contact Dr. William Graziadei at Miner Institute (846-7144) or by e-mail GRAZIAWD. Materials may also be obtained from Dianna Seymour in the Department of Biological Sciences, Beaumont Hall, Room 207 (564-3155).

Attention December graduates: If you expect to graduate in December, you must apply at the Registrar's Office by October 12. To take part in the graduation ceremony, students should have completed the required number and all degree requirements.

Attention all reading graduate students: A social will be held on Friday, Sept. 21 from 3:30 to 5 p.m. in the Reading Center (Sibley 332). Refreshments will be served. See you there!

The Student Nurses' Association and the New York Nurses Association, District 8, present the film, "Sentimental Women Need Not Apply: A History of the American Nurse," at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Sept. 26 in E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall. The documentary is a comprehensive and compelling exploration of the sometimes fanciful mythology and often hard realities which have characterized nursing since its inception as a "domestic chore" through its evolution as a leading 20th Century profession. Free and open to all.

Current Position Vacancies

Professional

Staff Associate (Director of the Small Business Development Center, Technical Assistance Center). Deadline: 10/15/90. Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action. For campus position vacancy information anytime, day or night, please call 564-JOBS.

SUNY Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Weekly

Published by College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • September 26, 1990

'Canada Day' Features Lecture by Consul General Eyton

The Annual Canada Day celebration, sponsored by the Center for the Study of Canada, will be held on October 3 and will be highlighted by a lecture given by Anthony Eyton, Consul General of Canada. Eyton, formerly the Canadian Ambassador to Brazil, and, more recently, Canada's Assistant Deputy Minister for Economic and Trade Policy, will discuss "Current Issues in the Canada-U.S. Relationship" beginning at 3:45 p.m. in the Cardinal Lounge.

Eyton has also served as Director General of the Trade Commissioner Service and International Marketing in the Department of Industry Trade and Commerce and, in the Ministry of External Affairs, as Assistant Deputy Minister for Personnel.

A panel discussion on "Land Claim Issues for Native Peoples in Canada and the U.S." will be held at 2:15 p.m. in the Cardinal Lounge. Featured speakers will include Johnny Mameanskum, assistant secretary general of the Naskapi Band of Quebec; Dr. Toby Morantz, chair of the Canadian Studies Program and professor of anthropology at McGill University; and Dr. Charles Simpson, chair and professor of sociology at SUNY Plattsburgh. Dr. Richard Robbins, professor of anthropology at SUNY Plattsburgh, will chair the session.

That session will be preceded by a showing of "No Address," a film which explores why many young native people leave their communities, what their hopes are, and what they actually find. The film will be shown in the Angell Center Conference Room at 1 p.m.

At 8 p.m. the McGill University Orchestra will perform in concert, under the baton of Timothy Vernon, in the Giltz Auditorium. Approximately 90 musicians will participate. The orchestra performed in Carnegie Hall last April, the first Canadian university orchestra to do so, and is widely acclaimed for their performances. Their program will include Dvorak's "Cello Concerto" and Brahms' "Second Symphony." Tickets for the concert are $7 for the general public, $4 for SUNY Plattsburgh faculty/staff and $1 for students.

A morning session (11 a.m., Cardinal Lounge) will turn the spotlight on "The Canadian Health Care System," with guest speaker Dr. Leonard Aucoin, consultant to Montreal's Public Health Services. Dr. Roger Patnode, on the staff of CVPH, will serve as discussant, and Dr. Padmini Gulati, associate professor in the Center for Human Resources, will chair the session.

A Canadian Film Festival will feature four brief films on "Native Peoples of Eastern Canada in the 20th Century" (11 a.m. - 12:45 p.m.) and three brief films on "Language Rights" (2:30-3:15 p.m.). Both sessions will be held in the Conference Room.

Additionally, Club Canada will sponsor information booths in the Angell Center lobby and traditional foods from Canada's major regions will be featured in the Centennial Room during the regular lunch period.

All events are open to the campus and community and, except for the lunch and concert, are free of charge.

Nina Winkel Remembered

Museum Director Edward Brohel (at the podium) was the last of several speakers who paid tribute to the life and artistic legacy of sculptor Nina Winkel in a memorial service in her honor held Saturday in the Hartman Theatre. More than 100 friends, colleagues and admirers of Nina Winkel and her work turned out for the impressive ceremony and for a reception that followed in the Sculpture Court in the Myers Fine Arts Building established by — and named for — Nina and her husband, George. Nina Winkel died May 24 from injuries sustained in an auto accident four months earlier.

Exhibition of African Art Opens Saturday in Myers Gallery

More than 100 examples of traditional art works from the Sub-Sahara African civilizations will be part of the African Art exhibit which opens on Saturday in the Myers Fine Arts Gallery.

The opening reception, scheduled for 6:30 p.m. on September 29, will be an unusual one. Museum docents have planned a dessert buffet featuring fruits and nuts indigenous to western Africa. At 9 p.m., Charles Moore Dancers and Drums of Africa will make a special presentation in the Hartman Theatre.

Other special events will be presented in conjunction with the exhibit, which is curated by Museum Director Edward Brohel and Dr. Roger Hamernik. The Champlain Centres, with the assistance of marketing director Carolyn Harding, will feature an African inspired fashion show and dance performance in October.

The various pieces in the exhibit, which has been selected from museum and private collections, will present a broad introduction to the many images, concepts and contexts which comprise the basis of the remarkable body of visual human expression called "Black Art."

Most of the sculptural pieces are used in an every-day context by the tribes which conceived them, reflecting the rich mythology which inspires much of the work.

The exhibition is structured geographically, incorporating traditional tribal organization and current political divisions. Sixteen of the more than 700 tribes of Africa are represented in the show.

African Art will be on view from September 29 through November 16. The gallery is open Saturday through Thursday from noon to 4 p.m. and admission is free.

Campus SEFA Campaign Kicks off with $30,000 Goal

SUNY Plattsburgh's portion of the State Employees Federated Appeal (SEFA) officially kicked off today (Wed., Sept. 26) with a breakfast meeting of campaign workers.

Clara LaRose will once again serve as campus coordinator for the campaign.

LaRose said that this year's goal for the on-campus SEFA campaign is $30,000. Last year's campaign, she added, raised $29,187 on campus.

The SEFA campaign provides funding to 60 local, state, national and international human service agencies and contributors may designate that their gift be divided among all of those agencies or specifically directed to any one or more. All employees will be contacted within the next few days with information and pledge cards.

"With this number of agencies," LaRose said, "surely everyone on campus can find at least one that they consider worthy of support. In my lifetime, several of the included agencies have directly affected either my life or that of someone in my family. I'm not unique. We'd like to see 100% participation on the part of our faculty and staff, whatever the size of their gift."

Employees are encouraged to use payroll deduction for their pledge. "A gift of just $1 per pay period can make a difference," LaRose said, adding, "This method of giving allows donors to make a larger contribution than they might otherwise consider."

SUNY Chancellor D. Bruce Johnstone has written a letter to all State University faculty and staff, urging their support of the SEFA campaign.

"Charitable giving is a very personal matter," he wrote, "and individual decisions on a SEFA contribution will be a product of many factors. I would ask you, though, to consider these thoughts: The needs 'out there' are enormous and worsening and many vital services will only be provided through SEFA...SEFA is not just another request for a donation to a worthy cause. It is a once-a-year consolidated gift to hundreds of worthy causes."

"If you support SEFA, and I hope you do, please make your support commensurate with the relative importance of all of these social service agencies...Remember that you can make a difference."

Visiting Scholar from England to Lecture Here on Monday

Dr. Philip Taylor, professor of history emeritus at the University of Hull, England, will discuss his research on "Four Women Diarists from Boston in the Nineteenth Century" on Monday (Oct. 1) at 4:15 p.m. in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

The lecture by Taylor, who has been a Visiting Distinguished Professor at many North American colleges and universities, is sponsored by the SUNY Plattsburgh history department and is open to all.

His studies on Mormon migration and settlement and of European emigration to the United States are standard references in the field.

Irwin-Devins Named to Succeed Green as College Registrar

Jocile Irwin-Devins, currently assistant registrar and associate for institutional research, has been named college registrar. The appointment, effective tomorrow (Sept. 27), culminates a search conducted internally.

Irwin-Devins succeeds Diana M. Green in the post. Green, a member of the SUNY Plattsburgh administrative staff since 1969, will retire officially from service to the college on Oct. 1.

"Jocile Irwin-Devins brings to the role as registrar a research and technological perspective that is complemented by a familiarity with the people-dimensions of the position," commented Janet Edwards, assistant to the president for enrollment management and supervisor of the Office of Records and Research. "We are fortunate to have someone with Jocile's combination of views in this important position."

SUNY Plattsburgh's new registrar holds two degrees from the college — the B.A. in psychology, conferred magna cum laude in 1977, and the M.A. in liberal studies, awarded in 1983. She has studied also at Brigham Young University.

Irwin-Devins served the college during 1977-78 as a graduate research assistant, then spent the next two years in Springfield, VA as a senior research analyst with ENSCO, Inc. She returned to SUNY Plattsburgh in 1981 as assistant for institutional research. She was promoted to associate for institutional research in 1987.

During her 13-year career at the college, Irwin-Devins has been involved extensively in academic advisement for students and in campus governance. She has been a member and secretary of the Faculty Senate, and a member of the Senate's Executive Committee and its Standing Committee on Academic Policies.

Zeigler to Begin Distinguished Visiting Professorship

Jerome Ziegler, professor of Human Service Studies and former dean of the College of Human Ecology at Cornell University, will serve a one-week term as Distinguished Visiting Professor here beginning Sunday, October 7.

Ziegler is recognized internationally as an expert in the fields of social policy, urban affairs, race relations, higher education and inter-governmental affairs. He will be available to meet with students and faculty during the week of Oct. 7-13, and he will discuss "Race and Work, a Central Policy Issue for the Nineties" in a public lecture scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Oct. 11 in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Ziegler has carved out a distinguished career in both public and private education and as a consultant to state and federal government agencies on matters ranging from human resources development and equal employment opportunity studies to urban education and literacy training. He chaired the Department of Urban Affairs and Policy Analysis at the New School for Social Research, served as commissioner of higher education for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and is a former vice president for social science at SUNY Old Westbury.

During the 1960s, Ziegler was instrumental in starting the Job Corps, and he assisted with the design of Peace Corps Training. He holds the M.A. from the University of Chicago, and he has pursued doctoral studies at the London School of Economics and Political Science, where he has also served as "academic visitor" while on leave from Cornell. He has been a consultant on educational matters to the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare; the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development; the U.S. Conference of Mayors; the American Academy of Arts and Sciences; and the Ministry of Education for the government of India.

Faculty Women's Calendar for '90-91 Begins October 1

The Faculty Women's Organization has announced its 1990-91 schedule of events and invites all new and returning faculty and professional staff women, wives of faculty and professional staff, retirees, and wives of retirees to participate.

The first event on the schedule is an opening social, to be held at Nancy Warren's home (134 Court Street) at 7:30 p.m. on October 1. Other events include a Fall Foliage Trip to the Adirondack Interpretive Center on October 6, a Holiday Tea in December, an English Tea in January, a Dessert Buffet in March, a Montreal Bus Trip in April or May and a Salad Luncheon in May.

This year's officers are: President-Nancy Warren; Vice-President - Ann Marie Bernardi; Secretary - Annette Yarden; Treasurer-Joyce Ashe; Scholarship Co-Chairs - Marta Clute and Joan Janson; and Membership Chair - Joanne Domenico.

More information about the organization and its events is available from any officer.

De Young, Merrill to be Inducted to Sports Hall of Fame

A record-setting swimmer and an all-around performer in basketball and baseball in the early 1950s will be inducted to the SUNY Plattsburgh Sports Hall of Fame during Homecoming Weekend festivities this fall (Oct. 12-14).

They are Thomas De Young of Newark, a 1968 graduate who was a mainstay on Cardinal swim teams that racked up 28 dual meet victories against seven losses during his four-year career in the sport, including a 10-0 campaign in 1966-67, and Robert L. Merrill of Owego, a member of the class of 1955 who played four years of varsity basketball and two as a catcher for Cardinal baseball teams. De Young and Merrill, both graduates of the elementary education program at Plattsburgh, were unanimous choices of a selection committee composed of representatives of the college's Department of Physical Education, Athletics and Recreational Sports, the Student Association, the Alumni Association and the Cardinal Booster Club, which created and subsidizes the Hall of Fame program. They will be installed formally on Sunday, October 14 during a ceremony following brunch at 9:30 a.m. in the Angell College Center.

De Young

Merrill

De Young specialized in the 50, 100 and 200-yard freestyle events and also swam relays and the grueling butterfly. Time and again throughout his swimming career, he set and shattered home and away pool records in all events. He was captain or co-captain of all four Cardinal teams he swam for, and he received the team's "Outstanding Swimmer Award" in 1967.

De Young has taught sixth grade science in the Newark Central School system since 1968 and he has been science supervisor for the Newark system for the past three years. He was head coach of swimming at Newark High from 1968-77, and his teams captured several league and sectional championships. De Young is a past chair of the Finger Lakes Swimming League and Section V, and for the past 15 years he has served as state swimming chairperson for boys and girls modified sports at the 7th, 8th and 9th grade levels for the New York State Public High School Athletic Association. His public service activities have included work for his community's library and playground network, and he originated the Newark Swim Club, a competitive program for swimmers of ages 5 through 70.

Merrill, who received the M.S. from Plattsburgh in 1961, was the leading scorer at center for the basketball Cardinals as a sophomore until sidelined by a severe ankle injury. The following year, 1953, the 6-3 pivot man, nicknamed "Hooks," made the switch from center to guard, placing second on the stat sheets in assists and rebounds. He was the assist leader and Cardinal captain as a senior.

Merrill has been an elementary school principal in the Apalachin Central School system in Owego for the past 27 years. Previously, he taught in Ballston Lake and Smithtown, L.I. His civic involvement includes terms on the Tioga County Board of Ethics and the county's Democratic Party executive committee. He is a trustee of the Guthrie Health Care System, Robert Packer Hospital; a past president of both the Owego Rotary Club and the Tioga Country Club; a regional director of the United Way; and a coach for the Tioga County Boys and Girls Club. Besides SUNY Plattsburgh, Merrill has studied at Hofstra and Vassar, and he has been a Kettering Foundation Fellow and a selectee to the I.B.M. Education Executive School in Southbury, Conn.

The Hall of Fame program was established in 1984 by the Cardinal Booster Club "to give recognition to individuals who have participated in intercollegiate athletics at SUNY Plattsburgh and whose achievements and contributions exemplify the ideals of good citizenship." It has since become the capstone event of Homecoming Weekend at the college.

Students Who Need Immunization Must Do So or Forfeit Registration

Students who have failed to comply with a New York State law requiring they be immunized for measles, mumps and rubella will not be allowed to pre-register for spring semester until they do.

The Office of the Vice President for Student Affairs is contacting students whose immunization records in the campus Health Center show they are not in compliance with the recently enacted law, and warning them of the consequences. The notice calls attention to the October 29 to November 13 pre-registration period, and urges students who have yet to be immunized to "satisfy this requirement within the next few weeks."

The notice further advises students that the Health Center will soon be conducting on-campus immunization clinics where they may receive the measles-mumps-rubella vaccine at a cost of $30. Students who have questions about the procedure or who wish to review their immunization records are encouraged to call (ext. 2187) or stop by the Health Center.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 27 - THURSDAY, October 4

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, September 27

9 am — TIAA/CREFF Information Meeting, sponsored by the Personnel Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:15 pm — Omicron Delta Kappa regular meeting. Open to members only, no charge. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4 pm — Tennis vs. Siena. Field House.

4 pm — "Everything You Always Wanted To Know About The CPA Exam" presented by Michael F. Farrel, Lambers CPA Review. Sponsored by the National Association of Accountants and the Accounting and Finance Association. Angell Center Centennial Room.

8 - 10 pm — The Union of Concerned Students presents David Aube, from the Capital District Committee for Palestinian Rights speaking on "A Trip To The INTIFADA". Angell Center Ballroom A.

Friday, September 28

Volleyball Cardinal Classic with Clarkson, McGill, St. Lawrence University, University of Vermont and St. Michaels. Field House.

8:00 pm — Friday Night Film Series presents: "Ferris Bueller's Day Off", sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and the Student Association. Open to the campus. Tickets: $.50, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

Saturday, September 29

9 am — Adirondack Bike Tour, sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Open to the campus. Pre-registration required. Departure Point — Saranac Hall Parking Lot, across from the Angell Center.

2 pm — Tennis vs. The College of St. Rose. Field House.

6:30 - 9 pm — Opening reception for "The Art of Africa", an exhibit of Tribal Art and Artifacts. Sponsored by the SUNY Plattsburgh Art Museum. Myers Fine Arts Gallery.

9 pm — The Charles Moore Dance Theatre presents "Dances and Drums of Africa", sponsored by the SUNY Plattsburgh Art Museum and the Student Association. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

Sunday, September 30

10 am - 4 pm — The Annual Campus/Community Carnival, sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Games, rides, music, food, pie eating contest, prizes and much, much more. No admission charge, $.25 game tickets. Angell Center Amite Plaza.

6:45 and 9:15 pm — The Activities Coordination Board Film Committee presents: "Lord of the Flies". Open to the campus. Tickets: $.50 for SA Members and $1.00 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Sponsored by your SA Mandatory Fee. Hawkins Hall, Giltz Auditorium.

Tuesday, October 2

7 am - 7:45 am — EAP Health Education Workshop — the Workshop will be on smoking and ways to quit smoking. Sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:15 - 1 pm — "Writing a Better Term Paper", sponsored by the Learning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

2:30 - 3:15 pm — EAP Health Education Workshop on ways to quit smoking. Sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 pm — Tennis vs. University of Vermont. Field House.

4:15 pm — Faculty Senate Meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom B.

7 pm — Film, sponsored by the Plattsburgh State French Club. Yokum CL 206.

9 pm - 9:45 pm — EAP Health Education Workshop on ways to quit smoking. Sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Wednesday, October 3

9 am - 5 pm — Annual Canada Day Celebration in the Angell College Center featuring information booths, Canadian lunch, speakers, film festival and much more. Sponsored by the Center for the Study of Canada. Angell College Center Lobby, Cardinal Lounge, Conference Room.

4:30 pm — Men's "B" Soccer vs. Clinton Community College. Field House.

6:15 pm — Plattsburgh College Night, sponsored by the Admissions Office and NENYCA. Field House, Indoor Track Arena.

8 pm — Concert: McGill University Orchestra, sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Tickets: $1.00 SA Members, $5.00 faculty/staff, $7.00 public, on sale at the Hartman Box Office. Hawkins Hall, Giltz Auditorium.

Thursday, October 4

10 am - 3 pm — U.S. Marine Corp Officer Selection Program Information Session, sponsored by the Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Lobby.

4 pm — Women's Soccer vs. Green Mountain College. Field House.

4 pm — New Faculty Reception, sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa. Open to the campus. Angell Center Blue Room.

8 pm — Karate Demonstration, sponsored by the campus Karate Club. Angell Center Blue Room.

WEEKLY NOTES

Non Credit CPR and Standard First Aid Classes

The Recreational Sports Program is offering a series of community CPR, Basic Life Support, Standard First Aid, and Recertification of current American Red Cross Card through a non credit program. See Mrs. Bardon 220 Memorial for further information, dates and times.

The Annual Campus - Community Carnival is scheduled for Sunday, September 30, from 10 am - 4 pm, featuring games, prizes, dunkin'booth, rides, great food, pie eating contest, music and much more. Admission to the carnival is free and tickets ($25) are sold for each of the games. Sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Angell Center Plaza.

The Adirondack Bike Trip is scheduled for Saturday, September 29 - Sunday, September 30. Bikers leave the Angell Center at approximately 9 am and tour through scenic Adirondack roads with Twin Valleys as their destination. The ride is approximately 40 miles. Participants stay overnight at Twin Valleys and return Sunday afternoon. All meals are included. For more information, come to a meeting on Sunday, September 23 at 7 pm, in the Angell Center Conference Room. Sponsored by the Office of Campus Life.

DO YOU FEEL STRESSED? The Psychological Services Center is running a Stress Management Clinic. Students will be taught on an individual basis to relax and control their tension using relaxation techniques and biofeedback equipment. The Clinic services are open to all students and are FREE OF CHARGE. You may phone ahead for an appointment (564-3086) for further information. Walk-ins are welcome. The Clinic is located at the Psychological Services Center in the Infirmary.

Quantity Foods Dinner Service — The college's Quantity Foods Class will begin its fall semester Tuesday evening dinner service in the Sibley Hall Cafetorium on October 2. Subsequent meals have been planned for October 16, 23 and 30, November 6, 13 and 27, and December 4 and 11. All dinners will be prepared in the newly remodeled quantity foods kitchen. Seating times will be from 5-6 p.m. except for November 6, which begins at 5:45 p.m. The cost of the dinners, which are open to the public, is $8 per person. Seating is limited. For information and reservations, call 564-2216 between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Attention December graduates: If you expect to graduate in December, you must apply at the Registrar's Office by October 12. To take part in the graduation ceremony, students should have completed the required number and all degree requirements.

Current Position Vacancies

Professional

Staff Associate (Director of the Small Business Development Center, Technical Assistance Center). Deadline: 10/15/90.

Civil Service

Assistant Stationary Engineer (Heating Plant). Deadline: 10/4/90.

Keyboard Specialist P/T (Psychological Services). Deadline: 9/30/90

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action. For campus position vacancy information anytime, day or night, please call 564-JOBS. SUNY Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Weekly

Published by College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • October 3, 1990

Tracy's Book Winter Hunger to be on Bookshelves Soon

Dr. Ann Tracy's first novel, entitled Winter Hunger, will be published this month by Goose Lane Editions, a Canadian publishing house in New Brunswick. The book will be available in the College Store and in local bookstores.

The book is described by the publisher as "strangely haunting" and as "a breathtaking novel of mythic proportions at once disquieting and compassionate, guaranteed to haunt the dreams and imagination of every reader."

The plot of Winter Hunger revolves around an anthropologist who, with his wife and young child, moves to northern Manitoba to study three native communities, but "as the darkness of winter overcomes the light, he discovers a savage landscape which abhors a human presence, an alien culture which tolerates the ever-present possibility of death and the mysterious windigo which captures his psyche during the long months of winter isolation."

While this is Tracy's first work of fiction, she is no stranger to the Gothic novel form. Her research interests settled on that genre in graduate school and her doctoral dissertation on patterns of fear in the Gothic novel led to her later publication of The Gothic Novel, 1790-1830: Plot Summaries and Index to Motifs, which is considered a definitive work on the subject.

A member of the SUNY Plattsburgh English department faculty since 1970, she was promoted to full professor in 1983. In 1988, Down East Books published her book Higher Ground: A Memoir of Higgins Classical Institute. She has completed a novel for adolescents which is being considered for publication and is currently working, with Pat Hoffman, on two writing-across-the-curriculum texts and a play.

Tracy earned the B.A. at Colby College, the M.A. at Brown University and the Ph.D. from the University of Toronto.

Newcomers Abbale, Girard, Ortega Bolster Admissions Staff

Three new admissions counselors have joined the staff of the college, replacing Milladge Griffin, Ted

Abbale

Girard

Ortega

Plattsburgh. She has also worked as a chemist at Ayerst Laboratories and as a community educator with Northern Adirondack Planned Parenthood.

Girard holds a B.A. in classics from the College of the Holy Cross and received an Ed.M. in administration, planning and social policy from Harvard University in June. For two years, Girard worked in the Office of Transfer Affairs at the University of Vermont. Earlier, she was involved with the administrative activities for UVM's Department of Romance Languages, taught Latin, French and religion at Loyola-Sacred Heart School, and taught music history and theory at St. Mary's Catholic High School. She has also served as evening and vacation house manager at the Ronald McDonald House in Burlington.

Ortega is also a SUNY Plattsburgh alumnus, having received a bachelor's degree in political science in 1984. Since that time, he has worked in the insurance field, as a claims approver for Metropolitan Life Insurance, as a life insurance agent for Massachusetts Mutual and as a claims representative for American International Adjustment Company. He is currently serving as president of the Milton Falls II Condominium Association.

2nd HIV/AIDS Parley Expected to Attract Upwards of 200

Nearly 200 health care and human service professionals are expected to attend the second annual Conference on HIV/AIDS to be held next Friday (Oct. 12) in the Angell College Center.

The all-day conference, subtitled "One Year Later," is funded in part by a New York State Department of Social Services grant to the Nelson A. Rockefeller College of Public Affairs. Co-sponsors, besides SUNY Plattsburgh, include the AIDS Council of Northeastern New York, the Champlain Valley Physicians Hospital Medical Center, the Clinton County Department of Social Services and the county's Health Department, and Northern Adirondack Planned Parenthood.

Kate Chilton, who is coordinating conferences under auspices of College Auxiliary Services, said the HIV/AIDS parley will draw registrants from fields ranging from medicine and drug abuse counseling to corrections. It will open at 8:45 a.m. with two skits on issues related to HIV/AIDS performed by an amateur group known as the "Mental Health Players." At 9:30 a.m., Dr. Neal Rzepkowski, a member of the medical staff at both Brooks Memorial Hospital and Erie County Medical Center in Buffalo, will deliver the keynote address on the topic, "Alternative, Complimentary and Wholistic Approaches in the Care of HIV/AIDS Patients."

The morning session will conclude with a panel discussion, beginning at 10:45, whose participants include four individuals who have been diagnosed as HIV positive. The afternoon program will feature sessions and workshops on public policy, confidentiality regulations, initiatives and developments in correctional services, and issues related to counseling, employment and youth services.

Nationally Known Expert on Racist Practices to Lecture

Nat Rutstein, who is known nationally for his work to eliminate racist practices and attitudes in public schools, will speak on campus at 7:30 p.m. on October 12 in the Sibley Cafetorium.

Rutstein recently published a book entitled To be One - A Battle Against Racism, which documents his own struggle against racist feelings. He also co-authored an article, "Healing Racism: Education's Role," which identifies key aspects of curriculum, teaching and environment that need to be addressed in efforts to eliminate racist practices in educational facilities.

Rutstein worked with major television networks in the 1960's and, during that time, interviewed both Dr. Martin Luther King and Malcolm X.

Rutstein's visit to campus is co-sponsored by College Auxiliary Services, the Center for Teacher Education and the Student Association. His lecture is free and open to the public.

Faculty and students at the college may attend the conference for a reduced cost of $15 and $10, respectively. Further information and registration materials are available at Auxiliary Services offices (ext. 2035).

Eleven Receive Foundation Presidential Scholarships

Seven incoming freshmen and four sophomores have been designated as Presidential Scholars and will receive full-tuition equivalent scholarships from the Plattsburgh College Foundation. The scholarships are renewable for their undergraduate years at SUNY Plattsburgh as long as the students maintain acceptable grade point averages.

Presidential Scholars are nominated for this award on the basis of academic achievements. To be nominated, students must have a high school average of 92 or above and SAT scores of at least 1100 or ACT scores of at least 25. Nominees are then invited to submit an essay on a selected topic.

This year's freshman Presidential Scholars are Thomas Dabolt, an environmental science major from Clarence Center; Tammi Jupin, a biology major from Auburn; Jennifer Kingsley, a French/Canadian Studies major from Farmington; Jody Krause, an undeclared major from Plattsburgh Air Force Base; Crystal Miller, a special education major from Adams; Dawn Smith, a speech and hearing major from Greenlawn; and Heather Thomson, a speech communication major from Ballston Lake.

Sophomore Presidential Scholars are Wayne Dengal, an environmental science major from Henrietta; Mary Beth Fenlaw, a music major from Plattsburgh; Juli-Ann Oram, a hearing and speech education major from Camillus; and Kelly Rose, an undeclared major from Fultonville.

Recycling Effort Underway

SUNY Plattsburgh is collaborating with Clinton County and Champlain Valley Industries in a joint paper recycling effort, and the call is out for cooperation among offices and departments campus-wide.

At present, says Edward Bortnick, environmental health officer, more than a ton of paper is being recovered on campus each week for recycling. Receptacles provided by the Association for Retarded Children are available for collecting paper separated in three categories — computer, white and color.

Bortnick is asking personnel who feel that their offices generate paper volume sufficient to make collection for recycling worthwhile to contact him (ext. 5009) to request placement of receptacles. He is also looking for volunteers to help remove the containers on pick-up day every Thursday.

11 Students Meet Qualifications as EOP 'Master Tutors'

The College's Educational Opportunity Program (EOP) has selected 11 SUNY Plattsburgh students as "master tutors."

The 11, according to Robert Harsh, EOP counselor, earned the designation on the basis of their high academic achievement and their "proven skills in helping have a 'B' average or better and the recommendations of two members of the faculty in the discipline they wish to tutor," commented Harsh. "Before they are chosen as master tutors, the students must demonstrate exceptional skills in individual tutoring sessions."

Once chosen, Harsh said, master tutors are assigned to walk-in hours — periods when EOP students can drop by for help — in the EOP office in Algonquin Hall. The tutors typically work between 10 and 15 hours per week under supervision of Tammy Lord, EOP head tutor, and they are paid for their services.

EOP master tutors for 1990-91, their status, fields of study and hometowns are: Kathy Collier, graduate student, English/secondary education, Port Henry; Michelle Currie, senior, computer science, Bronx; Nenette Greeno, senior, psychology, Brushton; Andrew Gronosky, junior, physics, Freeville; Head Tutor Tammy Lord, senior, computer science, Saranac.

Also, Elie Mak, senior, mathematics, Ellenburg Depot; John McGowan, graduate student, psychology, Yonkers; Terry Skowronek, senior, computer science, Amsterdam; Katherine Turner, senior, marketing, Westernville, Andrew Wallace, senior, accounting, Albany; and Michele Wright, senior psychology, Little Falls.

Students who are interested in serving as EOP tutors are encouraged to contact Lord at the EOP office (ext. 2263).

Anti-Hitler Resistance Leader Muller to Give Public Address

Franz Muller, who, at age 19, was imprisoned by the Nazis for more than two years for his participation in the White Rose resistance movement against Hitler, will give a public address entitled "To Die for Freedom: Student Resistance to Hitler," at 4:15 p.m. on October 11 in the Angell Center Blue Room.

Earlier in the day, Muller will meet with Rabbi Carla Friedman's freshman seminar on Judaism and with Ann Kimmage's Honors Seminar on Eastern Europe. He will also join student members of the EOP Leadership Circle for an informal luncheon and discussion session.

From 1941 until 1943, Muller worked with the White Rose, a student resistance group that wrote and distributed leaflets decrying Hitler's atrocities. Arrested in 1943, Muller spent the next two years in jail. He now heads the White Rose Foundation, which was founded in 1987 by the nine surviving members. The Foundation works in schools, universities, Goethe Houses and through the media to commemorate the German Resistance and its struggle against tyranny and to remind the world that "the spirit of the Other Germany is not dead."

Among the master tutors in SUNY Plattsburgh's Educational Opportunity Program are (front, L-R) Elie Mak, Andrew Wallace, Michele Wright and Katherine Turner, and (back, L-R) Nenette Greeno and Tammy Lord.

other students." Nine in the group are undergraduates and two are graduate students; three entered the college as EOP program participants.

"Students who wish to qualify as master tutors must

Farewell Gesture

Retiring Registrar Diana Green accepts a citation from President Charles Warren calling attention to her achievements in service to the college over the past 21 years during a reception in her honor held Friday in the Angell Center Centennial Room. An estimated 80 colleagues of Green, whose retirement became effective Oct. 1, turned out to bid her farewell.

SPOTLIGHT

Dr. Thomas J. Braga, professor of French and Portuguese, recently presented a paper titled "Maxim's in Grande Sertao: Veredas" at the Northeast Meeting of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese held last week in Providence, RI... Dr. James Dawson, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, is the author of two articles that appear in Volume One of The Adirondack Park in the 21st Century — Technical Reports. His "Adirondack Forest Preserve Acquisition: Policies and Procedures" and "Forest Preserve Acquisition: Analysis of the Process" are part of the report section dealing with "Adirondack Park Acquisition, Management and Park Planning Issues"...Dr. Sunderesh Heragu, assistant professor in the Department of Management and Marketing, has been invited to present a paper at the Fourth Advanced Technology Conference sponsored by the U.S. Postal Service in Washington, D.C. in early November. The paper, titled "A Simulated Annealing Based Approach for Facility Layout," will be published in the conference proceedings...Dr. Sophie Jeffries, visiting associate professor in the Center for Teacher Education and the Department of Foreign Languages and Literature, was co-chair of a symposium of SUNY administrators of foreign language programs held recently in Binghamton. The symposium topic was "High School to College Articulation of Foreign Language Programs." Jeffries' article, "Articulation in the Era of Proficiency," appears in the current issue of The Foreign Language Annals ... Dr. Roy Malpass, professor of behavioral science, has recently had a book chapter published and a paper accepted for publication. The chapter, titled "Enhancing eyewitness memory," appears in the volume Identifizierung von Tatverdächtigen: Psychologische Erkenntnisse, Probleme und Perspektiven, edited by G. Koehnken and S. Sporer. It is published in Göttingen (Germany) by C. J. Hogrefe. The article was translated into German for the volume. An English language volume on a similar topic, with similar contents, is in the late stages of construction, edited by Koehnken, Sporer and Malpass. His article, "An Excursion into Utilitarian Analysis," will appear in the journal Behavior Science Research.

Men's Soccer Team Trips Potsdam; Retains League Lead

The men's soccer team improved its overall record to 8-1-2 and maintained its first place standing in SUNYAC with a 3-1-1 mark by defeating conference rival Potsdam, 4-1, last Wednesday. Brian Micheels scored in regulation and assisted on Mark Whitman's game-winner in overtime. Whitman's second goal in overtime followed by one by Brad Stever to pad the margin.

The Cardinal women's soccer team, meanwhile, dropped a 2-1 decision to league-leading Oneonta over the weekend. Goalkeeper Colleen McTygue recorded five second-half saves to keep the Cards in the game

New Exchange Pact Signed with East Anglia University

The Center for International Education has announced that President Charles O. Warren recently signed an exchange agreement with the University of East Anglia in Norwich, England. This latest exchange program involved UEA students enrolled in the school of Environmental Sciences and Plattsburgh students majoring in environmental sciences or related disciplines including geography and geology.

The exchange officially began this month with one Plattsburgh student, senior Kathyann Wells, who will attend UEA all year. UEA students will attend Plattsburgh beginning next fall.

SUNY Plattsburgh and UEA also have an exchange program involving liberal arts and American Studies degree students.

Additional information is available from Dodie Giltz at 133 Court Street (564-2086).

against the powerful Red Dragons.

In volleyball, the Plattsburgh women finished third in their own Cardinal Classic tournament behind champion Vermont, unbeaten in the competition, and St. Michaels. They advanced to a three-way playoff for second place with victories over St. Lawrence, St. Michael's and Clarkson before bowing to St. Michael's in a tie-breaker.

The Plattsburgh women's tennis team dropped matches last week to St. Lawrence and Siena. Matt Nephew placed 25th out of 78 runners in Thursday's cross country invitational meet at McGill University with a time of 21:03 over the 3.73-mile course. Nephew improved his personal record time at that distance by 30 seconds.

Three Freshman Receive Empire Minority Honors Scholarships

Three freshmen have been designated Empire Minority Honors Scholars and will receive full-tuition equivalent scholarships, which are renewable for four years providing the students maintain acceptable grade point averages. The scholarships are funded in part through SUNY Central, with matching funds provided by the Plattsburgh College Foundation.

This year's Empire Minority Honors Scholars are Angela Edgerton, an undeclared major from Plattsburgh Air Force Base; Kelly Harrigan, an English major from Malone; and Michelle Noble, an elementary education major from the Bronx.

Students are nominated for the award on the basis of academic excellence in their high school records.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 4 - THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, October 4

10 am - 3 pm — U.S. Marine Corp Officer Selection Program Information Session, sponsored by the Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Lobby.

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Mary Beth Cordy, Associate Director, Vermont Free Trade Office speaking on "A Women's Place In Canada/US Trade Relations." Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 pm — Women's Soccer vs. Green Mountain College SUNY Plattsburgh Field House.

4 pm — New Faculty Reception, sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa. Open to the campus. Angell Center Blue Room.

7 pm — Walt Disney World — Information for Co-op opportunities sponsored by the Career Life Planning and Placement Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Karate Demonstration, sponsored by the campus Karate Club. Angell Center Blue Room.

Friday, October 5

3 pm — Men's Soccer vs. Cortland. SUNY Plattsburgh Field House.

8 pm — Friday Night Film Series presents "Neighbors," sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and the Student Association. Open to the campus. Tickets: $.50 on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

Saturday, October 6

9 am — Bus To Montreal sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Tickets: $9.00 round trip, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Bus departs from the front of Myers Fine Arts.

11 am - 3 pm — Fall Picnic, sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa. Open to members only. Rugar Woods.

12 Noon — Men's Soccer vs. Oswego. SUNY Plattsburgh Field House.

12:15 pm — Meeting of the National Speech, Hearing and Language Association. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

2 pm — Women's Soccer vs. Middlebury "B." SUNY Plattsburgh Field House.

Sunday, October 7

6:45 and 9:15 pm — Activities Coordination Board Film Committee presents "Internal Affairs," sponsored by your SA Mandatory Fee. Open to the Campus. Tickets: SA Members $.50, faculty/staff $1.00, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Hawkins Hall, E.Glenn Giltz Auditorium.

Tuesday, October 9

4 pm — Men's "B" Soccer vs. Skidmore. SUNY Plattsburgh Field House.

Wednesday, October 10

11 am — CVPH Blood Drive, sponsored by Alpha Kappa Phi Sorority. Angell Center Ballrooms.

12:15 pm — "Preparing for Exams" — a workshop sponsored by the Learning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

3 pm — Tennis vs. Potsdam. SUNY Plattsburgh Field House.

4:15 pm — International Awareness Forum presents a panel discussion — "After The Cold War: Germany and Eastern Europe," with speakers Dr. Horst Adamek, Academy of Science of (the former) East Berlin and Dr. Manuela Dobos, Professor of History College of Staten Island. Sponsored by the Associate Vice President for Academic Affairs and the Faculty of Arts and Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Thursday, October 11

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Dr. Virginia Barker, Dean Professional Studies speaking on

"Career Planning: Challenges and Choices." Sponsored by the the Women's Studies Program with assistance from College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 pm — "Study Elsewhere: Spain" Informational, sponsored by the Office for International Education. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4 pm — Lecture sponsored by the Educational Opportunity Program. Angell Center Blue Room.

4:30 pm — American Marketing Association is having a guest speaker. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

6:30 - 9:30 pm — Measles Clinic, sponsored by the Student Health Center. For further information call 564-2187. Angell Center Ballrooms.

7 pm — Walt Disney World recruiters, sponsored by the Career Life Planning and Placement Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Centennial Room.

7:30 pm — Distinguished Visiting Professor Program. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Library Hours: Columbus Day Weekend

Friday October 5	8:00 am - 5:00 pm
Saturday October 6	1:00 pm - 5:00 pm
Sunday October 7	1:00 pm - 5:00 pm
Monday October 8	CLOSED
Tuesday October 9	8:00 am - 11:30 pm

WEEKLY NOTES

Non Credit CPR and Standard First Aid Classes

The Recreational Sports Program is offering a series of community CPR, Basic Life Support, Standard First Aid, and Re-certification of current American Red Cross Card through a non credit program. See Mrs. Bardon 220 Memorial for further information, dates and times.

DO YOU FEEL STRESSED? The Psychological Services Center is running a Stress Management Clinic. Students will be taught on an individual basis to relax and control their tension using relaxation techniques and biofeedback equipment. The Clinic services are open to all students and are FREE OF CHARGE. You may phone ahead for an appointment (564-3086) for further information. Walk-ins are welcome. The Clinic is located at the Psychological Services Center in the Infirmary.

Applications for the 1991 in vitro cell biology and biotechnology program are now being accepted. The deadline for receipt of all applications materials is November 1. Four James A. FitzPatrick Scholarships valued at $2,000 each are available for students accepted to the program. The scholarships cover full tuition, room and board and fees. For further information and application materials, contact Dr. William Graziadei at Miner Institute (846-7144) or by e-mail GRAZIAWD. Materials may also be obtained from Dianna Seymour in the Department of Biological Sciences, Beaumont Hall, Room 207 (564-3155).

Attention December graduates: If you expect to graduate in December, you must apply at the Registrar's Office by October 12. To take part in the graduation ceremony, students should have completed the required number and all degree requirements.

Current Position Vacancies

Faculty

Instructor/Asst. Prof. (choral/vocal teacher, Art, Music & Theatre). Deadline: 12/1/90.

Professional

Staff Associate (Director of the Small Business Development Center, Technical Assistance Center). Deadline: 10/15/90.

Staff Assistant P/T (nurse practitioner, Student Health Service). Deadline: ASAP.

Civil Service

Assistant Stationary Engineer (Heating Plant). Deadline: 10/4/90.

Keyboard Specialist P/T (Psychological Services). Deadline: 9/30/90

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action. For campus position vacancy information anytime, day or night, please call 564-JOBS.

SUNY Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Weekly

Published by College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • October 10, 1990

Record Crowd Expected at Homecoming '90 Festivities

Another record crowd is expected on campus this weekend as alumni return for Homecoming '90.

Alumni events get underway Friday evening with a reception at President and Mrs. Charles Warren's home for all graduates of the Class of 1940 and earlier. Other alumni will find friends at a Nostalgia Night Buffet in the Angell College Center from 7 to 10 p.m., which will be followed by an After Hours Club until midnight. A 9 p.m. fireworks display on Memorial Field will be another of the evening's highlights.

The Center for Art, Music and Theatre will also present a Prism Concert at 7:30 p.m. in the Giltz Auditorium. The concert will feature performances by the Cardinal Singers, the College Chorale, the Symphonic Band, the Jazz Ensemble, the College Sinfonia, the Flute Ensemble, the Brass Ensemble, the Guitar Ensemble and piano soloist Jun Matsuo. The concert is free and open to everyone.

All alumni are invited to join the Warrens for coffee at their home from 8 to 9 a.m. on Saturday. Members of Omicron Delta Kappa will get together for their ninth annual breakfast at 9:30 a.m.

The annual Homecoming Parade will step off at 10 a.m. and all alumni are welcome to ride in that parade. The parade will begin at Plattsburgh Plaza on upper Cornelia Street, march down Cornelia to Margaret to Broad to Rugar Street, and end at Memorial Hall.

The Silver Anniversary Class (1965) and the Golden Anniversary Club (1940 and earlier) will be feted at special luncheons and many current and former faculty members have been invited. Attendees will receive reunion booklets with information about their classmates and official class photos will be taken.

New on the schedule this year is an informal "Picnic for '80's Grads" scheduled for 11:30 a.m. till 2 p.m. at the Valcour Conference Center Boathouse. While the classes of 1980 and 1985 are the guests of honor, all graduates from that ten-year period are encouraged to attend.

Sports fans will enjoy a soccer game as the women's team takes on Union College at 2 p.m. and a rugby game versus St. Lawrence is scheduled for noon. Both events will take place at the Field House.

The Department of Nursing and the Center for Human Resources will each host open houses for their alumni Saturday afternoon.

The Warrens will host a cocktail reception at 6:30 p.m. Saturday evening, to be followed by the annual gala banquet and dinner dance. The banquet honors classes from years ending in 0 or 5, but all alumni are welcome.

Students will celebrate with a Banquet and Dance beginning at 8:30 p.m. at Memorial Hall on Saturday evening. Winners of the Scholastic Cup and the President's Cup will be announced during the evening.

The weekend's formal activities for alumni will conclude on Sunday with the annual Sports Hall of Fame induction ceremony and brunch. Thomas DeYoung '68 and Robert Merrill '55 will be the newest members of the Hall of Fame.

The men's soccer team will host St. Lawrence University at 1 p.m.

Senate Given Overview of 1990-91 Budget Reduction

The Faculty Senate held its first meeting of the 1990-91 academic year last week, with new Senate Chair Edward Miller presiding.

President Charles O. Warren presented an overview of budget reductions this year and explained how the college has responded to those reductions. To date, while 8.31 positions have been surrendered this year, no retrenchments have been made. A lengthy question and answer period followed, and Warren encouraged open, constructive dialogue among faculty, staff and administration during the months ahead.

The first item under new business, consideration of a temporary reduction in the length of the grading period from five to four working days after the last day of exams for the fall semester, was withdrawn after Vice President for Academic Affairs E. Thomas Moran said that no final examinations will be scheduled for Friday, December 21. Several examinations will be moved back to Saturday, December 15. That move provides the extra day originally requested.

The Senate approved, upon recommendation of the Standing Committee on Curricula and Programs, revisions designed to strengthen the 3/2 physics/engineering major, the physics major and the food and nutrition curriculum. The Senate also approved, upon recommendation of the same committee, an option in child care management for the major in child family services. The study option was developed in response to the increasing demand for qualified people to manage licensed, certified and registered child care programs.

The program will be the only known four-year program option in this area in the SUNY system.

===== Welcome Home Alumni! =====

Graduate Students Receive 'Underrepresented' Scholarships

Three graduate students have been selected to receive SUNY Underrepresented Minority Graduate Fellowships for the 1990-91 academic year. They are Lilli Mae Hill Thomas, Brigida Hernandez, and Willie Collins.

Wisconsin's Herbst Returns to Talk on Education Issues

Dr. Jurgen Herbst, professor of history and educational policy studies at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, will return to campus on October 15. Herbst was a major participant in the college's Symposium on the Future of Higher Education, held last April in conjunction with Centennial Year activities.

He will speak on "Universities in the 1990s" at 4:15 p.m. on October 15 in the Cardinal Lounge and will discuss "Reflections on the History of American Teacher Education" at 7 p.m. that same day in Yokum 206.

The author of numerous articles and books on the history of teacher education, Herbst's most recent publication, And Sadly Teach..., in which he argues that teacher education institutions in America have failed to fulfill their mission "to develop and expand the professional potentialities of teachers," has been called a "timely, angry and courageous" book.

Herbst's talks are sponsored by the history department and are free and open to the campus and community. For more information, contact Dr. Douglas Skopp, 564-5218.

Das, Iowa Operations Management Professor, Begins Visit October 15

Dr. Chandra Das, professor of operations management at the University of Northern Iowa, will be a Distinguished Visiting Lecturer on campus from October 15-29. Das will be hosted by the Department of Management and Marketing.

During his visit, Das will present several class lectures and two public lectures. He will address "The Role and Relevance of Just-in-Time in U.S. Manufacturing" at 4 p.m. on October 17, and at 5 p.m. on October 24, Das will lecture on "Implications of Just-in-Time System and its Implementation." Both lectures will be presented in Ballroom A of the Angell College Center.

Das is a recognized expert in just-in-time manufacturing, inventory planning and control, quality control and facility design.

A former professor of management science at the University of Saskatchewan, he has been a Visiting Scholar at the Universities of Alberta and Nairobi. His research work has been funded by the such agencies as the Natural Science and Engineering Research Council of Canada. Das has also done extensive consulting work.

Thomas is a candidate for a master's degree in applied psychology and expects to complete work for that degree in December. She holds undergraduate degrees from Mary Grove College in Michigan and the College of Great Falls, Montana, and has done extensive tutoring and volunteer work.

Thomas received the fellowship last year. She will assist the department and various college committees with minority recruitment.

Hernandez, also a second year fellow, is also a candidate for a master's degree in applied psychology. She is available to consult on minority recruitment and will work with her faculty advisor to develop research projects.

Hernandez received her B.A. in psychology from Rutgers University.

Collins, new this year to the program, is seeking the master's degree and certificate of advanced study in school counseling. He is residence hall director in Macomb Hall. Collins received his B.S. from the University of Wisconsin in Madison.

The SUNY Graduate Fellowships for Underrepresented African American, Hispanic American and Native American students are awarded to full-time graduate students of high intellectual and professional promise.

Maintenance of a high scholastic record is a requirement for continuation of the award.

Canada Day

Last week's Canada Day celebration included a visit from Canadian Consul General Anthony Eyton (seated, facing camera). In addition to delivering a public address, Eyton held a news conference during which he discussed economic and political affairs in Canada. He is seen here responding to a question from Mike Peterson (back to camera) of the Press Republican, as Dr. Richard Beach, director for the Center of the Study of Canada (standing, l.) and John McNeil, academic relations officer at the Canadian Consulate in New York City, listen.

Visiting Israeli Social Anthropologist to Give 2 Colloquia

Dr. Moshe Shokeid, professor in social anthropology at Tel Aviv University in Israel, will spend the next two weeks on campus under the Distinguished Visiting Professor program.

His presentations will include two Behavioral Science Colloquia ("Social Science and Political Activism," 12:15 p.m., October 16 and "Current Research," 12:15 p.m., October 23, both in Redcay 213A); an informal discussion with the Anthropology Club on being an Israeli anthropologist (6 p.m., October 18, Redcay 105) and two public lectures. The first, entitled "An Israeli Anthropologist's Reflections on the Intifada," will be presented at 4:15 p.m. on October 16 in the Cardinal Lounge, and the second, "Making it In the Promised Land: The History of a North African Immigrant Community in Israel," is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on October 23 in the Angell Center Blue Lounge.

Shokeid has written several books and numerous articles on topics ranging from family and religion to ethnicity and conflict. His best known books include The Dual Heritage: Immigrants from the Atlas Mountains in an Israeli Village (1971), Children of Circumstances: Israeli Emigrants in New York (1988) and, with Shlomo Deshen, The Predicament of Homecoming: Cultural and Social Life of North African Immigrants in Israel (1974) and Distant Relations: Ethnicity and Politics Among Arabs and North African Jews in Israel (1982).

Shokeid, who is currently serving as a Visiting Scholar with the Ph.D. program in anthropology at the CUNY Graduate Center, holds the Ph.D. from the University of Manchester in the United Kingdom.

1990 Parents' Fund Phonathon Begins

More than 25 undergraduates are taking part in the 1990 Parents' Fund phonathon campaign, which got underway Oct. 1 and continues through Oct. 17. Parents of SUNY Plattsburgh students are being asked to support a drive whose goal is to raise $30,000 by the end of the year and whose purpose is to fund creation of special seminar rooms throughout the campus, furnish academic center and department commons areas and purchase additional equipment of the Claude Clark Learning Center. A direct mail appeal to parents preceded the phonathon effort. Shari McCormick (standing, left background), a senior secondary education/English major from Chateaugay, is serving as student phonathon coordinator. Headquarters for the campaign is the sixth floor conference room in the Kehoe Building.

Dawson Elected President of 22,000-Member State EPL

Dr. James Dawson, professor of environmental science, has been elected president of the New York State Environmental Planning Lobby (EPL) by the 57-member EPL Board of Directors. EPL is the primary environmental lobbying group operating in the New York State Legislature and is supported by 22,000 individuals and more than a dozen member organizations.

Dawson has served on the EPL Board of Directors since 1976 and served as its Legislative Vice President from 1987 until he left the Board in 1989 to join the staff of the Governor's Commission on the Adirondacks in the 21st Century. He was re-elected to the Board in June.

Dawson is well-known in the Adirondack and Lake Champlain region for his environmental policy and research work and has authored or edited more than 40 environmental publications. He served on the Boards of Directors of the Adirondack Nature Conservancy, the Adirondack Land Trust, the Adirondack Council, the Lake Champlain Committee and the New York Parks and Conservation Association. He also serves on four NYS Department of Environmental Conservation advisory committees, on the Point au Roche State Park Advisory Committee and on a SUNY task force which is developing an agenda for cooperation between NYSDEC and SUNY.

Spotlight

Dr. Kenneth Adams, associate professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, is the author of "Summer Foraging Patterns and Diet Selection of Musk-rats Inhabiting a Fen Wasteland," which appears in the Canadian Journal of Zoology, vol. 68: 1163-1167, 1990 ...Dr. Prem Gandhi, who was named a SUNY Distinguished Service Professor last spring, recently received a letter of congratulations from the Rt. Hon. Joe Clark, Canadian Secretary of State for External Affairs. Clark wrote, "You deserve particular recognition and congratulations. However, it is of even greater importance to me and to those in this department who follow the careers of our Canadian studies experts abroad, that your citation should have mentioned the special expertise you have contributed to Canada/U.S. relations. I know from my own staff about the efforts which have been made by the excellent team of 'Canadianists' at SUNY Plattsburgh and, as a strong and dedicated member of that team, this title brings with it a special honour which we delight in seeing you awarded...I know the importance that is given to teaching at your institution, and your talents as a sensitive and inspirational teacher have served to give you a well deserved reputation among your Canadian studies peers"...Dr. Pirouz Shoar Ghaffari, assistant professor of communications, had several articles published this summer. His review essay of Dorman and Farhang's The U.S. Press and Iran: Foreign Policy and Journalism of Deferece appeared in CIRA Newsletter. His paper, "News of the Outside World in the Iranian Press," was accepted for publication in the Netherlands and will appear in Gazette: The International Journal for Mass Communication Studies, to be published in March, 1991. Shoar-Ghaffari co-authored a book chapter with

Dr. Patricia Higgins, professor of anthropology, entitled "Iranian Cultural Revolution as Seen Through the Elementary Textbooks," which will be published in The Lives of Children in the Middle East, edited by Dr. Elizabeth Fernea and forthcoming from the University of Texas Press in 1991. The two also co-authored an article entitled "Sex-Role Socialization in Iranian Textbooks" for The NWSA Journal (The National Women's Studies Association Journal), which will be published in January and served as co-editors of the Center for Iranian Research and Analysis Newsletter. Additionally, Shoar-Ghaffari, Dr. Jin Kim and Dr. Justin Gustainis, both associate professors of communications, published an article entitled "Agenda-Setting Functions of a Media Event: The Case of 'Amerika,'" in the September, 1990 edition of Political Communication and Persuasion ...Dr. Roy Malpass, professor of behavioral science, has recently had a book chapter published, and a paper accepted for publication. The chapter, titled "Enhancing eyewitness memory," appears in the volume Identifizierung von Tatverdächtigen: Psychologische Erkenntnisse, Probleme und Perspektiven, edited by G. Koehnken and S. Sporer. It is published in Gottingen (Germany) by C.J. Hogrefe. The article was translated into German for the volume. An English-language volume on a similar topic, with similar contents, is in the late stages of construction, edited by Koehnken, Sporer and Malpass. His article, entitled "An Excursion into Utilitarian Analysis", will appear in the journal Behavior Science Research...Dr. Naomi McCormick, professor of psychology, has published an article entitled "Treating Sexual Problems in Medical Patients," in The Journal of Sex Research. She has also co-authored articles with two former students. "Sex, Sex Role Identificaiton and College Students' Projective Drawings," co-authored with M.A. graduate Derak Aronoff, will appear in The Journal of Clinical Psychology and "Gender Differences in College Students' Anticipated Experiences With Sexual Jealousy," which she co-authored with Dena Solomon '90, appears in the 1990 edition of SIECCAN Journal ...Dr. Taher Zandi, associate professor of psychology, Dr. William Tooke, assistant professor of psychology and Carole Holmes MA, co-presented a day program on patients' social and cognitive behavior at the Annual Meeting of the American Psychological Association held this summer in Boston. Tooke, Lori Camire, a graduate student, and Francis Poore '90 presented a paper on "Sex Differences in the Use of Deceptive Intersexual Mating Strategies" at the Second Annual Meeting of the Human Behavior and Evolution Society held in California in August. Tooke recently reviewed Exercises in Psychological Testing by George Thornton and Eugene Oetting for Harper & Row.

'Black Poetry Day' Program Features Readings by Troupe

Noted author Quincy Troupe will read from his poetry on "Black Poetry Day" next Wednesday (Oct. 17). The program will take place at 7:30 p.m. in the Angell Center Centennial Room.

Troupe is the author of Skulls Along the River, Snake-Back Solos and Embryo. His visit to the college for Black Poetry Day is being sponsored by the Clinton-Essex-Franklin Library System and is made possible with support by the New York State Council on the Arts.

Co-sponsors include College Auxiliary Services, the college's Faculty of Arts and Science, its Minority Concerns program and the student organization AKEBA, the Black Heritage Committee at Plattsburgh Air Force Base, and Lloyd Archer, president of Quick Cast Ltd. in Plattsburgh. Refreshments will be served. The program is open to all.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11 — THURSDAY, OCTOBER 18

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, October 11

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Dr. Virginia Barker, Dean of Professional Studies, speaking on "Career Planning: Challenges and Choices." Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3 pm — English Department Colloquium featuring Dr. Thomas Morrissey speaking on "Gender and Power in the Science Fiction of Pamela Sargent." CV Hall Commons.

4 pm — "Study Elsewhere: Spain" Informational. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

4 pm — Educational Opportunity Program lecture. Angell Center Blue Room.

4:30 pm — The SUNY Plattsburgh Student Association is sponsoring a question and answer forum for the visiting Soviets who will be coming to Plattsburgh as part of the YMCA USA/USSR Youth Exchange. Open to the campus. Yokum CL 200.

4:30 pm — American Marketing Association is having a guest speaker. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — Walt Disney World recruiters. Open to the campus. Angell Center Centennial Room.

7 pm — Club International — weekly meeting. New members are always welcome. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 8.

7:30 pm — Distinguished Visiting Professor Program. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Friday, October 12

8:30 am — Second Annual Conference on HIV/AIDS. For Workshop registration call 564-2050. Angell Center Ballrooms.

2:30 - 4:30 pm — Faculty Orientation Session sponsored by the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Open to members only. Angell Center Conference Room.

7:30 pm — The Newman Center Fall 1990 "Alternative Film" Fest presents: "The Valley of Gwangi." Newman Center.

7:30 pm — Prism Concert: Music Department Showcase. Hawkins Hall, E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium.

8 pm — Friday Night Film series presents: "Good Morning Vietnam." Open to the campus. Yokum CL 200.

9 pm — Student Association Homecoming Fireworks Display. Memorial Hall Field.

Saturday, October 13

10 am — "Around The World At Plattsburgh State" — Annual Homecoming Parade. Parade starts at the Grand Union on Cornelia Street, proceeding down to Margaret Street and up to campus by way of Broad Street.

2 pm — Women's Soccer vs. Union. Field House.

8:30 pm - 12:30 am — Homecoming Weekend Semi-Formal. Tickets on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Open to the campus and visiting Alumni. Memorial Hall Gymnasium.

Sunday, October 14

1 pm — Men's Soccer vs. St. Lawrence University. Field House.

6:45 and 9:15 pm — ACB Film Committee presents 'Vital Signs.' Tickets: SA Members $.50, faculty/staff $1.00, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Hawkins Hall, E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium.

7 - 9 pm — R.A.P. Training: "Peer - Relating: Smart Choices." Open to members only. Angell Center Conference Room.

Monday, October 15

11 am — Information Session for the NYS Comptroller Exam. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:15 pm — "Universities in the 1990s," a lecture by Dr. Jurgen Herbst. Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — "Reflections on the History of American Teacher Education," a lecture by Dr. Jurgen Herbst. CL206.

7:30 pm — Campus Poets Series presents Pierre LeBlanc and Steven K. Mitchell. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

Tuesday, October 16

7 - 7:45 am — EAP Health Education Workshop: "Stress Management — Learning How To Relax." Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Plattsburgh
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

11:30 am — UUP Executive Board Meeting — Special Invitation to UUP Building/Departmental Representatives. Members welcome. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

12:15 pm—Behavioral Science Colloquy presents Moshe Shokeid, Distinguished Visiting Professor, "Social Science and Political Activism. Redcay 213A.

12:15 pm — Omicron Delta Kappa Meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

2:30 - 3:15 pm — EAP Health Education Workshop: "Stress Management - Learning How To Relax." Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:15 - 5:30 pm — Tuesday Reflections presents Moshe Shokeid, Distinguished Visiting Professor from Israel, speaking on "An Israeli Anthropologist's Reflection on the Intifada." Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — Volleyball vs. Middlebury. Field House.

8 pm — Foreign Film Series: "Babette's Feast." Yokum 208.

9 - 9:45 pm — EAP Health Education Workshop: "Stress Management — Learning How To Relax." Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom B.

Wednesday, October 17

4 pm — "Role and Relevance of Just-in-Time in U.S. Manufacturing" Dr. Chandra Das, Distinguished Visiting Professor Lecture. Angell Center Ballroom A.

7:30 pm — Black Poetry Day presents Quincy Troupe. Angell Center Centennial Room.

8 pm — "The Increased Difficulty of Concentration." Tickets: $50 SA Members, $4.00 faculty/staff, $5.00 general public, on sale at the Hartman Box Office. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts Building.

Thursday, October 18

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents: "Music By Women Composers" featuring Kathryn Stuart, pianist, Pamela Kurau, soprano, SUNY Geneseo and Yenoin Guibbory, violinist. Angell Center Cardinal lounge.

4:15 pm — Exchange Programs between SUNY Plattsburgh and Chester College Liverpool Institute, Lancashire Polytechnic and University of East Anglia. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm—"The Increased Difficulty of Concentration," sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Tickets: $50 SA Members, $4.00 faculty/staff, $5.00 general public, on sale at the Hartman Box Office. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts Building.

8 pm — Music by Women Composers Concert featuring Kathryn Stuart, piano, Yenoin Guibbory, violin and Pamela Kurau, soprano. Sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Hawkins Hall, E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium.

WEEKLY NOTES

The Burghy Residence Hall All-Star Games are scheduled from October 14 to October 21. Contact your Burghy Dorm Coordinator for more information.

The Office of Campus Life will be sponsoring a Bus To Montreal on Saturday, October 20th. The bus departs from the Angell Center at 10 am and departs Montreal at 8 pm (Note special times). Tickets: $9.00 round trip, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. For further information call 564-3824.

Non Credit CPR and Standard First Aid Classes

The Recreational Sports Program is offering a series of community CPR, Basic Life Support, Standard First Aid, and Recertification of current American Red Cross Card through a non credit program. See Mrs. Bardon 220 Memorial for further information, dates and times.

Current Position Vacancies

Faculty

Instructor/Asst. Prof. (choral/vocal teacher, Art, Music & Theatre). Deadline: 12/1/90.

Professional

Staff Associate (Director of the Small Business Development Center, Technical Assistance Center). Deadline: 10/15/90.

Staff Assistant P/T (nurse practitioner, Student Health Service). Deadline: ASAP.

Civil Service

Keyboard Specialist (Lifelong Learning). Deadline: 10/14/90

Research Foundation

Counselor (EDTAC) Deadline: 11/15/90

Keyboard Specialist P/T (Psychological Services). Deadline: 9/30/90

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action. For campus position vacancy information anytime, day or night, please call 564-JOBS. SUNY Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Parents' Weekend Program Features Varied New Events

This week's Parents' Weekend '90, which is scheduled for three weeks later than usual this year, will offer several new events to parents and students. Usually held in late September, the weekend was moved back this year to avoid conflicts with the Jewish holidays and the early celebration of Columbus Day.

Students whose parents have made reservations for the various events may pick up the final schedules and tickets at the registration table which will be located in the Angell Center lobby from 2-8 p.m. on Friday and from 9 a.m.- 4 p.m. on Saturday. Tickets are still available for most events at the Office of College Relations and Development.

The weekend begins on Friday evening with three planetarium shows, a lecture by former Drug Enforcement Administration Agent Mike Levine, and a presentation of Czech President Vaclav Havel's hilarious play "The Increased Difficulty of Concentration." Parents are also invited to join their students for dinner in the campus dining halls and to attend the African Fashion Show at Champlain Centre North, which features clothes designed by student Rodney Jones and modeled by members of AKEBA.

Early risers will enjoy some Early Bird Hospitality from 7:30 - 9 a.m. on Saturday, featuring pastry and coffee specials in the Centennial Room. Classes for Parents (but students are welcome, too!) will offer a presentation by Ed Engelbride on Greek life, a workshop on ice sculpture and hors d'oeuvres by Marriott, a seminar on the Mid-East Crisis by Drs. Adnan Abu-Ghazaleh and Pirouz Shoar-Ghaffari, and a seminar on the unification of Germany by Dr. Douglas Skopp. The first two presentations will be held at 9 a.m. and the second two will be offered at 10 a.m. All sessions will be held in the Angell Center.

(Continued on page 3)

Special Collections
Feinberg Lib., PSUC
Does Not Circulate

Weekly

Published by College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • October 17, 1990

Alumni Board Approves New Legislative Network Program

The Plattsburgh Alumni Association's Board of Directors has unanimously approved creation of an "Alumni Legislative Network" — a program designed in the long-run to match graduates of the college with each of the 211 persons serving in the New York State Legislature.

Grand Marshall

Homecoming Weekend '90 parade Grand Marshall Curtis E. Shipman waves to friendly faces in the crowd that lined the parade route on Saturday. Shipman, president of the Plattsburgh College Foundation, was chosen for the honor by the Student Association. More photos on the past weekend's festivities appear inside.

Approval came Sunday during the Association board's annual fall meeting on Homecoming Weekend (see related story). It has been endorsed by President Charles O. Warren, who described it as "an innovative approach to use the alumni resource effectively."

"Our alumni have always cooperated when called upon to serve as advocates of their alma mater and SUNY in contacts with their legislators and legislative leaders," commented President Warren. "This new program formalizes and expands upon that effort significantly. We may be the first institution in the University to attempt this type of legislative relations strategy on this scale."

The college's legislative relations agenda, explained Don Garrant, executive assistant to the president, who helped develop the network program, focuses on keeping elected officials informed about the college's purposes, progress and priorities and its position and concerns on legislative matters. Alumni "shareholders" are key players in the process, he said, and it is important to use them to maintain contact with their legislators year-round — not only when a crisis situation emerges.

The alumni legislative network will be implemented in three phases. The first, to be in place ideally by early spring, will match key alumni with legislative leaders, specifically the Assembly speaker, Senate and Assem-

(Continued on next page)

Welcome, Parents, to SUNY Plattsburgh!

1990-91 Enrollment Exceeds Goal by 109

Figures released last week indicate that overall enrollment for the 1990-91 academic year is well above enrollment goals and projections. Janet Edwards, assistant to the president for enrollment management, announced that 6,565 students have enrolled this year, 109 over the overall goal of 6,456.

"We're satisfied with these figures," Edwards said, "because many colleges had a great deal of difficulty meeting their enrollment goals."

Edwards went on to explain that, although the total is up, there are some plusses and minuses in the various categories of students. First, the number of undergraduates (5,655) is 38 fewer than projected. The difference, she said, is that the number of graduate students increased significantly. "We now have 910 graduate students," she said, "147 more than projected and an all-time high number." She attributed that increase, at least in part, to the addition of the master's degree program in teaching and to an increase in the number of part-time graduate students in general.

Also contributing to the lower number of undergraduates is a decrease of 125 returning students. That decrease, she said, is primarily due to the impact of the implementation last year of the college's tougher new academic policy, under which students with less than a 2.0 grade point average are dismissed.

Additionally, while the number of new undergraduates (1,608) is up 63 over projections, that is due to a significant increase in enrolled transfer students. "Our goal was 630 transfer students," Edwards said, "and we actually enrolled 714. On the other hand, we had hoped to enroll 915 first-time, full-time freshmen and 894 enrolled."

Edwards said that the college had another good year in terms of recruiting students from under-represented ethnic groups. While final figures for enrolled students are not yet available, in terms of deposits paid, 8.5% of the incoming freshmen and 3.4% of the new transfer students were either Black, Hispanic, Asian or Native American.

Alumni Legislative Network

(Continued from page 1)

bly majority leaders, deputy majority leaders, and Assembly and Senate minority leaders.

The second phase, said Garrant, will match alumni with legislators who serve on important committees — Senate and Assembly Higher Education, Senate Finance and Assembly Ways and Means, for example. The third will have an alumna/alumnus matched with every legislator in the Empire State.

Proposed duties of network participants will vary, depending upon the needs of the college, but they are expected to include regular written and telephone contact to express concerns or stands on issues, arranging meetings in their home districts between their legislators and campus officials, distributing selected publications from the college, and expressing appreciation for support when appropriate.

Alumni Association Adopts Budget; Approves Enlarged Membership

The Plattsburgh Alumni Association will operate with a budget of $80,400 during 1991. Approval of the budget was among several items acted upon by the Association's Board of Directors at the board's fall meeting on Sunday.

With a cost estimate of $15,000, next fall's Homecoming Weekend celebration heads the list of proposed expenditures for 1991. Other leading budget categories include publications ($12,000) to produce Plattsburgh TODAY, the association's quarterly tabloid newspaper, distributed also to the homes of record of SUNY Plattsburgh undergraduates, and other pieces, including reunion and Homecoming flyers; postage ($11,000); regional reunions and office operations ($7,500 each) and undergraduate services ($5,000).

The alumni board also okayed enlarging its membership, from 10 to 12 representatives, and it welcomed Laura Sadowski '82 of Rochester to fill the unexpired term of F. Ward Patton '64, who had resigned. Sadowski, a former Student Association president here, handles public relations services for Marine Midland Bank in Rochester, and she is president of the Association's Western New York Alumni Chapter.

In his report, Malcolm Lavery, executive director of the Alumni Association, discussed alumni club activity, the status of the Distinguished Visiting Alumni Program and plans to involve alumni in the college's admissions effort. The board was invited to critique Homecoming Weekend activities, and responded favorably to all programming — giving high marks, especially, to three events new this year: Friday evening's welcoming "after hours" club in the Angell Center Centennial Room; the Saturday morning coffee and conversation hour at the president's home; and that afternoon's picnic for graduates of classes in the 1980s, held at the Valcour Conference Center Boathouse.

Hamernik Wins Three-Year Research Grant from NIOSH

Dr. Roger Hamernik, director of the college's Auditory Research Laboratory, has won a $612,000 grant from the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health (NIOSH) for a three-year continuation of his research on noise in industrial workplaces. NIOSH has funded Hamernik's work for approximately 15 years.

Hamernik, who holds a joint appointment in the physics and the hearing and speech science departments, explained the work. "Many industrial noise environments are characterized by high levels of impact noise superimposed on a continuous background noise. These complex noise environments pose an unusually high risk of hearing loss to the individual who is repeatedly exposed. Our current research is aimed at developing a model which can be used to objectively estimate the hazards that such environments pose to hearing."

Hamernik is assisted in this project by Dr. William Ahroon and Dr. Sheau-Fang Lei, research scientists, and George Turrentine, senior histologist.

Hamernik joined the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty in 1976 after five years as a professor at the Callier Center for Communication Disorders at the University of Texas at Dallas. He earlier taught at Syracuse University.

Parents' Weekend

(Continued from page 1)

Antiquing buffs will tour several local antique shops from 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday. The nursing department will conduct a blood pressure screening clinic from 10 to noon in the Angell Center.

Saturday afternoon will feature an Art Museum tour conducted by Museum Director Edward Brohel (1:30 p.m., Myers Gallery) and a Chemistry Magic Show by Dr. Edward Miller (2:30 p.m., Hudson 106). Additionally, the women's basketball team will hold an open practice and scrimmage at 2 p.m., and the men's team will be featured at 3:30 p.m.

New members of Phi Eta Sigma will be inducted in a ceremony scheduled for 4 p.m. in the Centennial Room.

The President's Dinner, hosted by Dr. and Mrs. Charles Warren will be held in the Angell Center Ballroom at 7:30 p.m. Saturday evening and will feature a short performance by the Cardinal Singers. "The Increased Difficulty of Concentration" will offer a repeat performance at 8 p.m. The evening's entertainment will also include a piano bar, with music by Jean Morlock, in the Centennial Room from 9-11 p.m. and a 21 Club in the Point.

A Farewell Pancake Breakfast, will be held from 9:30-11 a.m. on Sunday morning in Algonquin Dining Hall.

where he earned his degrees, including his Ph.D. in mechanical engineering. His research efforts have been extensively published in scholarly journals and he is the co-editor of two books, Effects of Noise on Hearing and New Perspectives on Noise Induced Hearing Loss. A third volume is currently in press. In addition to his NIOSH grant, he holds two major grants from the U.S. Army Medical Research and Development Command.

Homecoming Highlights

ABOVE: SUNY Plattsburgh's 1950 graduates, shown here parading in relative comfort in a late model pickup truck, ranked high on the list of classes that demonstrated the liveliest spirit during the full range of Homecoming '90 events. Nearly 60 from that class were reunited last weekend. BELOW: President Charles Warren greets Mary and Bernard Broderick of Cocoa Beach, FL at Saturday morning coffee hour at the president's home. The coffee hour, new this year as a Homecoming activity, was highly successful. Mr. Broderick returned to campus for his Golden Anniversary reunion.

Soccer Team Improves Chances for Post-Season Play

With back-to-back 2-1 wins, the Plattsburgh State men's soccer team enhanced its chances for an invitation to post-season tournament play.

On Friday, in muddy conditions at Potsdam, the Cardinals rallied in the second half to tie Clarkson's Golden Knights, 1-1, on Brian Micheels' indirect kick, then scored the game-winner with two minutes remaining on Micheels' goal off a corner kick by Todd Stoller. Plattsburgh goalkeeper Chris Balducci held off heavy pressure by the Knights in the final going to preserve the victory.

On Homecoming Sunday, the Cardinals defeated St. Lawrence before the season's largest crowd. Again, it took a second-half comeback to earn the win, with Jamie Loomis and Marc Whitman doing the scoring. Plattsburgh is now 12-2-2 with three games remaining on its regular schedule.

The Cardinal women's soccer team gained a split in its two games last week. They lost on the road to St. Michael's, 1-0, on Wednesday but bounced back to whip Union, 3-0, Saturday in Homecoming action at the Field House. Forward Dana Ronca tallied twice to pace the Cards over Union.

The Plattsburgh volleyball team posted a 1-4 mark in the SUNYAC East tournament held last weekend at Potsdam. The Cardinals lost to Cortland, Binghamton, New Paltz and Oneonta before avoiding a tourney shutout with a win over Potsdam. The tournament standout for Plattsburgh was Melanie Torhan who recorded 44 kills, five aces, 23 points, and one assist.

The wraps on ice hockey come off this week with the annual "Red vs. White" scrimmage at 7 p.m. Thursday in Stafford Arena. The exhibition and preview of the 1990-91 hockey season is open to all free of charge. Similarly, the Cardinal basketball team will play its Red-White scrimmage on Saturday at 3:30 p.m. in Memorial Hall. That game, too, is free and open to the public.

(Editor's Note: It was reported late Monday that the Cardinal men's soccer team had moved up from ninth place to sixth in the latest rankings of New York State Division III collegiate soccer teams. About 35 schools in the state compete at the Division III level.)

Newest Inductees to Hall of Fame

L-R: Thomas De Young '68 of Newark and Robert Merrill '55 of Owego proudly display certificates proclaiming their induction to the SUNY Plattsburgh Sports Hall of Fame. De Young, a record-setting swimmer who is science coordinator for the Newark Central School system, and Merrill, an all-around performer in basketball and baseball who has been an elementary school principal in Owego for the past 27 years, were honored Sunday in a ceremony following brunch in the Angell Center Centennial Room. Both traced their career and public services successes to their educational training and experiences as undergraduates here. The Hall of Fame program is sponsored by the Cardinal Booster Club in cooperation with the Alumni Association.

Play by Czech President to Run for Eight Performances in Hartman

The Center for Art, Music and Theatre will present eight performances of "The Increased Difficulty of Concentration," a sophisticated and hilarious play written in 1968 by Vaclav Havel, who is now the president of Czechoslovakia, nightly at 8 p.m. from October 17-20 and 24-27 in the Hartman Theatre. Directed by Dr. Charles Kline, the play is described as "written to convey a message of truth to the oppressed theatregoers of a nation almost strangled by the weight of communism."

Cast members for the play include Greg Waagner, Marisa Fornataro, Tina Caron, Donna Lee Thompson, Naomi Leimsider, Chris Claussen, J.R. Lotito, Tom Ramie and Stan Sabin.

Grant Workshops Scheduled

Four grant development workshops will be held on campus during the next few weeks. Patricia Armstrong, former director of sponsored programs at the University of Vermont who is currently a private consultant in grant writing and development in Rochester, will train workshop participants in proposal writing, budget preparation, how to be successful and what reviewers look for in proposals.

The workshops are scheduled for 12-2 p.m. on October 22, Cardinal Lounge (humanities and arts faculty); 12-2 p.m. (Cardinal Lounge) and 3:30-5 p.m. (Amnesty Room) on November 2 (education faculty); 12-2 p.m. on November 13, Cardinal Lounge (physical, biological and social science faculty); and 4-6 p.m. on November 13, Clinton Dining Hall Conference Room (open to all disciplines).

this week on campus

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 11 — THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, October 18

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents: "Music By Women Composers" featuring Kathryn Stuart, pianist, Pamela Kurau, soprano, SUNY Geneseo and Yenoin Guibbory, violinist. Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with assistance from College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:15 pm — Exchange Programs between SUNY Plattsburgh and Chester College Liverpool Institute, Lancashire Polytechnic and University of East Anglia. Sponsored by the Department for International Education. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 - 5:30 pm — "The Mating Game" — A Workshop by Marilee Patnode, Science Specialist at SSP. Sponsored by the Renaissance Club. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

7 pm — Club International — weekly meeting. New members are always welcome. Open to campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 8.

8 pm — "The Increased Difficulty of Concentration," sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Open to the campus and community. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $4.00 faculty/staff, $5.00 general public, on sale at the Hartman Box Office. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts Building.

8 pm — Music by Women Composers Concert featuring Kathryn Stuart, piano, Yenoin Guibbory, violin and Pamela Kurau, soprano. Sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Hawkins Hall, E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium.

Friday, October 19

3 pm — Women's Soccer vs. Caselton State. SUNY Plattsburgh Field House.

4:15 pm — Resident Assistant Information Session, sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7:30 pm — The Newman Center Fall '90 "Alternate Film Fest" presents: Bette Davis in: "The Anniversary." Donations of money, non-perishables and clothing will be accepted. Newman Center.

8 pm — The Activities Coordination Board Speakers Forum presents Michael Levine, Former DEA Agent. Tickets: $3.00 general admission, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Sponsored by your SA Mandatory Fee. Hawkins Hall, Giltz Auditorium.

8 pm — "The Increased Difficulty of Concentration." (See 8 pm Thursday, October 18 for details.)

Saturday, October 20

10 am - 8 pm — Bus To Montreal, sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Tickets: $9.00 round trip, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Bus departs from the Angell Center, Rugar Street Pull-off.

2:30 pm — Women's Soccer vs. Albany. SUNY Plattsburgh Field House.

4 pm — Phi Eta Sigma Induction Ceremony and Reception. Members only. Angell Center Centennial Room.

8 pm — "The Increased Difficulty of Concentration." (See 8 pm Thursday, October 18 for details.)

Sunday, October 21

8 am — "Run For Your Life" — Fun Run, sponsored by the Junior Nursing Class. Pre-registration required at either the Angell Center Desk or the day of the race (7 am). Entry Fee: $6.00. Field House, running loop.

6:45 and 9:15 pm — ACB Film Committee presents "Dick Tracy," sponsored by the Student Association. Open to the campus. Tickets: SA Members $.50, faculty/staff $1.00, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Hawkins Hall, Giltz Auditorium.

Monday, October 22

12 Noon - 2 pm — Grant Development Workshops, sponsored by the Office of Sponsored Research. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4 pm — Child Abuse Education for Mandated Reporters, sponsored by the Center for Lifelong Learning/CAS. Registration Fee: $30.00, payable at the CAS Office, Clinton Hall. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Tuesday, October 23

7 - 7:45 am — EAP Health Education Workshop: "Ways To Manage Your Weight." Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. (Repeated at 2:30 and 9 pm.)

10 am - 4 pm — Walk-in Counseling and Fellowship (3 R's). Sponsored by the Baptist Campus Ministries. Angell Center, Meeting Room #2.

12:15 pm — Lunch With A Leader, sponsored by ODK. Open to members only. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

2:30 - 3:15 pm — EAP Health Education Workshop (repeat of 7 am program).

7 pm — Volleyball vs. Siena. Field House.

7:30 pm — Guest Speaker: Moshe Shokied, sponsored by the Anthropology Club. Angell Center Blue Room.

8 pm — Concert: Jazz Ensemble, Marshall Onofrio, Director, and Symphonic Band, Kenneth Ayood, Director. Sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Hawkins Hall, Giltz Auditorium.

9 - 9:45 pm — EAP Health Education Workshop. (repeat of 7 am program).

10 pm — WPLT General Staff Meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Wednesday, October 24

10 am - 3 pm — Wellness Fair, sponsored by the Student Health Center. For more information, contact Sally Stay, 564-2187. Angell Center Ballrooms.

5 pm — The Distinguished Visiting Professor Program presents Chandra Das speaking on: "Implications of Just-In Time System and its Implications," sponsored by the School of Business and Economics. Angell Center Ballroom A.

7 pm — "Business Women in Bilingual Montreal: The Struggle Between French and English Survival," sponsored by the PSUC French Club. Angell Center Centennial Room.

8 pm — "The Increased Difficulty of Concentration." (See 8 pm Thursday, October 18 for details.)

10 pm — Burghy Club General Meeting. Open to the campus. New members always welcome. Angell Center Conference Room.

Thursday, October 25

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Dr. Marjorie

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in this bulletin must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday the week prior to publication.

Pryse, Visiting Associate Professor for Curriculum Inclusion speaking on: "Collaborative Writing and Feminist Process." Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with support from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge/

4:30 pm — Guest Speaker — Mr. Keith Gailord, Marketing Manager and Recruiter for I.B.M. in Burlington will be speaking on: "The Interviewing Process for Marketing," sponsored by the American Marketing Association. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

WEEKLY NOTES

Non Credit CPR and Standard First Aid Classes

The Recreational Sports Program is offering a series of community CPR, Basic Life Support, Standard First Aid, and Recertification of current American Red Cross Card through a non credit program. See Mrs. Bardon 220 Memorial for further information, dates and times.

Intramural Entries for Floor Hockey, Women's Basketball and Men's and Women's Wallyball are Due October 24 and October 25 from 3-4:30 pm, Memorial Hall Room 219.

The Burghy Residence Hall All-Star Games are scheduled from October 14 to October 21. All dorm residents are urged to come out and participate in the events. Contact your Burghy Dorm Coordinator for more information.

The Office of Campus Life will be sponsoring a Bus To Montreal on Saturday, October 20th. The bus departs from the Angell Center at 10 am and departs Montreal at 8 pm (Note special times). Tickets: $9.00 round trip, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Open to the campus and community. For further information call 564-3824.

Current Position Vacancies

Faculty

Instructor/Asst. Prof. (choral/vocal teacher, Art, Music & Theatre). Deadline: 12/1/90.

Assistant Professor (English). Anticipated Vacancy.

Professional

Staff Assistant P/T (nurse practitioner, Student Health Service). Deadline: ASAP.

Civil Service

Clerk I (Bursar's Office; temporary). Deadline: 10/20/90

Research Foundation

Counselor (EDTAC) Deadline: 11/15/90

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action. For campus position vacancy information anytime, day or night, please call 564-JOBS. SUNY Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Weekly

Published by College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • October 24, 1990

Foundation Receives $206,900 Gift from Davern Estate

The Plattsburgh College Foundation has received a bequest of $206,921 from the estate of the late Jeremyn Davern, formerly of Chazy and New York City.

The Davern bequest is the largest ever acquired by the Foundation for unrestricted purposes, and it is the second substantial gift to the Foundation in the Davern name in less than two years. In May of 1989, two months before her death, Ms. Davern donated her

"The Davern gifts qualify as outstanding examples of altruism — how one can create a lasting legacy and enrich the lives of others while perpetuating a family name," commented Curtis E. Shipman, Foundation president. "Jeremyn Davern obviously had strong feelings about her family, the North Country and its people and SUNY Plattsburgh's educational, cultural and public service impact on the region."

College President Charles O. Warren termed the bequest "very important to our college's future." He noted that its unrestricted nature will allow the SUNY Plattsburgh administration, in consultation with the Foundation's Board of Directors, to meet the institution's most pressing needs while serving, also, to maintain the Davern collection and respond to the wishes of family and friends.

Both Shipman and Warren expressed gratitude to Plattsburgh lawyer Robert P. Wyly, attorney for the Davern estate. "We appreciate the sensitive, sustained and professional manner in which Mr. Wyly represented Ms. Davern, her wishes and the interests of our college," said Warren.

Jeremyn Davern was born on May 18, 1927 in Plattsburgh. Her father was Jeremiah Davern, a prominent Plattsburgh attorney for 55 years, and her mother was a member of the Beaucaire family of Chazy. She at-personal art collection to the college. It is valued at more than $182,000.

(Continued on next page)

SUNY Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren (l) and Plattsburgh lawyer Robert P. Wyly confer on provisions of the Jeremyn Davern estate. Wyly served as estate attorney.

Lake Champlain Clean-up Agreement Focus of Symposium

SUNY Plattsburgh will host a major environmental symposium focusing on "Lake Champlain - Legacy and Challenge" on Saturday, October 27. The day-long program, which will be held in the Angell Center Ballroom and is open to all, will begin at 9 a.m. with a welcome by President Charles O. Warren. A plenary session, entitled "Lake Champlain: Policy and Heritage" and moderated by Dr. Malcolm Fairweather, director of the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, will start at 9:15 a.m. Speakers include Art Cohn, director of the Lake Champlain Maritime Society; Langdon Marsh, executive deputy commissioner of the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation; and Lori Fisher, executive director of the Lake Champlain Committee.

A panel session entitled "Technical Challenges for Lake Champlain Waters" will begin at 11:10 a.m. Moderated by Dr. James Dawson, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, the panel will feature presentations by Dr. George LaBar, professor at the UVM School of Natural Resources, whose topic is Fisheries; Eric Smeltzer, environmental engineer in the Water Quality Division of the Vermont Agency of Natural Resources, who will speak on Water Quality; Marc Simoneau, water quality biologist with the Quebec Ministry of the Environment, who will discuss the Richelieu River and Missiquoi Bay; and Rose Paul, information and education chief in the Planning Division of the Vermont Agency of Natural Resources, who will talk about the Champlain/Adirondack Biosphere Reserve.

New York Secretary of State Gail Shaffer will be the guest speaker following the luncheon, which will be held in the Centennial Room at 12:30 p.m. In her current position, Shaffer administers the state's coastal man-

(Continued on next page)

Authority on German Education History to Lecture Thursday

Dr. Manfred Heinemann, professor of the history of education and social policy at the Universitaet Hannover, Germany, will discuss "Higher Education in the New Germany" next Thursday (Nov. 1) in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. Heinemann is currently serving as the liaison between the faculties of former Western and Eastern German universities in a national effort to bring them to a common standard of achievement and usefulness for a unified Germany.

He is an internationally renowned authority on the history of German education, especially in the post-World War II era. He is also a founding member and past president of the International Standing Conference on the History of Education.

Heinemann's presentation is sponsored by the college's history department. It is free and open to the public. Further information is available from Dr. Douglas Skopp, professor of History.

Davern Gift 'Important to College's Future'

(Continued from page 1)

tended Wellesley College and Katherine Gibbs School, worked for a time with Senator Kefauver's subcommittee investigating juvenile delinquency, then returned to Plattsburgh where she worked for a year as secretary to Dr. Charles Ward, then president of the college.

Davern moved to New York City where she worked for many years in fund-raising and public relations — for some of the city's leading hotels, for a time as Elsa Maxwell's appointment secretary, and later as a practititioner whose firm, Entree Unlimited, handled events and international visitors to the 1964 World's Fair. She eventually joined the Grand Central Art Gallery, where she was head of public relations activities and where she accumulated much of her extensive art collection. She retired in 1988 and resided part-time at the Davern home in Chazy. She died on July 16, 1989 in New York City.

Lake Champlain Symposium

(Continued from page 1)

agement program, the anti-poverty office, the office of fire prevention and control, the bureau of corporations, the office for local government services and the ombudsman program. A former Assemblywoman, Shaffer has also served as executive director of the New York State Rural Affairs Council and as a special assistant to the Commissioner of Environmental Conservation. Tickets for the luncheon are $5 each and reservations may be made through the President's Office until 4 p.m. on Thursday.

Symposium participants are invited to attend a 2 p.m. ceremony during which Vermont Governor Madeleine Kunin will receive an honorary doctor of humane letters degree from the State University of New York (see related story). A reception in honor of Governor Kunin will follow the ceremony.

Kunin to Receive Honorary Degree at Special Ceremony Saturday

Vermont Governor Madeleine Kunin will receive an honorary doctor of humane letters degree from the State University of New York during a special ceremony at 2 p.m. on Saturday, October 27 in the Angell Center Ballroom. The ceremony is open and faculty, staff and students are especially invited to attend.

Vermont Governor Madeleine Kunin, shown addressing SUNY Plattsburgh's Class of '89, will return to campus Saturday to receive the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters.

President Charles O. Warren will preside during the ceremony and College Council Vice Chair Wayne Byrne will offer welcoming remarks. The honorary degree will be formally conferred by SUNY Trustee Judith Lasher Duken and Kunin will address the assemblage. Jun Matsuo, a piano student, will perform several musical selections.

Madeleine Kunin was born in Switzerland and escaped Nazi persecution with her family in 1940, later becoming a naturalized U.S. citizen. She earned the B.A. in history from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst and two master's degrees, one from Columbia University and the second from the University of Vermont.

She worked as a journalist for The Burlington Free Press, and as an assistant producer at WCAX-TV before winning a seat in the Vermont House of Representatives in 1973. After six years in the Legislature, Kunin won the post of lieutenant governor. She was defeated in her first try for the governor's seat, but ran again in 1984 and this time became the first woman to win that post. She will retire this year after her third term.

As governor, Kunin has made child welfare, education and family economic issues her top priorities. She has also earned a national reputation as a tough environmentalist.

Waller Wins Fellowship to Continue Studies on Feuding

Dr. Altina Waller, professor of history, has won a fellowship from the Appalachian Studies Foundation at Berea College in Kentucky to support her continuing research into the politics and culture of feuding, 1870-1900.

Waller has been conducting research on this subject for many years and her work resulted, in 1988, with the publication of Feud: Hatfields, McCoys and Social Change in Appalachia. The book has won rave reviews from numerous sources, most recently from the British-based Journal of American Studies, in which reviewer Martin Crawford referred to the book as "an outstanding achievement" and "fascinating and important" and said it "deserves to be in every serious library." In The Journal of Social History, Barry Whittemore wrote, "Waller makes such scrupulous use of sources, builds such a logical argument and employs such judicious language that she deserves praise for the boldness and cogency of her argument...This monograph exemplifies the best in recent works in the fields of Appalachian history, community studies and rural history."

Waller's work has led to several upcoming invitations. She will be a Distinguished Guest Lecturer at

Queens' Barry to Give Two Lectures Here Next Week

Professor John W. Berry, of the Department of Psychology at Queens University in Ontario, will give two talks on campus next week. He will speak at 4:15 p.m. on October 29 in the Cardinal Lounge on the subject of "The costs and benefits of multiculturalism: A psychological analysis". A reception will follow the lecture. On October 30, Berry will lecture at 4:15 p.m. in the Centennial Room on "Cree conceptions of cognitive competence: What it means to be smart in an aboriginal society"

Berry is known throughout the world for his work on ethnic and race relations in plural societies, psychological adaptation to acculturation, and ecological and cultural factors in human development. He is the author/editor of 19 books, and more than 100 chapters and articles in professional journals. He is presently involved in a study of multicultural attitudes in Canada at the request of the Canadian Government.

His visit is sponsored by the Behavioral Science Program, the Center for the Study of Canada, Psi Chi (the Psychology Honorary Society) and the Department of Psychology.

Western Carolina University on November 5 and, on November 16 and 17, she will participate in the Kentucky Book Fair as a distinguished author and will lecture at the Kentucky Historical Society in Frankfort.

Waller, who holds a Ph.D. from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst, is also the author of Reverend Beecher and Mrs. Tilton: Sex and Class in Victorian America, which was nominated in 1982 for the Bancroft Prize. She has been a member of the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty since 1983.

Men's Soccer Team Moves to 3rd in State; Women Gain Tourney Bid

The men's soccer team advanced three rungs on the statewide Division III rankings ladder — from sixth to third — with victories at Geneseo and Brockport last week, while the Cardinal women, with two wins and a tie, earned their first bid to post-season play since 1985.

The Plattsburgh men nipped Geneseo 1-0 on Friday, then crushed Brockport by a 6-2 count the following afternoon. The Cards are now 14-2-2 on the season, with the 14 wins setting a new single season victory mark. On Monday, they moved into third place in the New York State Coaches' Poll behind Rochester Tech and Cortland State, and a win Thursday at Albany in the regular season finale will assure them a respectable seed in the forthcoming NCAA Division III national championship tournament.

The Cardinal women tied Potsdam 1-1 and defeated Castleton State and Albany, 2-1 and 4-0, respectively, to finish the regular season at 9-6-2. Their record earned them the last spot in the eight-team state tournament field, and they will play top-seeded Ithaca on Thursday at Ithaca.

The Plattsburgh State ice hockey team showed prolific scoring in tying NCAA Division I eastern power University of New Hampshire in a 7-7 shootout Saturday at Durham. The Cardinals led by three goals late in the third period, but a Wildcat tally with three seconds remaining in regulation evened the count, sending the game into a scoreless overtime period.

NYS/UUP Award Deadline: Nov. 15

All full and part-time faculty and staff are reminded that nominations for the current round of NYS/UUP Excellence Awards are due by November 15. The awards recognize excellence in both mastery of specialization and performance and outstanding service to the campus, and they carry a $3,000 cash prize.

Nominations should be forwarded to the NYS/UUP Excellence Committee in care of the Office of Sponsored Research and Programs, Kehoe 815. Additional information about the program may be obtained from committee members Dr. Ann Hasting, Vice President Thomas Moran, Patricia Perillo, Janet Saunders, Dr. Douglas Skopp and Dr. Eleanor Stoller.

Dobert, Kocsis Top Spring 90 All-Academic Team Roster

Track star Julie Dobert and backup hockey goaltender David Kocsis paced the Department of Physical Education, Athletics and Recreational Sports' (PEARS) women's and men's All-Academic Team for the spring semester of 1990.

Dobert, of Rensselaer, a May '90 magna cum laude graduate with a degree in professional accounting, compiled a 3.83 grade-point average (gpa) last spring. Kocsis, a junior psychology major from Glendora, Calif., achieved a 3.86 gpa.

Other men and women student-athletes who made the most recent ten-member All-Academic Team: Joanne Elsasser, sophomore, swimming, 3.8 gpa, business major, East Bethany; Kelly Kruezer, also a spring '90 graduate, swimming, 3.76 gpa, art major, Syracuse; Suzanne Kennedy, junior, track, 3.69 gpa, microbiology major, Huntington; Tiffany Bieck, sophomore, track, 3.63 gpa, speech and hearing handicapped major, Rochester; Patrick Prag, junior, swimming, 3.59 gpa, nursing major, Plattsburgh; Eric Rose, sophomore, track, 3.56 gpa, undeclared major, Buskirk; Curtis Thompson, junior, track, 3.556 gpa, psychology major, Plattsburgh; and John Kmack, junior, basketball, 3.5 gpa, business (management) major, Potsdam.

Several students made the PEARS All-Academic honorable mention team, which requires a minimum cumulative gpa of 3.0. The men's honorable mention roster (alphabetically) includes Martin Beliveau (ice hockey, 3.1), Sean Clear (track, 3.35), Sean Gantner (track, 3.35), William Gregory (track, 3.0), Stephen Kemp (swimming, 3.05), Steeve LeMay (ice hockey, 3.3), Robert Lucchesi (swimming, 3.45), Case Marshall (track, 3.35), Kenneth McKay (ice hockey, 3.3), Tim Mullin (basketball 3.2), David Sequin (track, 3.26), Les Sirota (ice hockey, 3.26), and Geoffrey Thorp (track, 3.28).

Honorable mention among women athletes was achieved by Rachel Davis (swimming, 3.36), Aimee Gomlak (basketball, 3.3), Alicia LaValley (basketball, 3.26), Billynda Kirschheffer (track, 3.08), Christine Moore (swimming 3.16), Tracey Poissant (basketball, 3.3), Melissa Sandstrom (swimming, 3.5), Kerri Sinnenberg (swimming, 3.4), and Alison Wise (swimming, 3.28).

Director of Athletics Peter Luguri reported that a record 33 percent of the students who participated in intercollegiate sports last spring compiled a gpa of 3.0 or higher, and that 11 percent earned averages of 3.5 or higher.

Support for Pepsi 'Cardinal Classics'

Representatives of the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company of Keeseeville, sponsor of the annual Cardinal Classic tournaments in basketball and ice hockey, met with college personnel recently to discuss planning for the events and to pass on their financial support for both. Above: Pepsi General Manager Roger Burke (second from right) presents check for $6,500 — $5,000 for the Cardinal Hockey Classic and $1,500 for the basketball tournament — to SUNY Plattsburgh Athletic Director Peter Luguri. Looking on are Cardinal basketball and hockey coaches Larry Cowan and Bob Emery (far left and second from the left, respectively) and Pepsi Food Service Manager Larry King. Besides the tournaments, Pepsi donated $1,000 to the College Foundation's general scholarship fund, making the firm the largest corporate contributor to the college's annual giving program. The Pepsi Classic in hockey is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, Nov. 2-3 at Stafford Arena, with Concordia College (Minn.), North Adams State and Mercyhurst College completing the field. Cowan's Cardinals will host Utica College, New England College and Practical Bible College during the basketball tournament, to be held in Memorial Hall on Friday and Saturday, Nov. 16-17.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 25 — THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1
Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, October 25

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Dr. Marjorie Pryse, Visiting Associate Professor for Curriculum Inclusion speaking on: "Collaborative Writing and Feminist Process". Sponsored by the Women's Studies Program with support from CAS. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge/

4:30 pm — Guest Speaker — Mr. Keith Gaylord, Marketing Manager and Recruiter for I.B.M. in Burlington will be speaking on: "The Interviewing Process for Marketing", sponsored by the American Marketing Association. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — Club International — Weekly meeting. New members always welcome. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

8 pm — College Theatre Production: "The Increased Difficulty of Concentration", sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Tickets: $1.00 SA Members, $4.00 faculty/staff, $5.00 Public, on sale at the Hartman Box Office. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

8 pm — Visual Artists Series presents Albert Paley, sculptor. Sponsored by the Art Resources Association. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Friday, October 26

4 pm — Advisement and reception, sponsored by the English Department. Open to Members only. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7:30 pm — The Newman Center Fall '90 "Alternate Film Fest" presents James Stewart in "Take Her, She's Mine". No charge — but donations of money, non-perishables and clothing will be accepted. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

8 pm — The Friday Night Film Series presents: "Raising Arizona", sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Open to the campus. Tickets: $50 students, faculty and staff. On sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

8 pm — College Theatre Production: "The Increased Difficulty of Concentration" (see Thursday, Oct. 25 for details).

Saturday, October 27

Lake Champlain Symposium, sponsored by the Office of the President. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballrooms.

11 am — Men's Cross Country vs. Keuka College. Field House.

12 Noon — Women's Cross Country NYSWCAA. Field House.

8 pm — College Theatre Production: "The Increased Difficulty of Concentration" (see Thursday, Oct. 25 for details).

9 pm — Halloween Dance, sponsored by El Pueblo, Latin American Club. Tickets: $2 students, $3 faculty/staff and public, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Sunday, October 28

6 pm — Psychology Course Selection, sponsored by the Department of Psychology. Open to Members only. Yokum CL 200.

6:45 and 9:15 pm — ACB Film Committee presents "Tales From The Darkside" sponsored by the Student Association. Open to the campus. Tickets: SA Members $.50, faculty/staff $1.00, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Hawkins Hall, E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium.

7 pm — R.A.P. Training, sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Open to Members . Angell Center Conference Room.

Monday, October 29

10:30 am - 2 pm — Alpha Phi Omega Dead Flower Sale to benefit Kim Calhoun Scholarship Fund. Angell Center Lobby.

4 pm — Pre-Registration Help Session, sponsored by the Transfer Student Club. Open to Members only. Angell Center Ballrooms.

8 pm — Weekly Meeting of the American Marketing Association. New members always welcome. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room #6.

8 pm — Club Canada Meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

Tuesday, October 30

7 - 7:45 am — EAP Health Education Workshop: SUNY Plattsburgh's Athletic Trainer Paula Acree will be speaking about Physical Fitness. Sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

10 am - 4 pm — Walk-in Counseling and Fellowship (3 R's). Sponsored by the Baptist Campus Ministries (Reverend James Bradley). Angell Center, Meeting Room #2.

10:30 am - 2 pm — Alpha Phi Omega Dead Flower Sale to benefit Kim Calhoun Scholarship Fund. Angell Center Lobby.

11:30 am — UUP Seminar — Cole Campbell on Aetna Opportunity Plus Tax Shelters, sponsored by Aetna. Open to the campus. Light lunch served. Angell Center Conference Room.

12:15 pm — Brown Bag Music Recital, sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

2:30 - 3:15 pm — EAP Health Education Workshop: "Physical Fitness and You." Open to the campus, no charge. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:15 pm — Tuesday Reflections presents: Dr. James C. Dawson, Center for Earth and Environmental Science, will be speaking on "Adirondack Forest Preserve". Sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

6 pm — Peer Recruitment Training Sessions, sponsored by the Admissions Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — "Scary Stories" — old-fashioned storytelling and spooky dramatizations of traditional Halloween stories. Sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre.

8 pm — Foreign Film Series presents: "Paris, Texas" - W. Wenders (German). Sponsored by the French Club and the History Club. Yokum CL 208.

9 - 9:45 pm — EAP Health Education Workshop: SUNY Plattsburgh's Athletic Trainer Paula Acree will be speaking about Physical Fitness. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Wednesday, October 31

5 pm — Halloween Party sponsored by the National Speech,

Language and Hearing Association. Tickets on sale at the door. Sibley Hall Cafetorium.

6 pm — Peer Recruitment Training Sessions, sponsored by the Admissions Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Thursday, November 1

6 pm — Peer Recruitment Training Sessions, sponsored by the Admissions Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — Job Search Seminar, sponsored by the International Business Club. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

WEEKLY NOTES

Non Credit CPR and Standard First Aid Classes

The Recreational Sports Program is offering a series of community CPR, Basic Life Support, Standard First Aid, and Recertification of current American Red Cross Card through a non credit program. See Mrs. Bardon 220 Memorial for further information, dates and times.

Intramural - 3rd Round of tournaments.

Entries for Men's Floor Hockey, Women's Basketball and Men's and Women's Wallyball are due October 24 and October 25 from 3-4:30 pm, Memorial Hall Room 219.

Rondelay, a duet of English musicians who specialize in Medieval and Early Modern songs and compositions, will perform on Wednesday (Oct. 31) at noon in the Winkel Sculpture Court. Open to all. Sponsored by the History Department and the Student Association.

Current Position Vacancies

Faculty

Instructor/Asst. Prof. (choral/vocal teacher, Art, Music & Theatre). Deadline: 12/1/90.

Assistant Professor (English). Anticipated Vacancy.

Asst./Assoc. Professor (public speaking, Communication Dept.) Fall '91 (Deadline: Open)

Professional

Staff Assistant P/T (nurse practitioner, Student Health Service). Deadline: ASAP.

Research Foundation

Counselor (EDTAC) Deadline: 11/15/90

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action. For campus position vacancy information anytime, day or night, please call 564-JOBS. SUNY Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Weekly

Special Collections
Feinberg Lib., PSUC
Does Not Circulate

Published by College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • October 31, 1990

Budget Here Would Increase by $1,006 Million

SUNY Trustees Ask 4.1% Hike for University's Campuses

The State University of New York, with a record enrollment of more than 400,000 students, has submitted an operating budget request for fiscal 1991-92 that would increase state funding by 4.1 percent at its state-operated campuses.

The budget request was approved last Thursday by the SUNY Board of Trustees. It seeks $1.54 billion for the 34 state-operated campuses, $306 million in state aid for the system's locally sponsored community colleges, and $332.4 million for capital construction.

SUNY Chancellor D. Bruce Johnstone called the budget request "responsible ... (one that) recognizes the financial difficulties facing the state." It represents a $60.4 million increase from the University's $1.48 billion in adjusted state appropriations for the current fiscal year, he said, and it attempts to preserve SUNY's existing support levels while recognizing the impact of inflation and contractual salary increases. More than 75 percent of the increase would cover the stress of inflation on the University's existing programs.

The request contains an increase of $1,006,000 for the Plattsburgh campus to a final budget figure of $29,317,000. Broken down, the increase would go for

- Annualized salary increases from 1990-91 — $785,500;
- Temporary service — $44,500 (plus 5 percent);
- Supplies and expenses — $19,200 (plus 1.4 percent);
- Utilities — $69,200 (plus 5.3 percent);
- Contract services — $44,300 (plus 4.5 percent);
- Equipment — $200 (plus 5 percent); and
- Library acquisitions — $43,400 (plus 8.4 percent).

Gadway Named to Receive Coveted NYS/CSEA Award

Diane Gadway has been selected to receive a 1990 Labor-Management Achievement Award.

The award, presented by the New York State/CSEA Labor-Management Committees recognizes "employees with demonstrated commitment to improving organizational productivity and the quality of work life for their fellow employees."

 Greg Reilly, director of the NYS/CSEA Labor-Management Committees wrote, in a letter informing Gadway of her award, "The number of nominations received (this year) and the quality of achievements made the selection process very difficult. Considering the competition, your selection is a major accomplishment and a tribute to your commitment to the cooperative process."

Gadway was nominated jointly by President Charles O. Warren and Elizabeth Lennon, president of the campus CSEA chapter. In the nomination, Warren wrote, "Diane Gadway is exemplary in her work..., serving as a model of effectiveness and dedication...(She) is impressive both personally and professionally (and) has helped make this college a better place." Lennon added, "In her own quiet, objective and diplomatic way, Diane has been a valuable asset in improving the working environment for classified professionals."

Gadway was hired 12 years ago as a building service aide and was promoted six years ago to cleaner. She is currently one of two employees responsible for Memorial Hall.

A member of CSEA since she was hired, Gadway was elected secretary of the local chapter five years ago and, as a result, became a member of the campus labor-management committee. Since that time, she has been involved in several campus-wide projects, including the smoking committee. The only smoking member, she was cited by Dr. J. Stallard Waterhouse, then the president of the campus UUP Chapter and chair of the committee, for her ability to combine an awareness of the need to improve air quality with the rights of individual smokers on the campus.

Additionally, she was instrumental in establishing a new procedure regarding work clothing allowances for qualified employees, and was also one of the prime movers to initiate the now-annual luncheon which recognizes faculty and staff for their long-term service to the college.

Gadway will officially receive the award during a ceremony on November 20 at the Empire State Plaza in Albany.

Ethnicity, Diversity Focus of

A week-long series of events, devoted to increasing understanding of ethnicity and diversity, will be held from November 4-10 on campus and will feature a combination of campus and visiting speakers and performers.

The week begins with a showing of "Glory" as the feature SA Sunday night movie.

A series of campus speakers will take place in the Amnesty Room daily from Monday to Friday at 12:15 p.m. Topics and speakers are as follows: Monday - student Seni Aklinaide, "A Personal View of Nigeria;" Tuesday - Professor of history Adnan Abu-Ghazaleh, "Middle Eastern Concerns;" Wednesday - film and workshop sponsored by the Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual Alliance; Thursday - student Humayun Kabeer, "The Culture of Pakistan;" and Friday - graduate student Pi Wen Yu, "The Chinese Culture."

Also during the week, Kunu Matima, a member of the African National Congress, who is originally from South Africa, but now lives in Clinton County, will lecture on "Apartheid in South Africa: Is it Dead?"(Monday, 7 p.m., Centennial Room) Dr. Lary Shaffer will show slides of his recent summer in the African Congo (Tuesday, 7 p.m., Cardinal Lounge), and Dr. William Culver will do a presentation on "A Look at Cultural Differences in Prison Populations" (Thursday, 7 p.m., Blue Lounge).

A concert on Friday evening will feature Libana, a women's folk chorus from Cambridge, MS, which dedicates its music to exploring women's traditions and lives among the world's many cultures. Tickets for the concert, scheduled for 8 p.m. in the Giltz Auditorium, are $1 for students and $3 for the general public.

Multicultural Week Events

Saturday, November 10, is Minority Concerns Day and several activities will be sponsored by AKEBA. Workshops on various multicultural issues will be conducted at 1:30 p.m.. Dr. Lanora Fulani, a developmental psychologist and director of the Social Therapy Clinic of the New Alliance Community Services in New York City, will be a guest speaker at 3:30 p.m., and the reggae band LUS will perform at 10 p.m. All of Saturday's events will be held in the Angell Center.

Middle States Group Settles on Format for Self-Study

The Middle States Review Steering Committee has been meeting on a weekly basis since the middle of September and has settled on the type of self-study the campus will do in preparation for the visit by the official re-accreditation team, as well as the sub-committees which will conduct the actual self-study and the time-table for completing the necessary tasks.

Committee Chair John Myers said the college will undertake a comprehensive self-study, which is defined as a process "in which every aspect of program, governing and supporting structures, resources and services, and educational outcomes is appraised in relation to an institution's self-defined mission and goals." Myers added that, in response to discussion of the college's mission statement, the committee has asked the Faculty Senate to look at that mission statement. The Senate has referred the task to the standing committee on Resources and Planning.

Myers also said that six sub-committees will conduct the self-study. Those subcommittees are: Mission, Goals and Resources; the Teaching/Learning Environment; Students and Student Life; the Faculty; Organization and Administration; and Instructional Resources. Myers said he expects that the chairs for the six committees will be in place by the end of the week. Membership of the committees was the topic of discussion for this morning's (Oct. 31) meeting of the Steering Committee.

Myers also explained the time-table for the self-study process. The sub-committees will be expected to complete their tasks and submit their written reports, with recommendations, to the Steering Committee by June 15. A preliminary draft of the report will be completed by October, 1991 and reviewed by the college community throughout November. The final self-study document, with recommendations, will be completed by January 15, 1992 and submitted to the accreditation team. The evaluation team is scheduled to pay its official visit to the campus in April, 1992.

Financial Boost

The Student Association and the Campus Arts Council last week joined forces to help the Kent DeLord House in a major fund-raising effort. The two student groups donated $250 each to help pay for major renovations to the historic home on Cumberland Avenue. Jeffrey Kelley (r.), director of the Kent DeLord Museum, accepted a check from Sara Gaffney, SA vice president for the arts. Gaffney commented, "The Kent DeLord House is one of the oldest historical sites in this area. It is used for many educational purposes and is a great benefit to all students in this area, including our own students at the college." Also on hand for the presentation were (l. to r.) SA Executive Vice President Mike Jette, Vice President for Finances Matt Malvese and Vice President for Student Services Sari Gordon.

Program Initiated to Honor Exceptional Student-Athlete

President Charles Warren has approved an Intercollegiate Athletic Board (IAB) recommendation to establish a new program honoring the "exceptional student-athlete."

According to Michael Walsh, associate director of admissions and IAB chairperson, the honor would consist of retiring uniform numbers for student-athletes in team sports or name notation for participants in individual sports. He emphasized that the distinction would not be granted indiscriminately, nor is it intended to compete with or overshadow the college's established Sports Hall of Fame program.

"Conferral of this recognition will happen rarely, and it will go only to a superior student-athlete," commented Walsh. "Besides extraordinary athletic ability, good citizenship and solid academic achievement will be important considerations. Those who survive the nomination process and gain the president's approval will have their last name, number or sport symbol and year of graduation recorded with an appropriate banner on the field or in the arena of his or her competition."

Nominations may be made by any member of the college community. The four-step nomination process includes written documentation of the student-athlete's athletic accomplishments by the nominator, a thorough review of the nominee's academic record here, examination by the full IAB, and, finally, presidential approval.

"This program differs from the Sports Hall of Fame in two fundamental ways," said Walsh. "First, where the Hall of Fame requires a balance of athletic achievement and substantial career and public service accomplishments, which can take years, the IAB honor can be accorded to the recent graduate.

"Second, inductions to the Hall of Fame occur annually. Number retirements or name notations will be few and infrequent. However," he added, "membership in the Hall of Fame doesn't preclude consideration for the IAB honor."

Nomination forms may be obtained from Walsh (ext. 2040) or from Peter Luguri, director of athletics (ext. 3140).

Lake Symposium Addresses Issues; Attracts Dignitaries

Last Saturday's Lake Champlain Symposium attracted environmentalists, governmental officials, scholars and students to hear various Vermont, New York and Canadian experts discuss the legacy and challenge of preserving the sixth largest fresh water lake in the United States. Above: —Dr. Malcolm Fairweather (at podium), one of the symposium organizers, chaired the plenary session, which featured remarks by (seated, l. to r.) Art Cohn, director of the Lake Champlain Maritime Society; Langdon Marsh, executive deputy commissioner of the NYS Department of Environmental Conservation; and Lori Fisher, executive director of the Lake Champlain Committee. Top-right — New York State Secretary of State Gail Shaffer discusses the state's commitment to environmental conservation, Lake Champlain in particular, at a symposium luncheon. Right — SUNY Trustee Judith Duken '59 congratulates Vermont Governor Madeleine Kunin, recipient of the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters from the University, while Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren prepares to hood the governor. Kunin, noted for her strong position on environmental legislation, capped the day's program with stirring acceptance remarks supporting natural resource conservation and preservation.

SPOTLIGHT

Dr. William Culver, professor of political science, co-presented, with Dr. Cornel Reinhart, a former faculty member now teaching at St. Lawrence University, a paper titled "Capitalist Dreams: Chile's Response to 19th Century World Copper Competition" to a graduate seminar and speakers series jointly sponsored by Comparative Studies in Society and History and the Horace H. Rackham School of Graduate Studies at the University of Michigan. The paper was published by that journal last October...Peter Ensel, instructor in the communications department, presented a seminar on satellite news gathering and served as a panelist on a forum titled "Ethics in Media" at the National Broadcasting Society's Eastern Regional Convention held October 12-14 at Syracuse University...Diane Fine, assistant professor of art, has had two prints selected for inclusion in the Third International Biennial Juried Print Exhibition in the Somerstown Gallery in Somers, NY...Dr. Jane Gore, professor in the Center for Human Resources, delivered a paper titled "Evaluation of School Age Child Care Staff Training" at the annual meeting of the American Evaluation Association, held in mid-October in Washington, D.C....Dr. Naomi McCormick, professor of psychology and treasurer-elect of the Society for the Scientific Study of Sex, received a special award in recognition of outstanding service and dedication, given by the Interstitial Cystitis Association. McCormick presented a workshop, "When Your Spouse has Interstitial Cystitis," recently at the national meeting of that association...Dr. James Olmsted, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science, is the author of Friends of the Grenville, a field book published for the annual meeting of the New York State Geological Survey...Don Osborn, professor of art, has had four works selected for exhibition in various national and international juried competitions. His works will appear in the F.R.R.I.C. International Exhibition at the Jeunesse Art Gallery in Montreal, the Hoyt National Show at the Hoyt Art Institute in Pennsylvania, the "New Directions 90" exhibit sponsored by the Dutchess County Art Association, and the 36th Annual National Juried Exhibition at the San Diego Art Institute...Dr. Ann Zielinski, professor of art history, was recently invited to present a paper, "The Acanthus and Other Foliate Designs in the Capitals of St. Martin-des-Champs and Related Churches in the Paris Region," at an international colloquium organized by the University of Paris I and the National Center of Scientific Research and held in Paris.

Soccer Team Finishes at 15-2-2; Hosts ECAC's Saturday

The Plattsburgh State men's soccer team completed its most successful regular season ever last Thursday with an impressive 2-0 victory over Albany. Captain Brian Micheels was the offensive standout, scoring the first goal and assisting on the other. The Cardinals finished their campaign at 15-2-2, with the victory tally the highest in Plattsburgh soccer history. They have been seeded first in the ECAC Upstate New York post-season tournament and will host the winner of a first-round match between Clarkson and Binghamton. That contest is scheduled for 1 p.m. on Saturday (Nov. 3) at the Field House. Admission to the game is $3 for adults and $1 for students.

The women's soccer team threw a scare into top-ranked Ithaca at Ithaca in Thursday's opening round of the New York State Championships before bowing, 2-1, in overtime. Two players — senior midfielder Dana Forschauer and sophomore fullback Kim Lucas — have been named to the 1990 All-SUNYAC Team.

The Cardinal hockey team earned a split on the road on the weekend, losing to SUNY rival Fredonia on Friday, 6-2, then rallying for a 6-3 triumph on Saturday at Canisius. The Pepsi Cardinal Classic is on tap this weekend, with Mercyhurst facing Concordia College at 4 p.m. on Friday and the Cardinals entertaining North Adams in the 8 p.m. feature contest. The tournament consolation and championship games are scheduled for 4 and 8 p.m., respectively, on Saturday.

In cross country, the Cardinal women finished 12th in the 17-team field at the New York State Women's Championships held on the Plattsburgh State course this past weekend. Meanwhile, the men harriers lost 30-28 to Keuka College on the same course.

Phi Eta Sigma Inducts 14 to Society

Fourteen students were inducted into the campus chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, the national honorary society for freshmen during a special ceremony held during Parents' Weekend. Membership in the honorary society is granted to students who earn a grade point average of 3.5 or higher during at least one of their freshman semesters.

New members of Phi Eta Sigma, their major and hometown are: Jacob Alabiso, business, Grand Island; Bernadette Baretsky, business management, Dannemora; Tiffany Ann Bieck, speech and hearing handicapped education, Rochester; Donna Bohon, history, Churubusco; Gerald Capria, art history, North Syracuse; Joanne Lee Elsasser, business management, East Bethany; Mary Beth Fenlaw, music, Plattsburgh; Jennifer Gifford, secondary education/French, Plattsburgh; Sara Hewit, home economics education, Plattsburgh; Greta Hoffmann, undeclared, Plattsburgh; Janine Elaine Matties, psychology, Rochester; Joseph Rebhan, biology, Kenmore; Elise Miller St. Pierre, history, Peru; and David Toulson, hotel/restaurant management, Vestal.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1 — THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, November 1

11 am — Dr. Manfred Heinemann, University of Hannover, Germany will be giving a public lecture entitled: "Higher Education in the New Germany," sponsored by the History Department. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

6 - 7 pm — Peer Recruitment Training Sessions, sponsored by the Admissions Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — Club International Weekly Meeting. New members are always welcome. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7 pm — International Business Club sponsors a Job Search Seminar. Open to the campus and community. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Friday, November 2

4:30 pm — Freshman Experience Program Reception and Dinner. Open to members only. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge and Centennial Room.

7:30 pm — The Newman Center Fall '90 "Alternative Film Fest" presents: "Dracula Has Risen From The Dead" and "Frankenstein must be destroyed," sponsored by the Newman Association. No charge, but donations of money, non-perishables and clothing will be accepted. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

8 pm — "Comedy Shop" at the Point Snack Bar. Two performers; four shows. Tickets: $3 for SA members and $5 for the general public, on sale at the Angell Center Desk.

8 pm — Friday Night Film Series presents "Play It Again Sam," sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and the Student Association. Open to the campus. Tickets: $.50 general admission, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

9 - 11:30 pm — "Irene Boire and Company" in Concert. Sponsored by the Newman Association. Tickets: $10.00 students, faculty and general public, at the door. Advance Sale Tickets: $6.00 and Group Rate Tickets: $6.00, on sale at the Newman Center and the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Quebec City Field Trip, sponsored by Club Canada. Trip runs from Friday, November 2 - Sunday, November 4. Tickets: $80.00 per person, on sale at the Center for the Study of Canada, 133 Court Street. For more information contact the Center for the Study of Canada.

4 and 8 pm — Men's Ice Hockey hosts the Pepsi Cardinal Classic with North Adams State, Concordia College and Mercyhurst. Tickets: $2.00 SA Members, $5.00 faculty, staff and general public, $3.00 students under 18, on sale at the Angell Center Desk and at the Field House door. Stafford Ice Arena.

Saturday, November 3

4 and 8 pm — Men's Ice Hockey hosts the Pepsi Cardinal Classic (consolation and championship games). Tickets: $2.00 SA Members, $5.00 faculty, staff and general public, $3.00 students under 18, on sale at the Angell Center Desk and at the Field House door. Stafford Ice Arena.

8 pm — Talent Show sponsored by the Sigma Pi Theta. Tickets: $2.00 students, $3.00 faculty, staff and public, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Blue Room.

8 pm — Circle K International sponsors a Fund Raiser Dance. Open to the campus. Tickets: $1.00 students and faculty or 1 can of food. Angell Center Ballrooms.

Sunday, November 4

6:45 and 9:15 pm — SA Film Committee presents: "Glory," sponsored by your SA Mandatory Fee. Open to the campus. Tickets: $.50 SA Members and $1.00 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Hawkins Hall, Giltz Auditorium.

7 - 9 pm — R.A.P. Training: Celebrating Alternative Life-styles", sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Open to members only, no charge. Angell Center Conference Room.

Monday, November 5

10 am — Recruitment for New York State Police, sponsored by the Career Life Planning and Placement Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Lobby.

12:15 pm — Multicultural Awareness Week presents Seni Aklilade, SUNY Plattsburgh student speaking on: "A Personal View of Nigeria." Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4 pm — Multicultural Awareness Week Opening Reception. Angell Center Centennial Room.

7 pm — Multicultural Awareness Week presents Kunu Matima, a member of the African National Congress speaking on "Apartheid in South Africa." Angell Center Centennial Room.

8 pm — Weekly Meeting of the American Marketing Association. New members are always welcome. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room #6.

Tuesday, November 6

7 - 7:45 am — Employee Assistance Program Health Education Program Workshop: "Back Strength and Fitness — Learning to Stand Straight on Your Own," sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

10 am - 4 pm — Walk-in counseling and fellowship (3 R's), sponsored by the Baptist Campus Ministries — Reverend James Bradley. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room #2.

12:15 pm — Multicultural Awareness Week presents Dr. Abu-Ghazaleh, History Department, speaking on "Middle Eastern Concerns." Angell Center Amnesty Room.

2:30 - 3:15 pm — Employee Assistance Program Health Education Program Workshop: "Back Strength and Fitness — Learning to Stand Straight on Your Own," sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program. Open to the campus, no charge. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:15 pm — Faculty Senate Meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Centennial Room.

7 pm — Multicultural Awareness Week presents Dr. Lawrence Shaffer, psychology department speaking on "A Summer in the Bush," a personal slide presentation of the African Congo. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Chamber Ensembles Concert, sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Open to the campus and community, no charge. Angell Center Ballrooms.

9 - 9:45 pm — Employee Assistance Program Health Education Program Workshop: "Back Strength and Fitness — Learning to Stand Straight on Your Own," sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Wednesday, November 7

10 am - 4 pm — Peace Corps Information Session, sponsored by the Career Life Planning and Placement Center. Angell Center Lobby.

12:15 pm — Multicultural Awareness Week sponsors a Film and Workshop presented by the SUNY Plattsburgh Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual Alliance (LGBA). Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:15 pm — "Perspectives on the Middle East Crisis," sponsored by the Asian Studies Faculty Committee. Angell Center Ballroom A.

7 pm — Ames Department Store Information Meeting, sponsored by the Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 - 8 pm — Film Presentation by the U.S. Peace Corps, sponsored by the Career Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Theatre Showcase, sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Hartman Theatre, Myers Fine Arts.

Thursday, November 8

10 am - 2 pm — CVPH Blood Drive, sponsored by Alpha Phi Gamma Sorority. Angell Center Ballroom A.

11 am — U.U.P. Meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom B.

12:15 pm — Multicultural Awareness Week presents Humayun Kabeer, SUNY Plattsburgh student speaking on "The Culture of Pakistan." Angell Center Amnesty Room.

3 pm — English Department Colloquium presents Dr. Alexis Levitin reading his translations of several short stories from Clarice Lispector's "Soulstorm." CV Hall Commons.

4:30 pm — Guest Speaker sponsored by the American Marketing Association. New Members always welcome. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — H.A.N.D.S. Auction featuring a variety of packages and items to be auctioned off. Angell Center Ballrooms.

7 pm — Multicultural Awareness Week presents Dr. William Culver, Department of Political Science speaking on "A Look at Cultural Differences in Prison Populations." Angell Center Blue Room.

8 pm — Reading by poet/fiction writer T. Alan Broughton, author of Winter Journey, The Horsemaster and Dreams Before Sleep. Open to all; refreshments served. CV Commons.

Weekly Notes

The Office of Campus Life is sponsoring a Bus To Montreal on Saturday, November 10th. The bus departs the Angell Center at 9 am, brings you to Dominion Square and departs Montreal at 6 pm. Open to the campus and community.

Quantity Foods dinner service continues on November 8 in the Sibley Hall Cafetorium with "American Service." Entrees include a choice of lasagna or stuffed pasta roll. Seating at 5:45 p.m. Call 564-2216 for more information from 1 to 3 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Current Position Vacancies

Faculty

Instructor/Asst. Prof. (choral/vocal teacher, Art, Music & Theatre). Deadline: 12/1/90.

Assistant Professor (English). Anticipated Vacancy.
Asst./Assoc. Professor (public speaking, Communication Dept.) Fall '91 (Deadline: Open)

Arts & Science, P/T Vita Bank (Anticipated positions; Deadline: 12/15/90)

Asst. Prof. (Sociology; anticipated vacancy) Fall '91 (Deadline: 1/15/91)

Professional

Staff Assistant P/T (nurse practitioner, Student Health Service). Deadline: ASAP.

Research Foundation

Counselor (EDTAC) Deadline: 11/15/90

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action.

SUNY Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Weekly

Published by College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • November 7, 1990

'Severe' State Budget Shortfall Creates New Dilemma

Faced with a revenue shortfall classified as "severe," the Governor's office late last week challenged all state agencies to develop budget reduction plans that will effect savings ranging from three to seven percent through the remainder of fiscal 1990-91, which ends on March 31.

For SUNY Plattsburgh, a one percent mandatory savings translates to $283,000. That amount is over and above $732,000 already returned to the state in the current budget year.

Under flexibility legislation, SUNY is exempt from specific expenditure restrictions issued by the state budget director. However, Chancellor D. Bruce Johnstone said that SUNY "will be responsible for meeting fully the expenditure and personnel ceiling reductions that are the objectives of the budget office's directive."

Effective Monday (Nov. 5), SUNY instituted the following:

- A statewide travel freeze;
- A statewide hiring freeze; and
- A freeze on both contract and equipment purchases.

Open Forum Scheduled

President Warren has scheduled an open forum on Thursday, Nov. 15 from noon to 1 p.m. to discuss the current budget crisis and how it relates to SUNY Plattsburgh. The forum will be held in Ballroom B of the Angell Center. The entire campus community is invited. Comments and questions will be welcome.

reductions in accordance with flexibility legislation.

All requests to travel will be subject to review and scrutinized "on the basis of their importance to the college and its mission" by the Executive Staff, with ultimate approval by authority of the president. Exempt from the travel restriction are admissions recruitment and supervision of interns and student teachers, and intercollegiate athletic contests that require the college to meet contractual agreements.

(Continued on back page)

Borie Wins $51,544 Grant from NYS Health Department

Deborah Borie, instructor in the Center for Teacher Education and Educational Services, is the project coordinator for a $51,544 grant from the New York State Department of Health.

While the grant is a renewal, this is the first year it will be under the sponsorship of SUNY Plattsburgh.

Borie explained the grant. "In 1987, New York State decided to participate in federal legislation designed to develop a comprehensive system of early intervention services for children under the age of three, who have, or are at risk of, developmental disabilities. The Department of Health became the lead agency and agreed that the planning should be done at the regional level. Our region consists of Clinton, Essex, Franklin, Hamilton, and St. Lawrence Counties."

"The primary emphasis of the project," she continued, "is to ensure that the services are family centered, and provided according to the needs identified by those families."

Data on needs have already been collected, Borie explained, and four goals have been set for this year. The group will: (1) continue to provide outreach to parents in the region through the development of a support network; (2) provide consultation to each of the five county governments as they develop the administrative policies and procedures necessary for implementation, (3) coordinate services between Vermont and New York State (such as complex medical services); and (4) assist the State University of New York system in looking at possible collaboration to develop interdisciplinary training programs for people working within the system.

The system is expected to be in place and operational by June 30, 1991.

Borie, an instructor in special education, has been the coordinator of the Region Seven Planning Group since May, 1989.

Cuomo Proclamation Spotlights Work of EAP Programs

Governor Mario Cuomo has designated November as "Employee Assistance Program Recognition Month" in the State of New York.

EAPs, the governor claims, are a "key component" of the state's alcohol and drug abuse prevention strategy and a "proven resource" in helping workers with problems receive treatment and continue on the job as normal, productive employees.

If Gov. Cuomo had a model program in mind when he framed the EAP proclamation, it very likely could have been the one in place on the SUNY Plattsburgh campus.

"EAP has made a major difference in the lives of many people here," says Helen Rock, program coordinator. "I have no doubt that it has saved lives. We know EAP intervention has helped several employees turn their lives around dramatically, including some whose jobs were on the line."

The program has been in existence at the college since 1982. Besides employees, its services are available to members of families of faculty and staff and to "significant others." Confidentiality is guarded scrupulously.

"EAP is essentially an assessment and referral service," says Rock, who is authorized to give up to eight hours weekly to the program from her position as senior stenographer in institutional records and research. "While the campaign for a drug-free workplace is highly visible and a priority state-wide, we are serving people who need professional help on problems ranging from financial predicaments to marital and family difficulties.

"We're also promoting wellness for employees through fitness programs such as those we've held recently on weight management and cholesterol control. Our program is viewed as a model. I receive calls for help and advice regularly from EAPs located all over the state."

Persons who wish to inquire about EAP services may contact Rock at 564-3277.

Talk by Michael Green Headlines Alcohol Awareness Week

The Office of Campus Life is sponsoring Alcohol Awareness Week, beginning Sunday, November 11.

Headlining the week's event will be Michael Green, President of Collegiate Consultants on Drugs and Alcohol. Green will speak on "The Four Phases of Alcohol" at 7:30 p.m. that evening in the Angell Center Ballroom B.

Green has an extensive background in drug and alcohol intervention, particularly with student-athletes. He has coached high school and collegiate football for several years and is currently a consultant to the student affairs and athletic staffs of numerous educational institutions. Four years ago, he founded his current company, which has been at the forefront in the development of college drug and alcohol programs since its inception. More than 200 colleges have used its services.

Green says, "We don't preach or moralize. Instead, we offer detailed, accurate information on the damage, both mental and physical, that drugs and alcohol can cause...We also train staff to spot an individual in trouble and to intervene in an appropriate manner."

Other scheduled events during the week (see This Week on Campus for details) include a presentation by City Police Patrolman Dave Favreau and "PC" the Robot Car, several workshops on drug and alcohol use and abuse, and "A Controlled Drinking Experiment."

All events are free and open to the campus.

Six Accept Institutional Self-Study Subcommittee Chairs

Six faculty and staff members have agreed to chair the six subcommittees which will conduct the institutional self-study in preparation for the upcoming reaccreditation process. Dr. John Myers, chair of the Middle States Steering Committee, announced the appointments, as follows:

- Mission, Goals and Resources - Dr. James Dawson, professor in the Center for Earth and Environmental Science;

- The Teaching/Learning Environment - Dr. Douglas Skopp, professor and chair of the history department;

- The Faculty - Dr. Carrie Harris, director of the Center of Human Resources;

- Students and Student Life - Elizabeth Pasti, acting director of the Center for Lifelong Learning;

- Organization and Administration - Ronald Hobson, assistant dean of the School of Business and Economics; and

- Instructional Resources - Joseph Swinyer, librarian.

"We are very pleased that these six people have agreed to serve," Myers said. "They were the overwhelming choices of the steering committee. Each is highly competent in his or her own field, each can contribute a different perspective of the campus at large and, collectively, they represent the entire campus community mosaic."

The subcommittees themselves are now being assembled. Each subcommittee will be comprised of ten to twelve members, including one student. Two members of the steering committee will also serve as ex officio members to each subcommittee. Additionally, five members of the College Council have volunteered to serve as ex officio members.

RAs, 102 Strong, Compile Overall Spring Term 3.23 gpa

SUNY Plattsburgh's residence hall staff compiled an overall semester grade-point average of 3.23 during the spring term of 1990. Moreover, the overall cumulative average among 102 students who serve as RAs was 3.06 last spring.

Comparative data show that last semester's overall gpa for residence staff is the second highest (behind 1989's 3.266) in spring terms in the past five years. A record 74 staff members achieved a gpa of higher than 3.0 last semester; 38 attained a 3.5 average or higher; and eight received perfect 4.0 grades. Twenty-four whose averages were 3.5 or higher were members of the Freshman Experience Program staff.

The eight who achieved 4.0 were Tim Ayravainen, who received the M.A. in hearing and speech science in May; Paul Berry, a graduate student in school counseling; Steve Frederick, who received the M.S. in counselor-student personnel in May; Carol Harrington, who received the B.A. in psychology in May; Mark Holoska, a senior accounting major; Peter Lauzon, a graduate student in school administration and supervision; Colleen Pope, who received the B.A. cum laude in communication arts last spring; and Cyndi Strever, who graduated in May with the M.S. in education (school counselor).

25 CSTEP Students from Potsdam Visit this Campus

Twenty-five students in the CSTEP Program in Potsdam visited the campus on Saturday as part of an 'early awareness program.'

Admissions Counselor Tim Penix, and coordinator of the day's activities, explained the program. "CSTEP is similar to the Upward Bound Program on our campus. These 25 students, who might not be geared to a college education were it not for this program, are in ninth to eleventh grade. The visit was intended to introduce them to college in general and to Plattsburgh in particular."

The students toured the nursing laboratories with Pauline Premore of the nursing department, visited the television studio with the PSTV crew, and heard a general presentation on the college.

Propose Creation of 'Institute for Healing of Racism' on Campus

An Institute for the Healing of Racism has been proposed for creation on campus, the result of a recent visit and lecture by Nat Rutstein.

Efforts to design and implement this institute are being led by Dr. Alis Headlam of Center for Teacher Education. She asks interested parties to contact her between 1-7 p.m., Monday through Thursday at 564-5145.

Resident assistants in Hood and Macomb Halls compiled the highest gpa's among the college's 12 residence halls at 3.51, followed by Kent and Wilson, both at 3.36. Macdonough hall's staff had the highest staff cumulative average at 3.25.

Presentations on Environmental Issues

Highlight Club Canada's 'Acid Rain Day'

Club Canada will sponsor an Acid Rain Day designed to promote awareness of acid rain and the environment, on November 9 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Videos from the National Film Board of Canada, which focus on acid rain, will run all day. Information booths will provide information about acid rain and other environmental concerns, acid rain posters, and "Stop Acid Rain" pins.

Several brief presentations on specific environmental issues have also been scheduled, all in the Cardinal Lounge. Those presentations are as follows: 11 a.m. - Dr. Fritz Kissner, professor of physics, "Global Warming"; 1 p.m. - Christine O'Reilly, "Vegetarianism as it Affects the Environment"; 2 p.m. - Jason Haemel, "Sound Environmental Practices for Students"; and 3 p.m. - Ronald Edwin Keegan, Peru Central School teacher, "This Thing Called Acid Rain."

The various scheduled events are open to the campus and community.

Theatre Association Schedules 1st in Guest Artist Series Performances

The College Theatre Association's first presentation of its Guest Artist Series will be a performance of Brotherly Love and Vortex by Paul Rajekas and Neil Intraub's Movement Theatre.

The performance will be given at 8 p.m. on November 12 in the Hartman Theatre. Admission is $1 for SA students, $4 for faculty and staff, and $5 for the general public.

Movement Theatre's performances have been described as follows, "Rajekas and Intraub piece together finely-tuned movement with dialogue, soundtracks and music to explore themes of power and control."

Brotherly Love is described as "a darkly humorous piece (which) explores the constraints of interdependence, the yearning for independence, and an acceptable balance between the two," while Vortex "illuminates the absurd and surreal aspects of our existence."

Council to Meet on November 13

The next regular meeting of the College Council will be held at 3:30 p.m. on Tuesday, November 13 in the Sixth Floor Boardroom of the Kehoe Administration Building.

Agenda items include an update on the parking fee and a review of the Hawkins Hall renovation project.

Planning Begins for 'Showcase '91'; Program Ideas Sought

Planning is underway for "Showcase '91," and the call is out for commitments to participate and for initial submissions of program concepts for the annual, day-long celebration of the scholarly and creative achievements of students, faculty and staff.

The third edition of Showcase, scheduled for April 12, is being co-chaired by Dr. Edward Miller, associate professor of chemistry, and Anna Nardelli, associate professor of education. Miller has been coordinator of the event since its inception; Nardelli will assume that role a year from now.

Nardelli said that, while final plans for projects aren't due until early in the spring semester, a college-wide Showcase committee (listed below) needs commitments and preliminary program ideas by November 16. "We're seeking information now to give us a feel for the range and scope of activities," she said. "To continue the Showcase success story, we are striving to involve more people representing more disciplines. Everyone on campus is invited to be part of the celebration."

The timetable, Nardelli said, calls for papers on Showcase projects due the first day of spring term classes. The deadline for project abstracts is March 1, two weeks before the abstract publication is due in the college's Printing/Duplicating Center.

Showcase events typically consist of presentations, poster displays, exhibits, and informal and formal performances. The program is totally dependent upon volunteer participation, with classes cancelled to allow for maximum involvement of the campus community. Nearly 100 separate activities were offered during the initial Showcase, and more than 120 comprised last spring's program.

Project information should be submitted to Showcase liaisons. Those persons and their program areas are: James Armstrong (anthropology/behavioral science); Francis Barber (physical plant) Anna Botticelli (English/history/philosophy); Bette Brohel (adult student services); Lillian Cassidy (Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs); Kate Chilton (conference organization); Dennis Doyle (college relations & development); J. Scott Hewit (teacher education/North Country Teacher Resource Center); Scott Johnson (campus life); Mark Kaiser (business); Jeanne Kissner (Canadian studies); William Laundry (campus life); Richard Mikkelsen (art, music & theatre); Henry Morlock (psychology); Kevin Mundy (media services); Michael Oliver (human resources/nursing); Eldridge Roark (student affairs); Roger Sandwick (sciences); William Sherman (student association); and Roberta Wacker-Mundy (speech & hearing).

Budget Dilemma (Continued from front page)

Other items labelled "freeze" will remain in effect at least through December 21 — the date of the SUNY Board of Trustees' final meeting of the calendar year. Some may be waived by the president, but, again, the "critical importance" factor will apply.

President Charles Warren and the college's Executive Staff must submit a reduction plan prior to the Trustees' meeting on November 15. Some components of the institution's response will include:

- Return of $400,000 in non-allocated funds accrued by keeping position vacancies open;
- Encumbrance of about $175,000 marked for purchase of academic equipment; and
- A further reduction of the overtime payroll, which is expected to realize a savings of $60,000; Items under consideration include:

- A cutback in the number of spring semester course offerings;
- A reduction in the payroll for temporary service (part-time employees and students);

Several additional savings measures are under consideration locally. For example, mail pickup and delivery may occur once daily, instead of twice. Faculty and staff may be asked to eliminate or reduce off-campus mailings, to keep telephone toll calls brief and at a minimum, and to make a concerted effort to cut back on printing, duplicating and Xerox material (or, if the printed piece is necessary, to use both sides of sheets of paper). Temperatures in campus buildings may be lowered over the Thanksgiving holiday, and all income-fund-reimbursable accounts may be reviewed for available balances.

Team to Host ECAC Finals

the ECAC tournament. Jamie Loomis scored two goals and dominated the offensive attack. Goalkeeper Chris Balducci came up big in net for the Cards with six tough saves.

The win advances the top-seeded Cards to the ECAC championship game, which will be played at the Field House at noon on Sunday, November 11 against Alfred University. There will be no admission charge.

Cards Win Pepsi Title; Soccer

The Cardinal skaters fought an uphill battle this weekend, but ended up the victors as they won the 1990 Cardinal Classic. On Friday, the Cards took on a much-improved North Adams team and pulled out a 7-5 victory. In the championship match, the Cards met Mercyhurst, who had defeated Concordia in the first round.

The men's soccer team upped their record to 16-2-2 by beating Clarkson University 3-1 in the semi-finals of

Weekly

Published by College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • November 14, 1990

Business School Using Novel Approach to Writing Mandate

The School of Business and Economics is dealing with the writing-across-the-curriculum requirement in an innovative way, according to assistant dean Ron Hobson. Hobson explained that the only course required of all undergraduates enrolled in that school is Business Policies (MGM 490), an upper level course. Rather than add a new course, the school decided to use it as the vehicle through which students comply with the academic policy that all undergraduates must pass an upper level course in their major which has a significant writing component.

Since last January, English instructor Pat Hoffmann has been working with the professors who teach the business policies course. "It's a very flexible program," Hoffmann said, "and various faculty members deal with it differently. In some classes, I give and correct the assignments, while the business faculty member lectures. In others, the professor gives the assignments and grades them for content, while I grade for grammar, organization, sentence structure and other aspects of writing. Still other professors do it all themselves."

Because of the large number of students taking the course each semester, Hoffmann divides the students, based on an initial assignment, into three groups: those who need very little help or none at all; those who need some help, but who generally write well; and those who need more intensive assistance. This, she says, allows her to personalize instruction until a student's writing meets appropriate standards.

"It seems to be working well for both students and faculty," Hoffmann said, "and we're hoping to expand this program to other courses."

Hoffmann is collecting extensive data on student writing and is keeping copies of the first and last paper that each student submits. She is hoping to add to those files the original English placement papers that all incoming freshmen write. These various papers, she

(Continued on next page)

Students Create Sculpture Court to Exhibit Their Work

Students under the guidance of professor Don Osborn have created a unique sculpture court, on the west side of the Myers Fine Arts Building, devoted to exhibiting students' work.

(l to r.) Facilities Director Derek Allan, who chairs the Campus Beautification Committee, admires one of the student sculptures in the new outdoor sculpture court with Museum Director Edward Brohel, Professor Don Osborn and senior art major Andrew Ludke.

The plan for the space and the labor creating the cement sculpture stands and pads was provided by senior art major Andrew Ludke. Working with Osborn, Ludke devised a varied and interesting space on the grass plot beneath the podium.

Museum Director Edward Brohel commented, "This space and the sculpture within it has provided visual interest and excitement to the ordinarily dull walk/driveway between the Myers Building and Yokum Hall."

The project was endorsed by the Campus Beautification Committee and supported as part of the Art Museum's summer sculpture project by the Student Association. The space will permit the exhibition of five or six sculptures created by art students. These pieces will change periodically, giving a new look to the area and many opportunities for art students to show their works.

Presently, works by John Kokoshka, Gerald Stoner and Ludke are located in the court. All sculptures were produced in art department classes.

Forum Scheduled Thursday

President Charles O. Warren has scheduled an Open Forum on matters pertaining to the current budget crisis for 12 noon tomorrow (Thursday, Nov. 15) in Ballroom B of the Angell Center. All members of the college community are encouraged to attend.

—Have a Happy and Safe Thanksgiving Holiday!—

ODK Inductees Include Alumna Bush, Former V.P. Flynt

The SUNY Plattsburgh Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa (ODK), the national leadership honor society, will induct 41 to membership in a ceremony scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 8 in the Newman Center.

The newest group includes 37 undergraduates, two members of the faculty, an alumna and a former member of the administration who will be admitted to ODK Honoris Causa. The student inductees — 20 seniors and 17 juniors — have an aggregate grade-point average of 3.41.

Dr. Hsiung-Zung Liu, dean of the Faculty of Professional Studies and professor of biology, and Dr. Edward Miller, associate professor of chemistry, are the faculty inductees. The alumna to be admitted is Dr. Marie A. Bush '65, and the Honoris Causa inductee is Willard C. Flynt, vice president for student affairs emeritus.

Dr. Bush, who received her degree in elementary education from Plattsburgh, holds the Ed. D. from SUNY Albany. She serves currently as assistant vice chancellor for student affairs for SUNY Central Administration.

Flynt retired in 1975 after 20 years of service to SUNY Plattsburgh, including terms as director of admissions and dean of students. He remains a Plattsburgh resident and currently serves as a special assistant to New York State Senator Ronald B. Stafford.

The student inductees, their majors and hometowns are: Arden M. Acquilano, senior, special education, Malone; Michael R. Calus, junior, engineering, Rochester; Noell Carey, junior, psychology, Highland Mills; Ruth Comley, junior, computer science, Wappingers Falls; Roger W. Fedele, senior, secondary education/biology, South Glens Falls; Mary E. Fleming, senior, elementary education, Granville; Robert D. Hanley, senior communications arts, Albany; Kerry Hodgens, senior, speech and hearing science, Middletown;

Corinne J. Humanick, junior, mass communication, Centereach; and Shawn Hunziker, junior, psychology, Troy;

Also, Heather L. Jefson, junior, environmental science, Monroe; Lance J. Johnson, junior, marketing, Chateaugay; Suzanne Kennedy, junior, microbiology, Huntington; Kathryn D. Kiaunis, senior, secondary education/English/Theatre, Amsterdam; John M. Knack, junior, business management, Potsdam; David Kocsis, junior, psychology, San Dimas, Calif.; Dawn Kortright, junior, accounting, Syracuse; Peter W. Langenstein, junior, French/international policy studies, South Salem; Kristen D. Layton, senior, elementary education, East Islip; and Sharon R. Litwak, senior, speech and hearing science, Wappingers Falls.

Also, Brenda A. Madden, junior, mass communication, Yonkers; Shari A. McCormick, junior, secondary education/English, Chateaugay; Nicole A. Menikheim, senior, human services, Manlius; Lillian Michalko, senior psychology, Hamburg; Brian K. Micheels, senior, communication arts, Middletown; Sharon Marie Peck, junior, elementary education, Utica; Jane Rapa, junior, mass communication, New Windsor; and Julianne M. Roemer, senior, elementary education, Utica.

Also, Susan M. Schuhl, senior, elementary education, Ballston Lake; Kathleen M. Simmons, senior, marketing Chatham; Christopher H. Steinhardt, senior, accounting, Basking Ridge, N.J.; Susan M. Thomas, senior, theatre, Binghamton; Curtis A. Thompson, junior, psychology, Plattsburgh; Gina Vecchiarello, senior, special education, Pelham; Thomas W. Williams, senior international business/accounting, Stanfordville; Michele Wright, senior, psychology, Little Falls; and Stephanie Zuarro, junior, home economics education, New York City.

Writing Requirement

(Continued from page 1) says, will be studied and the information incorporated with other data being collected through the college's assessment program.

Correction

The date for Showcase '91 is Wednesday, April 10, not as indicated in last week's Weekly.

Reminder

Initial submissions of project ideas for Showcase '91 are due now. Contact your departmental/office liaison today (liaisons are listed in last week's Weekly).

Weekly Taking a Week Off

Because of the Thanksgiving holiday, Weekly will not be published next week. Publication will resume on Wednesday, November 28. The deadline for items for that issue is 12 noon on Monday, November 26, and they should be sent to Room 808 in the Kehoe Building.

Co-op 'Site Boom' Leads to Surplus Placement Openings

Thanks to an aggressive search and a strong sales pitch to private employers and public agencies, the college's Cooperative Education Program (co-op) has a surplus of position openings for students.

"We've picked up 163 new co-op work sites over the past ten months," says Steve Frederick, job development specialist in the college's Office of Career/Life

Job development specialists Steve Frederick (l) and Joe Bornstein.

Planning Center. "Now we need students to fill them."

Frederick, who received the M.S. in counselor-personnel from the college last May, teams with Joe Bornstein, who holds a similar title, in seeking co-op place-

Senate Approves 4 Resolutions, Hears Report on Budget Situation

The Faculty Senate approved four resolutions during its regular meeting held last Tuesday, according to chairperson Edward Miller.

The first resolution, Miller said, allows departments to require participation of undergraduates in assessment programs. This is a natural outgrowth of the college's work in the assessment over the past few years, he said. Each department, however, will have to go through the normal approval procedures, which include review by departments, the division, the vice president for academic affairs, the Faculty Senate and the president.

The second resolution approved the addition of an assessment examination to the psychology department's curriculum.

The third resolution allows the participation by non-education faculty as members of advisory committees for students enrolled in the secondary education/MST program.

Finally, the Senate approved a clarification on the issue of grades earned for courses completed at other institutions while students are enrolled at SUNY Plattsburgh. Effective, summer, 1991, students must achieve a grade of C or better in each course taken.

In addition to these reports, Miller said, senior business officer John Homburger reported on the current status of budget problems.

ments for students. He credits Bornstein's salesmanship for the upsurge in placement opportunities.

"Employers understand and appreciate the program and how they and students benefit mutually," continues Frederick. "Our job is to get the message out to students and to the faculty who advise them."

During the fall, spring and summer of 1989-90, 243 SUNY Plattsburgh students — 131 women and 112 men — were placed in co-op situations with 150 participating employers. The students represented 43 separate major fields of study, with the highest number in the "undeclared" category. Collectively, they earned more than one-half million dollars. Employer satisfaction with the program and the performance of SUNY Plattsburgh students is reflected in report showing that more than 80 percent who were placed last year were offered full-time positions before their co-ops ended.

"We are guided by the principle that academics come first," says Frederick, who explains that the program operates under a grant from the U.S. Department of Education. "But earnings differentiate co-ops from internships. Similar to internships, we place students in work settings related to their programs of study, and, similar to internships, co-op participants can earn degree credits while they are in the field. Many students don't need the credit, but they understand the value of degree-related work experiences and appreciate getting paid for them. However, more than half of this past year's co-op students did receive credit for the experience."

Co-ops are offered locally, regionally, nationally and even internationally. State and federal government agencies ranging from the FBI and the State Department to the New York Parks and Recreation Department and the Clinton County Legislature hire SUNY Plattsburgh students. Some of the more popular employers include Walt Disney World, Georgia Pacific, IBM, Wyeth-Ayerst Labs, Uniroyal Chemical, Champlain Centres, J.C. Penney and Ponderosa Restaurant.

Frederick and Bornstein help students throughout the co-op experience. They offer counsel on careers, help students write resumes, provide research on companies that offer co-op placements, and follow-up on co-op experiences.

"It is clear that many students and faculty don't know as much as they should about co-ops and how they can complement the academic mission of the college," says Frederick. "Joe Bornstein has done such a tremendous job in building the placement list, we must concentrate our efforts now on building student and faculty cooperation and support."

Students and faculty will find Frederick and Bornstein in the Career/Life Planning Center suite of offices on the sixth floor of the Kehoe Building. Their telephone number is 564-2071.

Card Soccer Team Snowed-out vs. Alfred; Shares Crown

Denied the opportunity to compete for national honors, the men's soccer team must now share the top spot in the East with Alfred University.

The 16-2-2 Cardinals, snubbed by the NCAA for a bid

Coach-of-the-Year Waterbury

to its post-season tournament, had a chance to prove regional supremacy as host to Alfred in the ECAC title match, scheduled for Sunday at the Field House. However, the game was cancelled because of the fall's first snowstorm, and subsequent efforts to reschedule it — even on a neutral site — didn't pan out. Thus, the 1990 Plattsburgh State soccer team — the winningest in the history of the sport at the college — have been crowned co-champions of the ECAC. Moreover, head coach Chris Waterbury was named Coach of the Year in the State University of New York Athletic Conference (SUNYAC).

The Cardinal hockey team enjoyed a 3-0 week. They blitzed conference rival Potsdam, 6-2, on Tuesday; nipped upset-minded Brockport, 7-6, on Friday; and bested Canisius, 6-2, on Saturday to improve their record on the campaign to 6-1-1. In Friday's nail-biter versus Brockport, seven different Cardinals found the mark in the come-from-behind effort. Defenseman Steve Ashe potted the game-winner late in the third period.

Against Canisius, forwards Tim Sullivan and Colin Hahnfeld led the attack. Sullivan scored two goals and assisted on a third, and Hahnfeld picked up four points on a goal and three assists. Freshman goaltender Mike Mondello was sharp in the nets for the Cardinals.

College Calendar — Academic 1991-92

FALL SEMESTER 1991

Saturday, August 24	Residence Halls Open for new students Afternoon Registration/Advisement
Sunday, August 25	Residence Halls Open for returning students
Monday, August 26	Fall semester classes begin
Thursday, October 10	No Classes Columbus Day (observed)
Friday, October 11	No Classes Columbus Day (observed)
Tuesday, October 22	MIDTERM GRADES DUE (Noon)
Monday, October 28	Advisement Begins
Tuesday, November 12	Advisement Ends
Friday, November 22	Classes End (6:00 p.m.) Thanksgiving Break
Saturday, November 23	Residence Halls Close (Noon)
Sunday, December 1	Residence Halls Open (Noon)
Monday, December 2	Classes resume
Monday, December 16	Final Exams Begin
Friday, December 20	Fall Semester ends at Noon Graduation 2:00 p.m. Residence Halls Close (5:00 p.m.)
Monday, December 30	FINAL GRADES DUE (Noon)

SPRING SEMESTER 1992

Monday, January 20	Residence Halls Open for new students (Noon)
Tuesday, January 21	Residence Halls Open for returning students Morning Registration/Advisement
Wednesday, January 22	Spring semester classes begin
Wednesday, March 11	Classes end (10:00 p.m.) Spring Break
Thursday, March 12	Residence Halls Close (Noon)
Friday, March 13	MIDTERM GRADES DUE (Noon)
Sunday, March 22	Residence Halls Open (Noon)
Monday, March 23	Classes Resume/Advisement Begins
Tuesday, April 7	Advisement Ends
Monday, May 11	Final exams begin
Friday, May 15	Semester Ends
Saturday, May 16	Graduation 11:00 a.m.
Friday, May 22	FINAL GRADES DUE (Noon)

Published: 10/15/90 (Revised 11/5/90 - Residence Halls open for new students 1/20/92 and 1/21/92 for returning students, not 1/19/92 and 1/20/92 as previously published.)

this week on campus

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 15 — THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29
Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, November 15

12 pm — Open Forum on the Budget sponsored by the President's Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom B.

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Forum presents Ann Kimmage, Dept. of English, speaking on "Hedgebrook Farm: A Retreat for Women Writers," sponsored by Women's Studies Program and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — Club International — Weekly meeting. New members always welcome. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7:30 pm — Alcohol Awareness Week presents "The Rose," starring Bette Midler, sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Yokum CL 202.

Friday, November 16

6 pm — Men's Basketball Cardinal Classic — 1st round Utica vs. New England.. Tickets: SA Members $1.50, Students under 18 $2, Public $3. Memorial Hall Gymnasium.

7:30 pm — The Newman Center Fall '90 "Alternate Film Fest" presents "Let's Kill Uncle." No charge — but donations of money, non-perishables and clothing will be accepted. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

8 pm — Plattsburgh Little Theatre presents "Weekend Comedy" by Jeanne and Sam Bobrick. Sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Tickets: General Admission $5, on sale at Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballroom.

8 pm — Men's Basketball Cardinal Classic — 1st round SUNY Plattsburgh vs. Practical Bible School. Tickets: SA Members $1.50, Students under 18 $2, Public $3. Memorial Hall Gymnasium.

Saturday, November 17

1 pm — Men's Basketball Cardinal Classic — Consolation Game. Tickets: SA Members $1.50, Students under 18 $1.50, Public $3. Memorial Hall, Gymnasium.

3 pm — Men's Basketball Cardinal Classic — Championship Game. Tickets: SA Members $1.50, Students under 18 $1.50, Public $3. Memorial Hall Gymnasium.

7:30 pm — Men's Hockey vs. R.I.T. Tickets: SA Member $1, Students under 18 $2, Public $3.50. Field House, Stafford Ice Arena.

8 pm — Plattsburgh Little Theatre presents "Weekend Comedy." (See 8 pm Friday, Nov. 16 for details.)

Sunday, November 18

8 pm — Plattsburgh Little Theatre presents "Weekend Comedy." (See 8 pm Friday, Nov. 16 for details.)

Friday, November 23

7:30 pm — The Newman Center Fall '90 "Alternate Film Fest" presents "Naked Hearts". No charge — but donations of money, non-perishables and clothing will be accepted. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

Saturday, November 24

7:30 pm — Men's Hockey vs. Elmira. Tickets: SA Member $1, Student under 18 $2, Public $3.50. Field House, Stafford Ice Arena.

Sunday, November 25

6:45 pm - 9:15 pm — ACB Film Committee presents "Die Hard II," sponsored by the Student Association. Open to the campus. Tickets: $.50 students, $1 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Hawkins Hall, E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium.

Monday, November 26

8 pm — Club Canada Meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

Tuesday, November 27

7 am - 7:45 am — EAP Health Education Workshop: First Aid will be presented by Leith Bardon, sponsored by Employees Assistance Program. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

10 am - 4 pm — Counseling & Fellowship (3 R's) sponsored by Baptist Campus Ministries, Rev. James Bradley. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room #2, 2nd floor.

12:15 pm — Exit Interviews sponsored by the Financial Aid Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom A.

2:30 pm - 3:15 pm — EAP Health Education Workshop: First Aid. Presented by Leith Bardon. sponsored by Employees Assistance Program. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:15 pm - 5:30 pm — Tuesday Reflections presents Dr. Justin Gustainis, Communication Department, speaking on "Subliminal Seduction or Scholarly Sophistry?" sponsored by the Faculty of Arts and Science. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Plattsburgh
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

6:30 pm - 8 pm — GRE Preparatory Sessions for the Quantitative Section of the exam involving Basic Math Skills sponsored by the Learning Center. Open to the campus. Please sign up at the Learning Center.

8 pm — Champlain Chamber Music Series presents Robert Hall on baritone and Jon Gonder on piano. Sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Hartman Theatre.

9 pm - 9:45 pm — EAP Health Education Workshop: First Aid. Presented by Leith Bardon. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Wednesday, November 28

4 pm - 7 pm — A reception will be held for Frank Owen, artist, sponsored by SUNY Plattsburgh Art Museum. Myers Gallery, Myers Fine Arts.

6 pm — Women's Basketball vs. Potsdam. Tickets: SA Members $1, Students under 18 $1.50, Public $2. Memorial Hall, Gymnasium.

7 pm — Basketball pre-game party sponsored by Burghy Club. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom A.

8 pm — Men's Basketball vs. Potsdam. Tickets: SA Members $1, Students under 18 $1.50, Public $2. Memorial Hall Gymnasium.

8 pm — Visual Artists Series presents Frank Owen, painter, sponsored by Art Resources Association. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Thursday, November 29

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Form presents Carla List speaking on "Thoughts on Sister Mary Ignatius." Sponsored by Women's Studies Program and College Auxiliary Services. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — Club International — Weekly meeting. New members always welcome. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

8 pm — Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual "Speak Out" - Part II sponsored by the Office of Campus Life - R.A.P. Program. Back by popular demand! The R.A.P. Workshops were a huge success. Students and residence life staff expressed and interest in hearing and learning more from the gay community. Come to this workshop and hear members from the gay, lesbian and bisexual student group "speak-out." All are welcome! Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

NOTES:

The Office of Campus Life is sponsoring a Bus to Montreal on Saturday, December 1, 9 am - 6 pm. Tickets: $9/Person, on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning Monday, November 26th. Bus departs from the Angell Center Rugar St. pull-off.

The Quantity Foods Class will present a French Service dinner on Tuesday, November 27. The menu will include potato leek soup, chicory and bacon salad, choice of pork medallions au poivre or white fish en croute, and crepe suzettes. Tickets are $8 each and reservations may be made by calling 564-2216 between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. Mondays, Tuesdays or Thursdays.

Current Position Vacancies (All positions tentatively are subject to a hiring freeze)

Faculty

Instructor/Asst. Prof. (choral/vocal teacher, Art, Music & Theatre). Deadline: 12/1/90.

Assistant Professor (English). Anticipated Vacancy. Asst./Assoc. Professor (public speaking, Communication Dept.) Fall '91 (Deadline: Open).

Assistant Professor (History; Western European) Fall '91 (Deadline: 12/15/90).

Lifelong Learning, P/T Vita Bank for extension sites. Summer/Fall '91 (Deadline Open).

Arts & Science, P/T Vita Bank (Anticipated positions; Deadline: 12/15/90).

Asst. Prof. (Sociology; anticipated vacancy) Fall '91 (Deadline: 1/15/91).

Research Foundation

Counselor (EDTAC) Deadline: 11/15/90

Project Staff Associate/Economic Development Specialist (EDTAC). Deadline: 11/30/90.

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action.

SUNY Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Weekly

Special Collections
Feinberg Lib., PSUC
Does Not Circulate

Published by College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • November 28, 1990

Vecchiarello, Lichte Contend for Presidency of 1991 SA

Gina Vecchiarello and Jackie Lichte will vie for the presidency of the 1991 Student Association (SA).

Vecchiarello, a special education major from Pelham, and Lichte, an undeclared major from Burke, top the ballot for SA elections scheduled for Tuesday (Dec. 4). Students may vote from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the Angell College Center desk; from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 4:30 to 7 p.m. at Clinton Dining Hall; and from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 4 to 6:30 p.m. at Algonquin Dining Hall.

As a service to SUNY Plattsburgh's students, WPLT and Cardinal Points, the student newspaper, have scheduled a "Meet the Candidates" program for 7:30 p.m. on Monday in the Angell Center Ballroom.

Besides the presidency, five other races for SA offices are being contested. Susan Higgins, an international business major from Hauppauge, and T. Christian Corroon, a computer science major from Brownville, are contending for the post as executive vice president.

Rivals for vice president seats include Ken McDonnell vs. Todd Orlando (student services); Derek Dolardi vs. Michael Nowicki (activities); Chris Holfester vs. Dora Anderson (academics); and Robert Antonelli Jr. vs. Robert Epple (finance). Three posts are uncontested: Richard Beame Jr. will be the next vice president for the arts; Toni Ann Internicola will be vice president for athletics; and Michael Rapley will be vice president for central affairs.

David Symansky is unopposed for the role as chief justice, and David Stone, Jeffrey Pisetzner and David Mowe are running for the three available posts as associate justices.

Thirty-six students are trying for 15 available Student Senate positions. Terms of office for all SA posts run from January 1 through December 31.

Rosters Firm for Middle States

Dr. John Myers, chair of the Middle States Review Steering Committee, announced this week that members of the six work committees which will conduct the actual self-study prior to the site visit of the accreditation team have been appointed. They are as follows:

Mission, Goals and Resources: James Dawson (chair), Richard Beach, Patty Bentley (ex officio), Edward Brohel (ex officio), Wayne Byrne, Robert Donaldson, Dennis Doyle, Malcolm Fairweather, Clark Foster, Jane Gore, Peter Luguri, Evelyn McCord, Michael Miranda, and Michael Stoller.

Teaching/Learning Environment: Douglas Skopp (chair), Kenneth Adams, Angela Gilbo (ex officio), William Graziadei, Robert Hofer (ex officio), Pat Hoffmann, Jocile Irwin-Devins, William Kelting, Jin Kim, Kathryn Stuart, Nicholas Stupiansky, Jacquelyn Walker, Michael Walsh, and Jack Weinstein.

Students and Student Life: Elizabeth Pasti (chair), James Armstrong, Leith Bardon, Michael Benowitz (ex officio), Richard Boas, Bette Brohel, Edward Engelbridge, Richard Higgins, David Kocsis, William Laundry (ex officio), John Moravek, Lary Shaffer, Keith Smith, and Sally Webb.

The Faculty: Carrie Harris (chair), Diana Akey, Carol Burnam, Peter Ensel, Roger Hamernik, Lise Heroux, John Madison (ex officio), Robert Pearl, Mary Roark, Donald Ryan, Carolee Smith (ex officio), David Symansky, Ann Tracy, and Daniel Vogt.

Organization and Administration: Ronald Hobson (chair), Janet Alexander, Edward Bortnick, Bonnie

Review Work Committees

Burdo, Ernest Coons, Robert Garrow (ex officio), Lawrence Giandomenico, Ray Guydosh (ex officio), Hilton Heming, Clara LaRose, Frank Johns, Janet Saunders, and Diane Wyand.

Instructional Resources: Joseph Swiner (chair), Julius Archibald (ex officio), Nancy Church, Dodie Giltz, Ann Hasting, James Holland, Dennis Kimmage, Cindy Menz, Clark Mitchell, Marilyn Morton (ex officio), Bonnie Seidel-Rogol, Charles Simpson, and Kathy Straub.

Peer Review of Hearing & Speech Science Graduate Programs Begins

The Department of Hearing and Speech Science is in the process of applying for accreditation of its graduate programs in Speech-Language Pathology and Audiology. Graduate programs in speech and hearing are accredited by the Educational Standards Board (ESB) of the American Speech-Language-Hearing Association (ASHA).

As part of this process, the program will undergo a site visit by a team of specially-trained peers. The site visit will take place on December 6-7. The site visit includes a public meeting, at which interested individuals can meet the ESB site visitors, and comment on the educational and clinical services provided by the department. This public meeting is scheduled for Thursday, December 6, from 3:00 to 4:00 p.m. in Sibley Hall, room 222. The meeting is open to all individuals.

Curriculum Inclusion Project Plans Panel, Workshop

A panel discussion on "Taking All of Our Students Seriously" and a workshop titled "Focus on Pedagogy" will highlight end-of-the-semester activities of the college's Curriculum Inclusion Project.

The project, sponsored under auspices of the Chancellor's Venture Fund, is supporting a college-wide effort to integrate new scholarship on women and minorities into the curriculum. Its coordinator is Dr. Marjorie Pryse, visiting associate professor for curriculum inclusion.

The panel discussion will be held Wednesday (Dec. 5) from 4:30 to 6:15 p.m. in the Angell Center Cardinal Lounge. Panelists will talk briefly on "classroom climate," as they experience it or as they try to improve it, with particular attention to improving access to learning for women, minority men and students from urban environments or lower-income families. A session for comments and questions from the audience will follow.

Panelists and their topics include President Charles Warren, "Opening the Dialogue between Students and Faculty;" Dr. George Flynn, professor of physics, "Women and Minority Men in the Science Laboratory;" Deborah Light, a senior anthropology major, "Finding a Non-Sexist Education;" Dr. Jeanette Sullivan, assistant professor in the Center for Teacher Education,

Giving by College 'Family' on Record Pace; tops $91,000

Giving by faculty, staff and faculty emeriti is on a record pace.

A report from the Plattsburgh College Foundation shows that gifts to date from members of the campus community to the annual fund, to endowments and to the Centennial Campaign have eclipsed $91,000. That compares with $73,000 contributed by this constituency in 1989.

The increase to a considerable degree can be attributed to the creation of a substantial endowment by Dr. and Mrs. Henry Freedman for the teaching of a course in Judaic studies each semester (Mrs. Freedman is assistant to the museum director at the SUNY Plattsburgh Museum). Also, several faculty increased their gifts during the past year. For example, Dr. Douglas Skopp, professor of history, donated the royalties from Bright With Promise, the Centennial history of the college, and Dr. Jeanette Coleman, director of nursing, created an endowment in honor of her father, the late Emery Cyphers.

In the meantime, the 1991 Faculty/Staff Campaign is about to begin. Campaign co-chairs Dr. Bruce Butterfield, Dr. Nancy Church and Clara LaRose will be contacting their colleagues soon to remind them of the need for a successful effort and of the convenience of payroll deduction.

"Reconsideration Out-of-Class Assignments with Respect to Student Diversity;" Elizabeth Smith, a sophomore undeclared major, "Opening the Classroom Doors to a Multicultural Society;" Jennifer Scanlon, assistant professor of women's studies, "Men in the Women's Studies Classroom;" Michael Arthur, a senior marketing major, "Racism as a Learning Experience in the Classroom;" and Dr. Richard Robbins, professor of anthropology, "The Politics of Lecture."

The workshop on pedagogy will be held on Wednesday, Dec. 12 from noon to 2 p.m. and from 3 to 5 p.m., and on Thursday, Dec. 13 from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. in room 103 of Hawkins Hall. Its purpose is to explore teaching strategies designed specifically to improve the classroom climate for women and minority men and to create access for students who may not traditionally choose particular disciplines — such as women in science or men in nursing. Faculty and staff who wish to participate are urged to contact Pryse at her office in Hawkins Hall (room 106C, ext. 2809).

Royal Bank Gives $13,000 to Center

The Royal Bank of Canada has joined the list of Canadian corporations supporting the college's Center for the Study of Canada. The bank has committed $13,410 to be paid over a three year period to support such projects as the publication of the Teaching Canada newsletter, guest lecturers, faculty research and travel and center administration.

Dr. Richard Beach, director of the center, said, "The 'Royal' is the largest bank in Canada and one of the largest in the world. To have this highly respected and venerable institution involved in our Canadian Studies program is of a significance far greater than even the sizable amount of money they have contributed. We are especially pleased with the three year commitment, which is unusual for first-time contributors."

TAC Seminar Focuses on Business

A day-long seminar on how to compete and succeed in business will be held on campus on Thursday, November 29 in the Clinton Dining Hall Lounge. The "World Class Competition" seminar is co-sponsored by the college's Technical Assistance Center, the New York State Department of Economic Development, New York State Electric and Gas, Niagara Mohawk, and Clarkson University's Management Institute.

Speakers will focus on "giving (participants) the information and insight (they) need to compete and win in today's killing business climate." Speakers include Mark Cornell, Dr. Eugene Kaczka and Malcolm Preston of the Clarkson faculty and Dr. Michael Gaffney of Cornell University.

For more information, contact Alan Lessler, TAC Director at 564-2214.

Adult Honor Society to Install Charter Members Saturday

Charter members of the Zeta Rho chapter of Alpha Sigma Lambda will be inducted into the honor society in a ceremony scheduled for 7 p.m. on Saturday, December 1 in the Winkel Sculpture Court.

Alpha Sigma Lambda is "unique in its concept, creation and goals," according to Bette Brohel, coordinator of adult learning services and national councilor of the honor society. Brohel explained, "Alpha Sigma Lambda recognizes the special achievements of adults who accomplish academic excellence while facing competing interests of home and work. Its members are full or part-time adult undergraduate students, many of whom are not eligible for membership in disciplinary honor societies. It was originally founded to recognize the academic efforts of evening students, but has been expanded to include adult students enrolled in either day or evening programs who earn a grade point average of 3.5 or better. Candidates must have completed 30 credit hours of study at SUNY Plattsburgh, with at least 15 credit hours outside their major."

Students to be inducted include Constance Bremer,

Kenneth Burl Jr., Curt Christian, Ann Copeland, Aileen DeLorenzo, Derinda Desrocher, John Flower, Susan Foreman, Cheryl Gerhardstein, Angela Gilbo, Russell Gray, Nancy Hafner, Deborah Light, Aimee Loughman, Faye Martineau, Marjorie Millea, Cathleen Minotti, James Mosher, Stephen Peets, Gretchen Robertson, Gretchen Sando, Sally Malone Sowley, Sharon Spencer, Debra Thomas, Lavonne Vanderzwaag and Nancy Wolgemuth.

Nine alumni will also be inducted as charter members. They are: Lynne Barbell, Sharon Derr, Marguerite Eisinger, Carol Fromme, Pat Hoffmann, Theresa Holscher, Darlene Hurd, Helen Rock and Paula Valyo.

Four members of the organizing committee, Laura Dominy, Ann Marie Morgan, Dr. David Mowry and Ann Prairie, will also be inducted, as will President Charles Warren, Vice President for Academic Affairs Thomas Moran, and Vice President for Student Affairs Eldridge Roark.

A reception will be hosted by President and Mrs. Warren at their home following the ceremony.

Presentations, Films Highlight AIDS Awareness Week

Presentations by health educators, film showings and a victim's personal account of living with AIDS highlight "AIDS Awareness Week" at SUNY Plattsburgh, scheduled for Monday, Dec. 3 through Friday, Dec. 7. All events are free and open to all.

The program is co-coordinated by the college's Office of Campus Life, the Clinton County Department of Public Health and the AIDS Council of Northeastern New York, with support from College Auxiliary Services.

Awareness events begin at noon on Monday with a showing of the video "AIDS is about Secrets" in the Amnesty Room of the Angell College Center. "Common Threads," the film story behind the making of the AIDS quilt, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. in room 200 of Yokum Hall.

On Tuesday, at 7:30 p.m. in the Angell Center Centennial Room, Tim Palmer, HIV coordinator for the county health department, will discuss "Substance Abuse, Sex and HIV Infection." Wednesday's program will feature viewing of "AID-Wise, No Lies," vignettes of victims' personal experiences with the disease, at noon in the Angell Center Conference Room. At 7:30 p.m. in Yokum 208, Joanne Conroy, education associate at the AIDS Council of Northeastern New York, will host a session on the topic "AIDS 101: an Overview."

The Council's regional director, Debbie Drake, and Jerry Errion, HIV counselor at the AIDS Institute in Albany, will co-host a presentation on "AIDS Testing and HIV-Related Services" at noon on Thursday in the Angell Center Conference Room. At 7:30 p.m. in the Angell Center Ballroom, "Al," a person afflicted with AIDS, will give a presentation titled "A Personal Journey."

The week's activities will conclude at noon on Friday with a showing of the film "Sexual Roulette" in the Angell Center Amnesty Room.

Fall Term Magic Show on for Friday

The SUNY Plattsburgh Chemistry Club will host its semi-annual science magic show at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, November 30 in Hudson Hall room 106. This semester's show is entitled "Mad Scientists' Convention" and is open to the campus and community.

While admission is free, the chemistry club is conducting a bottle return campaign in conjunction with the magic show. Members ask that each person attending bring at least one can or bottle as a donation for admission.

Quantity Foods to Host 2 More Meals

The Quantity Foods Class will offer two more dinners before the end of the fall semester.

On Tuesday, December 4, an American Service meal will feature French onion soup, garden salad with ranch dressing, a choice of Cornish game hen or flank steak, and raspberry sorbet.

The last dinner of the semester, a chef surprise buffet, will be held on December 11.

Both meals will be held in the Sibley Hall cafeteria. Seating times are from 5 to 6 p.m. Tickets are $8 per person and reservations may be made by calling 564-2216 Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

67 from Plattsburgh Named to Students' 'Who's Who'

The 1990-91 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges will include the names of 67 students from SUNY Plattsburgh.

These students were selected on the basis of criteria that includes academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extra-curricular activities, and potential for continued success.

The 67 from Plattsburgh will join students from more than 1,400 institutions of higher education in all fifty states, the District of Columbia, and several foreign countries who have also been selected for the honor. Outstanding college students have been honored by being listed in this annual publication since it was first published in 1934.

The SUNY Plattsburgh students who will appear in the 1990-91 edition of Who's Who, their majors and hometowns are:

Arden Marie Acquilano, special education, Geneva; Cathy A. Bartenstein, speech communication/English (journalism), Rutland, VT; Shannon C. Bayly, business and economics, Schuylerville; Rene Beauregard, Jr., industrial/organic psychology, Rome; Michael Benowitz, accounting, New City; Amy Bobar, speech and hearing handicapped education, Broadalbin; Jeannette Bortnick, nursing, Peru; Melissa M. Brock, hotel/restaurant management, Petersburg; Erik K. Buckstad, environmental science, Washingtonville; Matthew A. Burgin, environmental science, Delhi; Scott M. Burnam, theatre, Plattsburgh; Melissa Cooper, psychology,

Four Share FitzPatrick Scholarships; Endowment Now Totals $26,000-plus

Four environmental science majors have received $2,000 scholarships named for the late James A. FitzPatrick of Plattsburgh. They are seniors Wendy Campbell of Clifton Park, Christine Mulvihill of Kirkville and Elizabeth Pinkston of Wappingers Falls, and junior David Van Valkenburg of Bergen.

The FitzPatrick Endowment Fund, created in 1989 to honor the memory of the late North Country attorney and legislator, totals $26,404 in gifts and pledges. It partially endows eight undergraduate scholarships, four each in environmental science and in in vitro cell biology and biotechnology — programs supported strongly by FitzPatrick during his lengthy tenure as a member, president and chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Miner Institute in Chazy. It also supports two graduate fellowships.

The scholarships were initiated in partnership with the Miner Institute, where the FitzPatrick scholars undertake their studies. A campaign to more fully endow the scholarships is led by a committee of six: Robert T. Booth, Roger Forrence, William Owens, Dr. Harry Randy, Sen. Ronald B. Stafford, and SUNY Plattsburgh President Charles O. Warren.

ogy, Stony Brook; Timothy Darcy, business management, Highland and Tana DuBray, speech and hearing handicapped education, Chateaugay.

Also, Julie A. Ehlenfield, dietetics, Cowlesville, Richard M. Fagan, professional accounting, Stony Brook; Karen Ferreri, communication arts, Poughkeepsie; Karsten Fetten, international business, Plattsburgh; Vanessa Figueroa, communication arts, Brooklyn; Dana Froschauer, elementary education N-6, Ballston Spa; Sara B. Gaffney, mass communications, Peekskill; Diane Gardner, nursing, Kings Park; Lissa Goldberg, elementary education, Huntington Station; Corinne S. Gordon, elementary education, Stony Brook; Russell C. Gray, English/secondary education (English), Schuyler Falls; Craig Haseley, marketing, West Lockport; Kerry Hodgens, hearing and speech science, Middletown and Deborah Hoffman, psychology, Lockport.

Also, Dawn E. Irwin, hearing and speech science, So. Burlington, VT; Michael R. Jette, secondary education (chemistry), West Sand Lake; Christopher Kelley, mass communication, Burlington, VT; Kathryn D. Kiaunis, secondary education (English)/theatre, Amsterdam; Joan E. Krieger, chemistry, Walker Valley; Lucy Lauzon, counseling, Fort Covington; Michelle M. LeGrow, business/marketing, Warwick; Lori Leveillee, business management, Scotia; Leif C. Loheide, productions and operations management, Woodstock; Deborah L. McDonald, special education, Poughkeepsie; Andrew McGarva, psychology, Williamsville; Jacqueline Menzie, elementary education N-6, Albany; Brian K. Micheels, communication arts, Middletown; Timothy-Jay R. Morton, political science/Canadian studies, Batavia; Joseph Muresco, mass communication, Staten Island; Mary C. Murphy, elementary education, Patterson; Richard J. O'Brien, marketing, West Chazy; Jennifer L. Pelzar, mathematics, Congers and Daniel C. Pollay, accounting, Cato.

Also, Kirsten Roberg, psychology, Coxsackie; Julianne M. Roemer, education N-9, Utica; Teresa Rosenberg, business management, Cazenovia; Jeffrey Ross, nursing, Cote St. Luc, Que.; Anja K. Rothhaar, psychology, Cadyville; Julie A. Schaller, psychology, Delmar; Jennifer L. Seguin, psychology, Troy; Kathleen M. Simmons, marketing/psychology, Chatham; Terry Skowronek, computer science, Amsterdam; Colleen A. Smith, psychology/business, Selkirk; Donna Stewart, criminology, Saranac Lake; Susan M. Thomas, theatre, Binghamton; Caryl Tierney, speech and hearing science, Malone; Lynn Tubbs, psychology and criminal justice, Chatham; Mark C. Van Schaick, political science, Cape Vincent; Mailani A.J.L. Veney, international business, Lincoln, NE; Andrew Wallace, accounting, Albany; Katrina L. Washburn, mathematics, Candor; Karen A. Yoos, communication arts/psychology, Seatauket and David Young, counseling, Plattsburgh.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29 — THURSDAY, DECEMBER 6
Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 29

10 am - 2 pm — Center for Women's Concerns, E.A.C. and U.C.S. presents a Book Drive to benefit the Daycare Center in Sibley Hall — will be accepting donations of money or children's books. Angell Center Lobby.

12:15 pm — Carla List speaking on "Thoughts on Sister Mary Ignatius" sponsored by the Women's Studies Program and C.A.S. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — Club International — Weekly meeting. New members always welcome. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

8 pm — Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual "Speak Out" — Part II sponsored by the Office of Campus Life — R.A.P. Program. Back by popular demand! Students and residence life staff expressed an interest in hearing and learning more from the gay community. Come to this workshop and hear members from the gay, lesbian and bisexual student group "speak out." All are welcome! Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — Visual Artists Series presents Frank Owen, painter, sponsored by Art Resources Association. Angell Center Ballroom A.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 30

10 am - 2 pm — Center for Women's Concerns, E.A.C. and U.C.S. Book Drive (see 10 am Thursday, Nov. 29 for details).

6 pm — Coffee House sponsored by the Union of Concerned Students. Tickets: SA Student $1, Public $1, Faculty/Staff $1, at the door. Angell Center Ballroom.

8 pm — Friday night film series presents "Look Who's Talking" sponsored by the Office of Campus Life and the Student Association. Open to the campus. Tickets: SA Students $.50, Faculty/Staff $.50, available at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL200.

SATURDAY, DECEMBER 1

9 am - 6 pm — Bus to Montreal, sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Tickets: SA Students $9, Public $9, Faculty/Staff $9. Bus departs from Angell Center, Rugar Street Pull-off.

1 pm - 4 pm — The Center for Women's Concerns, E.A.C. and U.C.S. will be sponsoring a benefit concert for the Childcare Center in Sibley Hall. Donations accepted. Angell Center Blue Room.

7 pm — An Induction Ceremony for Alpha Sigma Lambda, Adult Honor Society sponsored by Office for Adult Services. Myers Fine Arts, Winkel Sculpture Court.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 2

3 pm — The Champlain Valley Oratorio Society, under the direction of Robert Hall, will present "Gloria! A concert of Christmas Music for Choir and Brass." Tickets: SA Student $6, Public $8, Senior Citizens $6, on sale at COACC, Beemer's Office Supply, Peacock Records and Alan's Bakeshop. E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

6:45 pm — ACB Film Committee presents "Young Guns II" sponsored by the Student Association. Open to the campus. Tickets: SA Members $.50, Faculty/Staff $1.00, available at the Angell Center Desk. Hawkins Hall, E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium.

7 pm - 9 pm — R.A.P. Training: Stress Reducers sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Open to members only. Angell Center Conference Room.

7:30 pm — The Newman Center Fall '90 "Alternative Film" Fest presents: "War Hunt." No charge but donations of money, non-perishables and clothing will be accepted. Newman Center, 92 Broad St.

9:15 pm — ACB Film Committee presents "Young Guns II" (see 6:45 pm for details).

MONDAY, DECEMBER 3

8:30 am — Training Seminar on Asbestos Abatement sponsored by College Auxiliary Services. Seminar Fee: Worker Training $525, Contractor/Supervisor Training $625 payable at College Auxiliary Services 564-2035, Sibley Hall Cafeteria (continues daily through the remainder of the week).

8 pm — Club Canada Meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 4

12:15 pm - 1 pm — Preparing for Exams sponsored by the Learning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

12:15 pm - 1:15 pm — Psychology Services sponsors "How to Handle a Student Crisis." A Workshop designed for faculty and staff providing information on responding to a student crisis. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

4:15 pm — Faculty Senate Meeting. Open to the campus, no charge. Angell Center Centennial Room.

6:30 pm - 8 pm — GRE Preparatory Sessions for the Quantitative Section of the exam involving Basic Math Skills sponsored by the Learning Center. Open to the campus. Sign up at the Learning Center.

7 pm — The Cardinal Singers directed, by Robert Hall, present a Madrigal Dinner. "A Bicentennial Dinner" from the year 2090 looking back to 1990." Sponsored by the Center for Art, Music & Theatre. Dinner Tickets: Roast Beef Dinner $12.50, SA Student Hamburger Dinner $5.00, (with meal card $1.00). On sale at Hartman Box Office 564-2283, Angell Center Ballrooms.

7 pm — Women's Basketball vs. Johnson State Tickets: SA Student $1.00, Student $1.50, Public $2 on sale at the door, Memorial Gym.

8 pm — Foreign Film Series presents "Les Regles du Jeu," sponsored by the French and History Clubs. Yokum 208.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 5

10 am — First Investor Recruitment — Management Trainees sponsored by Career Life Planning and Placement. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

11 am - 3 pm — CVPH Blood Drive sponsored by Alpha Sigma Phi. Angell Center Ballroom.

12:15 pm - 1 pm — Preparing for Exams sponsored by the Learning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

12:15 pm - 1:15 pm — Psychology Services "How to Handle a Student Crisis" (see 12:15 pm Tuesday, Dec. 4 for details).

4:30 pm - 6:15 pm — Curriculum Inclusion Project presents "Taking all of our Students Seriously," a panel discussion with faculty and students concerning the classroom climate. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

7 pm — First Investor Recruitment — Management Trainees (repeat of 10 am program).

8 pm — Visiting Poets and Writers Series presents Diane Swan reading from her Poetry sponsored by the English Department, Dean of Arts & Science and C.A.S. Champlain Valley Hall Commons.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 6

10 am - 2 pm — Recruitment for New York State Police sponsored by Career Life Planning and Placement. Open to the campus. Angell Center Lobby.

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Program presents Robert Harsh, EOP Counselor and Debra Lasoff, Student Intern, discussing "The Rape Crisis Program: History and Services." sponsored by Women's Studies Program and C.A.S. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3 pm — English Department Colloquium presents Dr. John Shout speaking on "Subversive Drama" sponsored by the Department of English. Open to the campus. Champlain Valley Hall Commons.

4:15 pm - 5:30 pm — International Education/Canadian Studies presents Study Elsewhere - Canada and France. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room.

7 pm — Club International — Weekly meeting. New members always welcome. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

7:30 pm — Presentation on Internships and Staffing sponsored by Co-op Ed and DEC. Open to the campus, no charge. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

NOTES:

The Office of Campus Life is sponsoring a Bus to Montreal on Saturday, December 1, 9 am - 6 pm. Tickets: $9.00/person, on sale at the Angell Center Desk beginning Monday, November 26th. Bus departs from the Angell Center, Rugar St. pull-off.

The Child Care Center will sponsor a benefit Children's Book Fair on Thursday, Dec. 6, from 12 noon to 7 p.m. in room 100 of Sibley Hall. Books are for children up to the age of 6. The Fair will continue on Friday, Dec. 7.

The Faculty Women's Organization is offering a $500 scholarship for spring '91 and the NYS Board of Regents is offering Empire State Challenger Scholarships for teachers (for amounts up to $3,000 for undergraduate and $4,000 for graduate students). Also available are Paul Douglas Scholarships (for up to $5,000) for undergraduates pursuing teaching careers in select fields. Application deadlines are approaching. For more information and application materials, stop by the Financial Aid Office, fourth floor, Kehoe Building.

Current Position Vacancies (All positions tentatively are subject to a hiring freeze)

Faculty

Instructor/Asst. Prof. (choral/vocal teacher, Art, Music & Theatre). Deadline: 12/1/90.

Assistant Professor (English). Anticipated Vacancy. Asst./Assoc. Professor (public speaking, Communication Dept.) Fall '91 (Deadline: Open).

Assistant Professor (History; Western European) Fall '91 (Deadline: 12/15/90).

Lifelong Learning, P/T Vita Bank for extension sites. Summer/Fall '91 (Deadline: Open).

Arts & Science, P/T Vita Bank (Anticipated positions; Deadline: 12/15/90).

Asst. Prof. (Sociology; anticipated vacancy) Fall '91 (Deadline: 1/15/91).

Research Foundation

Project Staff Associate/Economic Development Specialist (EDTAC). Deadline: 11/30/90.

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action.

SUNY Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

THIS WEEK ON CAMPUS is compiled by the Office of Campus Life and published by the Office of College Relations and Development. Items to be listed in this bulletin must be received in the Office of Campus Life no later than noon on Thursday the week prior to publication.

Weekly

Published by College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • December 5, 1990

Sp. Feinberg
Does Not Circulate

ADAC Wins Two Grants to Support Day-care Programs

The New York State Office of Mental Retardation and Developmental Disabilities (OMRDD) has awarded two grants to the Alzheimer's Disease Assistance Center (ADAC) to fund day-care programs for the elderly in two North Country counties.

Dr. Taher Zandi, ADAC director and project coordinator for both grants, said, "The grants will allow us to provide day programs for the developmentally disabled, functionally impaired and frail elderly in Clinton and Franklin County. Our clients will include, but not be limited to, Alzheimer's Disease victims."

He added, "The programs will provide meaningful group and individual activities directed toward promoting greater independence and personal life satisfaction among its participants. Staff and student interns will be trained by ADAC." Participants will be recruited from ARC residences, senior citizen organizations, hospital discharge planners, county public health personnel and social service personnel in both counties.

Both programs will operate from 8:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. The Clinton County program will be housed at the Senior Citizen Center on Margaret Street, and the Franklin County program will be set up at the Brushton-Moira Senior Citizens Center in Brushton.

The total amount awarded to ADAC by OMRDD is $65,721. An additional $25,779 has been awarded to senior citizens' programs in Clinton and Essex Counties to support the same programs.

Dean Liu to Deliver Address at Winter Commencement

Dr. Hsiung-Zung Liu, dean of the Faculty of Arts and Science, will deliver the principal address at winter commencement exercises scheduled for 2 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 21, at the SUNY Plattsburgh Field House.

This year's winter commencement class is expected to be the largest ever. The Office of the Registrar reports that about 500 students have filed applications to graduate later this month.

Liu, who also holds the rank as professor of biology, has been dean of arts and science since 1983. He joined the college in 1964 — the year he received the Ph.D. from Cornell — as assistant professor of biology. He was promoted to associate professor in 1967 and to full professor two years later. He served two terms as chairperson of the Department of Biology, and prior to his appointment as dean, he served two years in that post in an acting capacity.

Liu has been affiliated professionally with several institutions during his tenure at Plattsburgh. He has been a research collaborator in the biology department and, later, a visiting geneticist at Brookhaven National Laboratory on Long Island, a special research fellow at the U.S. National Institute of Health, general medical Genetics, at Marquette University, and an adjunct member of the School of Medical Technology at Rochester General Hospital.

Liu, whose specialty is biochemical genetics, is the recipient of about a dozen research fellowships and grants, and he is the principal author or co-author of many research publications.

Lower Temperatures Bring Savings Totaling $17,500

With a welcome assist from Mother Nature, the college exceeded expectations for savings on fuel costs by lowering temperature levels in campus buildings during the recent Thanksgiving break.

J. Derek Allan, director of facilities, reports that the college saved more than $17,500 in fuel oil costs for the period of Nov. 16 to Nov. 25 this year compared to the same time period a year ago. Fuel oil consumption declined by 28,335 gallons this year compared with last.

Allan qualified the savings differential by noting that outdoor temperatures during the Thanksgiving recess were much warmer in 1990 than in 1989, and that the recess this year was several days longer than the previous year. Regardless, he said, the savings were substantially higher than expected and point to economies that can be realized during the mid-year break that begins later this month.

"We did receive some complaints about building comfort levels from a few people," said Allan, "and we moved quickly to rectify situations where warranted."

Residence 'Scrambler' System Getting National Attention

The sophisticated electronic access system installed last summer in four of the college's 12 residence halls is gaining attention nationally.

The system, known as the "scrambler," was cited as an innovative approach to building security during a recent, SUNY-sponsored national teleconference on that subject featuring a panel of presidents and vice presidents of several major colleges and universities.

According to Lawrence Lorch, SUNY Plattsburgh's director of public safety, the college's scrambler system was cited as a campus safety measure worth serious consideration by a panelist representing Southern Methodist University.

Lorch explained that the scrambler limits entry via outside doors of residence halls only to those who have been assigned individual numerical access codes. Falsified or erroneous admission codes are picked up within seconds and relayed by signal to public safety. Also, he said, the system can be programmed to prevent off-hours reentry by non-students — persons who are admitted to or authorized to be in residence facilities during normal workday hours — and to prohibit access by any hall resident during vacation periods.

"The system is exceeding our expectations," said Lorch, whose research on building security and safety procedures led to its adoption here. "Students have

Three Student-actors Named to Take Part in Annual Acting Scholarship Competition

Three students who appeared in the recent production of The Increased Difficulty of Concentration by Vaclav Havel have been nominated to participate in annual Region II Irene Ryan Acting Scholarship competition, which will be held in Albany in February.

Dr. Charles Kline said that Tina Lynn Caron (who portrayed Renata, the mistress), Marisa Fornataro (who played Vlasta Huml, the wife), and Donna Lee Thompson (who appeared as Dr. Anna Balcar, a social scientist) will take part in the competition, which is conducted by the American College Theatre Festival. The three students will compete against performers from 105 colleges and universities, which comprise Region II.

"While the A.C.T.F. adjudicator did not select our play as a participant in this year's competition, the workshop discussion after the performance indicated that we presented a lucid and valid concept of a highly challenging and worthy piece of dramatic literature from an Eastern Bloc nation. I feel that this was an important learning experience for both students and faculty."

Only five plays were selected for the competition.

accepted it fully and appreciate not having to carry keys. Several other SUNY units have visited campus to see the system demonstrated and to talk about it, and we have had many calls from private institutions."

Lorch said the scrambler will be installed in all campus residence halls by the end of next summer. The system at Plattsburgh is the first of its kind to become operational in SUNY and perhaps the first to go on-line in college or university residence halls in the nation.

2nd Parley on East-West Ventures Held in Moscow

The Second Annual Conference on East-West Joint Ventures, co-sponsored by the Centers for the Study of Joint Ventures at SUNY Plattsburgh and Moscow State University was held recently in the Soviet Union.

Five members of the faculty of the School of Business and Economics participated.

SUNY Plattsburgh attendees and the titles of their papers: Dr. Francis Bethlen, professor of management and marketing, "On Foreign Participation in East-West Business Ventures in Hungary Today"; Dr. Nancy Church, associate professor of management and marketing, "Franchising and Joint Ventures: How the Franchising Concept Can Benefit the Soviet Economy"; Dr. Young Jang, professor of economics, "Joint Venture in the Soviet Union's Energy Resources"; Dr. Miles Martin, professor of management and marketing, "Non-economic Aspects of East-West Joint Ventures"; and Dr. Zubaidur Rahman, associate professor of accounting, "New Directions in Soviet Accounting."

The conference was co-sponsored by the two universities under an agreement signed two years ago. That agreement provides for numerous cooperative ventures, including exchange of faculty experts and joint research and publication efforts, which are intended to promote joint ventures between the two countries.

The annual conference alternates each year between the Moscow State and Plattsburgh State campuses. Last year, the initial conference under the agreement was held on the Plattsburgh campus.

Approximately 100 educators, government officials, and business representatives from the United States and the Soviet Union, as well as from several other countries, participated.

EAP Sponsors 'Parenting' Program

The college's Employee Assistance Program (EAP) will sponsor a program on parenting by Four Winds, a private psychiatric hospital in Saratoga Springs, to be held from 7 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday (Dec. 11) in the Angel Center Cardinal Lounge.

At 7:30 p.m., the hospital's Dr. Frank Arcangelo will speak on "Negotiating Adolescence: Meeting the Challenges." The program is free and open to all.

Students Making Holiday Season Brighter for Area Children

Two hundred three children and 21 senior citizens will have happier holidays this year, thanks to a large number of SUNY Plattsburgh students.

For the second consecutive year, Jennifer Engwer, a graduate student in the liberal arts program from Glens Falls, and Debby Kennedy, a graduate student in the counseling program from Davenport, coordinated a program to collect Christmas gifts for underprivileged children.

Engwer and Kennedy, residence hall directors in Mason and Harrington Hall, respectively, met with staff members at the Clinton County Department of Social Services in October and obtained lists of children whose Christmas looked bleak. They distributed the lists to the residence hall councils, sent letters to off-campus students and even (with assistance from students Debbie McDonald and Ruth Comley) spent two days at the Champlain Centre Mall soliciting gifts from shoppers.

On Sunday morning, more than a dozen students and two alumni (Mark MacCormack '89 and Jim Shumsky '89) gathered to collect, sort and wrap the presents. More than 820 gifts were contributed by approximately 450 students and 57 mall shoppers. Every residence hall participated in the program and many students purchased more than one gift.

In addition to the gifts for the children, the students

(Continued on next page)

Plaque Honoring Award Recipients to Hang in Feinberg

A permanent plaque honoring past and future recipients of the Chancellor's Awards for Excellence in Teaching, Professional Service and Librarianship will be installed in the lobby of the Feinberg Library next week. A brief dedication ceremony will be conducted at 4:15 p.m. on December 11 by President Charles O. Warren, Student Association President William Sherman and Omicron Delta Kappa President Juli Schaller. All are welcome.

The Chancellor's Awards program was begun in 1976 to recognize excellence on the part of SUNY faculty and staff. Campus recipients are generally cited at the annual May commencement ceremony.

To date, 30 members of the SUNY Plattsburgh faculty and staff have received the prestigious awards. They are: 1976 - Dr. Stuart Baum and Dr. Richard Beach (both teaching); 1977 - Dr. Richard Robbins (teaching); 1978 - Dr. William Graziadei (teaching); 1979 - Dr. Henry Morlock (teaching) and David Truax (professional service); 1980 - Dr. David Glaser and Dr. Lawrence Shaffer (both teaching); 1981 - Dr. Matthew Merrrens and Dr. Vladimir Munk (both teaching) and Janet Edwards (professional service); 1982 - Dr. Donald Bogucki and Dr. Roy Malpass (both teaching) and Topsy Smalley (librarianship); 1983 - Dr. Richard Beach (professional service); 1985 - Daui Woodin (professional service); 1986 - Edward Brohel (professional service) and Barbara McConville (teaching); 1987 - Dr. Mark Cohen and Dr. Gerhard Gruendling (both teaching) and Cheryl Hogle (professional service); 1988 - Dr. E. Thomas Moran (professional service); 1989 - Elizabeth Pasti (professional service), Patricia Bentley (librarianship) and Dr. Peter Gore and Dr. Douglas Skopp (both teaching); 1990 - Dr. Bruce Butterfield, Dr. Phil DeVita and Anna Nardelli (all teaching) and Suzanne Sokolowski (professional service).

The plaque was funded by grants from College Auxiliary Services, the Student Association and Omicron Delta.

Showcase Events Taking Shape; Wider Participation Sought

The list of events scheduled tentatively for Showcase '91 this coming spring is impressive and indicates resourceful planning is taking place, but organizers of the day-long activity designed to spotlight the scholarly, artistic and creative talents of members of the campus community are seeking more widespread participation.

Showcase '91 will take place on April 10.

"We are encouraged by the response to date," commented Anna Nardelli, associate professor of education, "but we have yet to hear from several departments that have been represented in the past and that we know have much to contribute to its success." Nardelli and Dr. Edward Miller, associate professor of chemistry, are co-coordinators of Showcase.

Commitments to date are in from the Center for Teacher Education, the art, music and theatre departments, the communication and economics department and the political science department. Tentative activities range from a student panel on U.S. politics, an economics seminar and a forensic demonstration, to a "Celebration of Teaching Day," open theatre rehearsals, art workshops and presentations, and a brown bag concert.

Nardelli said that project information should be submitted to "Showcase liaisons" who represent virtually every campus department, program or activity (the list appeared in Weekly for Nov. 7). She asks liaisons to work with their colleagues to develop and submit Showcase proposals.

Projects are due the first of spring term classes. The deadline for project abstracts is March 1. Nardelli may be reached at ext. 5137.

Women Swimmers Win; Track Athletes Show Promise

Dierdre Sweeney won the 1000 and 500-meter events to pace the Plattsburgh State women to a 119-97 victory over Norwich University in swimming on Saturday. The Cardinal men, meanwhile, lost to Norwich, 126-98.

Several members of the indoor track team turned in top performances in a non-scoring meet at the University of Vermont on Saturday. For the women: Heather Myrick won the long jump and triple jump; Suzanne Kennedy won the 1500-meter run; and Deborah Gibson tied a 10-year-old school record in the 50-meter dash in a time of 6.7 seconds to qualify automatically for the SUNYAC and ECAC championships. For the men: Jim Krough qualified for the SUNYAC championships with a first place finish in the 500-meter run; Steve St. Mary won the high jump with a leap of 5'10"; and Don Tambini's toss of 36' gave the Cardinals first place in the weight throw.

In basketball, both the Cardinal men and women lost to SUNY rival Potsdam on Wednesday, the women in overtime, 61-60, and the men, 84-66. The hockey team split a pair of SUNY conference games on the road over the weekend, tripping Oswego, 7-4, on Friday, then losing to undefeated Geneseo, 8-4, on Saturday.

Spotlight

(Editor's note: Items submitted for this column that pertain to faculty and staff travel to attend/participate in meetings or conferences related to their scholarly/professional expertise, interests or activities will not appear until the statewide travel freeze has been lifted.) Dr. Sunderesh Heragu, assistant professor of management and marketing, has been appointed an adjunct professor at the Department of Mechanical and Industrial Engineering at the University of Manitoba, Winnipeg, Canada. He will be jointly supervising graduate students' theses at the University... "Salted Adirondack Roads: A Troubled Recipe," an article by Dr. Nicholas Mammano, professor of chemistry, was published in the November/December 1990 edition of Adirondac... Dr. Thomas Rum-ney, professor of geography has published two selected bibliographies. One is titled The Physical Geography of the British Isles and the other is The Geography of World Agriculture. The latter publication is a work in three volumes, covering general works and theoretical topics, the western hemisphere, and the eastern hemisphere... "Creative Play," an article by Dr. Sandra Stupiansky, assistant professor in the Center for Teacher Education, was the cover story of the October, 1990 issue of Scholastic Pre-K Today... Jeanne Sullivan, assistant professor of education, was recently appointed to the editorial board of the Middle School Journal, a national publication devoted to the middle school years.

Student Santas (Continued from previous page)

collected food to provide holiday food baskets for 21 elderly people in Clinton County. Fliers were distributed to the stores at the mall and food items were collected by Teena McAuliffe, manager of Treats.

The gaily wrapped presents and food baskets were delivered to the Social Services Department on Monday afternoon — with the help of three vans and two trucks. They will be distributed to the recipients just prior to Christmas.

Engwer had participated in a similar program at Adirondack Community College and initiated it on campus with Kennedy last year. In a short time, the two collected 648 presents, astonishing the Social Services staff with the generosity of Plattsburgh students.

Nine students gathered on Monday to deliver the Christmas presents to Social Services. They are (l. to r.) Steve Travis, Paul Berry, Christine Morris, Debby Kennedy, John Kennedy, Jen Engwer, Katie Murray, Deb McDonald, and Ed Cama. Others who worked on the project were Michele Dee, Melissa Jenkins, Juli Schaller, Mark MacCormack '89, Jim Shumsky '89, Jim Lopez, Bob Dietrich and Ruth Comley.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 6 — THURSDAY, DECEMBER 13

Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

Thursday, December 6

10 am - 2 pm — Recruitment for New York State Police sponsored by Career/Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Lobby.

Noon - 7 pm — Children's Book Fair, sponsored by the SUNY Child Care Center. Books have been selected for young children ages up to 6. Sibley Hall, Room 100, Rugar Street.

12:15 pm — Women's Studies Program presents Robert Harsh, EOP Counselor and Debra Lasoff, Student Intern, discussing "The Rape Crisis Program: History and Services", sponsored by the Women's Studies Program and C.A.S. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

3 pm — English Department Colloquium presents Dr. John Shout speaking on "Subversive Drama," sponsored by the Department of English. Open to the campus. Champlain Valley Hall Commons.

4:15 - 5:30 pm — International Education/Canadian Studies presents Study Elsewhere — Canada and France. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room. welcome. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room 8.

7:30 pm — Presentation on Internships and Staffing sponsored by Co-op Ed. and DEC. Open to the campus. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

Friday, December 7

Noon - 7 pm — Children's Book Fair (same as above). 4 pm — Orientation Information Session, sponsored by the Office of Campus Life. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom A.

6 pm — Women's basketball vs. Oneonta. Tickets: SA Members $1.00, Student $1.50, Public $2, available at the door. Memorial Hall, Gymnasium.

7 pm — Jazz Performance, sponsored by the Adirondack Dance Theatre. Tickets: $3.00 general admission, on sale at the door. Hawkins Hall, Room 153.

7:30 pm — Men's hockey vs. Binghamton. Tickets: SA Members $1, Students under 18 $2, Public $3.50, available at the door. Field House, Stafford Ice Arena.

7:30 pm — The Newman Center Fall '90 "Alternative Film" Fest presents: "Cartoon Night," sponsored by the Newman Association. No charge, but donations, non-perishable food items and clothing will be accepted. Newman Center, 92 Broad Street.

8 pm — Friday Night Film Series, sponsored by Campus Life, presents "When Harry Met Sally." Open to the campus. Tickets: $.50, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

8 pm — Men's Basketball vs. Oneonta. Tickets: SA Members $1, Students under 18 $1.50, Public $2 available at the door. Memorial Hall.

8 pm — A Jazz Ensemble program directed by Marshall Onofrio sponsored by the Center for Art, Music & Theatre. Hartman Theatre.

Saturday, December 8

2 pm — Swimming vs. College of St. Rose. Memorial Pool.

6 pm — Women's basketball vs. New Paltz. Tickets: SA Members $1, students under 18 $1.50, public $2 available at the door. Memorial Hall.

7 pm — Men's Leg Contest, sponsored by Club International. Tickets on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Angell Center Ballrooms.

7:30 pm — Men's hockey vs. Concordia. Tickets: SA members $1, students under 18 $2, public $3.50 available at the door. Field House, Stafford Ice Arena.

8 pm — Men's basketball vs. New Paltz. Tickets: SA members $1, students under 18 $1.50, public $2 available at the door. Memorial Hall.

Sunday, December 9

3 pm and 7 pm — Auditions for "An Enemy of the People," sponsored by the SUNY Plattsburgh Theatre Department. Open to the campus. Myers FA Studio Theatre.

3 pm — College Chorale and the Cardinal Singers, directed by Robert Hall, in concert. Sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium, Hawkins Hall.

6:45 & 9:15 pm — ACB Film Committee presents "Stella," sponsored by your Student Association Mandatory Fee. Open to the campus. Tickets: $.50 SA members, $1.00 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Hawkins Hall, Giltz Auditorium.

7 pm — Auditions to be held for "Inherit The Wind," sponsored by the SUNY Plattsburgh Department for Theatre. Open to the campus. Myers FA, Greenroom, 140.

7 pm — Concert: Adirondack Youth Orchestra, Marshall Onofrio, director. Tickets: $3 general admission, $2 students and senior citizens. Plattsburgh High School auditorium.

Monday, December 10

5 pm — Exit Interviews, sponsored by the Financial Aid Office. Open to the campus. Angell Center Ballroom A.
7 pm — Auditions to be held for "Inherit The Wind," sponsored by the SUNY Plattsburgh Department for Theatre. Open to the campus. Myers FA, Greenroom, 140.

7:30 pm — Campus Poets Series presents Father Patrick O'Reilly sponsored by Faculty of Arts and Science. Newman Center, 92 Broad St.

8 pm — Club Canada Meeting. Open to the campus. Angell Center Conference Room

Tuesday, December 11

10 am - 4 pm — Counseling and Fellowship (3 R's) sponsored by Baptist Campus Ministries, Rev. James Bradley. Open to the campus Meeting Rm. 2, Angell College Center, 2nd floor.

11:30 am — UUP Executive Board Meeting sponsored by UUP. Open to members only. Meeting Rm. 3, Angell College Center, 2nd floor.

12:30 pm — Co-Arm of U.U.P. Christmas Meeting. Open to members only. Angell Center Amnesty Room.

4:15 pm — A Dedication Ceremony to Unveil Chancellor's Award plaque listing all past recipients sponsored by Omicron Delta Kappa/CAS/SA. Open to the campus. Feinberg Library, Main Entrance Lobby.

6:30 pm — AKWEKON — The Native American Association's final meeting for the fall semester. Open to the campus. Redcay Hall, Anthropology Lounge.

7 pm — "Parenting Adolescents/Drugs/Alcohol," a workshop sponsored by the Employee Assistance Program Angell Center Cardinal Lounge.

8 pm — A Symphonic Band Concert with Kenneth Ayaab, conductor, sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Hawkins Hall, Giltz Auditorium.

Wednesday, December 12

(No events scheduled)

Thursday, December 13

10 am - 2 pm — Recruitment for New York State Police sponsored by the Career/Life Planning Center. Open to the campus. Angell Center Lobby

12 Noon — Holiday Sing sponsored by the Center for Art, Music and Theatre. Angell Center, 2nd floor.

7 pm — Club International — Weekly meeting. New members always welcome. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

WEEKLY NOTES

Library Hours for Exam Period:

Extended Library Hours will be:

Friday, December 7

8 am - 11:30 pm

Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 8 and 9

9 am - 11:30 pm

Monday - Friday, Dec. 10-14

8 am - 11:30 pm

Saturday and Sunday, Dec. 15 and 16

9 am - 11:30 pm

Monday - Thursday, Dec. 17 - 20

8 am - 11:30 pm

The Library will close at 4:30 pm on Friday Dec. 21.

The Faculty Women's Organization is offering a $500 scholarship for spring '91 and the NYS Board of Regents is offering Empire State Challenger Scholarships for teachers (for amounts up to $3,000 for undergraduate and $4,000 for graduate students). Also available are Paul Douglas Scholarships (for up to $5,000) for undergraduates pursuing teaching careers in select fields. Application deadlines are approaching. For more information and application materials, stop by the Financial Aid Office, fourth floor, Kehoe Building.

Current Position Vacancies (All positions tentatively are subject to a hiring freeze)

Faculty

Instructor/Asst. Prof. (choral/vocal teacher, Art, Music & Theatre). Deadline: 12/1/90.

Assistant Professor (English). Anticipated Vacancy.
Asst./Assoc. Professor (public speaking, Communication Dept) Fall '91 (Deadline: Open).

Assistant Professor (History; Western European) Fall '91 (Deadline: 12/15/90).

Lifelong Learning, P/T Vita Bank for extension sites.
Summer/Fall '91 (Deadline: Open).

Arts & Science, P/T Vita Bank (Anticipated positions; Deadline: 12/15/90).

Asst. Prof. (Sociology; anticipated vacancy) Fall '91
(Deadline: 1/15/91).

Research Foundation

Project Staff Associate/Economic Development Specialist (EDTAC). Deadline: 11/30/90.

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action.

SUNY Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Weekly

Special Collections
Feinberg Lib., PSUC
Does Not Circulate

Published by College Relations and Development for the Plattsburgh College Community • December 13, 1990

Foundation Business Campaign Shatters $100,000 Goal

The Plattsburgh College Foundation continues to be a pace-setter among SUNY's arts and science colleges in generating support from the business community.

With three weeks remaining in the fund-raising year, gifts from nearly 250 businesses totaled $105,700, exceeding the goal for 1990 and establishing a new record in contributions from that key constituency in the

Warren. "We provide some direction, but our area's businessmen and women coordinate the drive themselves, do the legwork and follow up on commitments. We can't say enough about the initiative demonstrated by Pat Murnane and Mike O'Connor, who co-chair the campaign. Their stature in the community and their ability to lead and motivate others is obvious."

Murnane, president of Murnane Associates, and O'Connor, an investment executive with Paine Webber and a member of SUNY Plattsburgh's Class of 1975, are in their second year at the head of the business drive.

(Continued on next page)

Business Campaign chairpersons Patrick Murnane (l) and Michael O'Connor with props telling the story of the successful 1990 fund-raising effort

Foundation's overall annual giving campaign. Records maintained by the Foundation show that support from businesses has increased by greater than 20 percent over the past five years, a figure that is significantly above the average nationally for all institutions of higher education.

"Our success, I believe, is the teamwork approach," commented SUNY Plattsburgh President Charles O.

400 Eligible to Participate in December 21 Graduation

More than 400 students will be eligible to participate in the Winter Commencement ceremony scheduled for 2 p.m. on Friday, December 21 at the Field House. President Charles O. Warren will preside over the ceremony and confer the degrees. Dr. E. Thomas Moran, vice president for academic affairs, will present the candidates for degrees and Robert M. Garrow '52 and Wayne H. Byrne, chair and vice chair of the College Council, respectively, will award diplomas.

Dr. H. Z. Liu, dean of the faculty of Arts and Science, will deliver the commencement address. As a new service this year, Dr. John Madison, associate professor in the Center for Teacher Education, will sign the ceremony.

Music for the ceremony will be provided by the College Brass Ensemble under the direction of Dr. Marshall Onofrio.

(Continued on next page)

A Holiday Message from President and Mrs. Warren

During this special season, it is fitting to take a few moments to reflect upon the events of the past year that have changed us — that have altered the way we think and act, and that have reminded us of how deeply we should appreciate the world around us and the people in it — and to say thanks to friends and colleagues who have affected our lives, personally and professionally, much for the better. We are deeply grateful for your support and encouragement, but mostly for doing so much, not always under the most favorable circumstances, to serve students and community and to foster the uncommon sense of collegiality that thrives here...that perpetuates the SUNY Plattsburgh "spirit." We truly wish you a peaceful and joyous holiday season as you gather with family and friends.

Nancy and Charles Warren

Season's greetings

Good Luck
December Graduates!

CAS Approves 'Downward Markup' in Textbook Costs

The executive committee of College Auxiliary Services (CAS) has approved what it terms a "downward adjustment of the markup" on the cost of textbooks, effective with the spring 1991 semester. The adjustment represents a six percent savings in the price of texts.

The measure stems from a recommendation by a CAS College Store Committee whose charge was to suggest "a fair and equitable pricing policy for textbooks" sold in that establishment. Following a thorough review of the existing pricing policy, the committee recommended abolishing the three percent textbook rebate procedure and setting a new percentage markup on all classroom texts at 33 percent of cost. That means, for example, that a textbook that costs $10 will be sold at $13.33.

According to Stanley Supinski, CAS executive director, the markup percentage is comparable to national averages. He said that it will be reviewed each semester for effectiveness. He added that because of the complex nature of processing orders for government documents and duplicating, those items will be priced separately.

December Graduation (Continued from page 1)

Nine students will receive degrees summa cum laude, having earned a grade point average of 3.9 or higher. They are: Donna Andre, elementary education, Moira; Deborah E. Drake, human services, Altona; Cheryl Willoughby Floyd, elementary education, St. Louis, MO; Robin Hart, special education, Keeseeville; Darlene Hooper, elementary education, New Russia; Donna Lynn McMann, psychology, Valley Cottage; Cathleen Rita Minotti, psychology, Plattsburgh; Paul M. Petell, professional accounting, North Bangor; Caryl M. Tierney, hearing and speech science, Malone.

Nine students will receive degrees magna cum laude, with GPAs between 3.7 and 3.89. They are: Lorraine J. Bessette, elementary and early secondary education/mathematics, Chateaugay; Mark Christopher Cochi, mass communications, New Hartford; Greg Eccles, elementary education, Plattsburgh; Kelly Jean Kollar, English, Fultonville; Deidre Markle, speech and hearing handicapped education, Whitestone; Marjorie Long Millea, art, Peru; Sirikul Sirichanvimol, food and nutrition, Island Park; Mailanai Anuenue Veney, international business, Ewa Beach, HI; Nancy L. Wolgemuth, human services, Chateaugay.

Twenty-two students will graduate cum laude, having earned GPAs of 3.4 to 3.69. They are: Jorja Bessette, elementary education, Canton; J. Dianne Brederson, French, Penfield; Deborah Marie Butler, elementary education, Coraopolis, PA; Roger W. Fedele, secondary education/biology, South Glens Falls; Julie Dana Goldstein, special education, Freeport; Jill Marie Hisert, elementary education, Cobleskill; Marv Anthony Johnson, psychology, Rome; Susan M. Jordan, secondary education/social science, Warrensburg; Gregory D. Lindenmuth, business, Clifton Park; Angelo Magaldi, computer science, Seaford; Joanne M. McGill, psychology, Plattsburgh; Wanda Reynolds McQueen, elementary education, Westport; Nicole A. Menikheim, human services, Manlius; Stephen N. Patrie, English, Brushton; Stephen Peets, elementary education, Glens Falls; Shirley A. Perky, elementary education, Keeseeville; Elizabeth Becker Pinkston, environmental science, Wappingers Falls; Richard A. Schuttig, accounting, Amsterdam; Deborah A. Sherman, elementary education, Westport; Jennifer A. Szczepanski, special education, Rensselaer; Michael J. Tucci, elementary and early secondary education/social science, LaGrangeville; and Sharon D. York, elementary and early secondary education/social science, Sylvester, GA.

Business Campaign (Continued from page 1)

They each coordinated the efforts of six captains who, in turn, worked with teams of five or more in soliciting gifts.

According to Don Garrant, executive director of the Foundation, the business campaign could grow by another $10,000 before it ends on Dec. 31 if all pledges are met. He noted that, besides their annual gifts, several area businesses are meeting their pledges to the ongoing, five-year Centennial Endowment Campaign. Also, he said, more than 20 business contributors have increased their gifts this year.

"In terms of engendering support in the college's own home area, our business drive is a model campaign in SUNY," said Garrant. "Other arts and science colleges raise from $40,000 to $60,000 from businesses annually, while we start with a goal of $100,000."

Most of the money raised from the business community is used for financial aid, with needy students the primary beneficiaries. Last year some 130 students received an average of $520 in aid made possible by gifts from businesses. Roughly one-third of the recipients come from Clinton, Essex and Franklin counties.

The roster of contributors shows 69 newcomers in 1990, although many in that category have given to the campaign in one or more years in the past. "Only support from alumni exceeds that of our very generous business community," said Garrant.

Serving with Murnane and O'Connor as captains of the 1990 business campaign are John Atwater, Donna Avery, Mark Barie, Anne Brandell, Clifford Calongne, Don Kasprzak, Ann Martin, Deena McCullough, Darcy Mousseau, Barbara Murray, Peter Whitbeck, and John Vroman.

Budget Update: Dilemma Still Unfolding as Fall Semester Comes to an End

(Editor's Note: The budget dilemma facing SUNY and the Plattsburgh campus remains unclear pending the outcome of ongoing talks on sharp spending cuts involving Governor Cuomo and the Legislature and action on a proposed tuition increase currently before the University's Trustees. But college officials here are busily analyzing the situation in an attempt to keep the campus community informed and to diminish the effect of rumors. With the fall term winding down, and anticipating that concrete measures won't be known before the semester break (the Trustees meet on Dec. 20-21), President Warren invited Weekly to sit in on a discussion of the budget issue and others related to it, including the imminent implementation of a parking fee, at Tuesday's meeting of the college's Executive Staff. Following is a summary of that discussion.)

SUNY's tentative plan

The State of New York's $1 billion revenue shortfall for the current fiscal year translates to a $61 million problem for SUNY. The University has developed a tentative plan for dealing with the problem that calls for 25 percent of the $61 million to be saved in each of four categories by:

- Implementation of a five-day furlough plan (or its equivalent) for all SUNY employees proposed by the governor;
- Approval (by the Trustees, the Legislature and the governor) of the proposed $150 per semester tuition increase for all SUNY students, to be implemented effective with the spring 1991 semester;
- Recovery of centrally administered funds — for example, allocations for equipment and interest on earnings; and
- Imposition of an additional budget reduction equal to 1.5 percent at each University state-operated campus.

For Plattsburgh, the latter measure would total $424,000. President Warren said the college could meet the requirement without laying off personnel. He urges faculty and staff to support what he termed the "balanced approach" in SUNY's savings plan. However, he added, the University and its individual campuses have been requested to plan for an additional 1.5 percent reduction in the current fiscal year, which ends March 31. If that happens, he continued, layoffs would be inevitable.

Local support

President Warren reported that the college has implemented a letter-writing campaign involving alumni and community leaders. These SUNY Plattsburgh graduates and friends of the college are being asked to communicate their support for key elements of the University's tentative savings plan to the governor and their legislators, and many already have done so.

President Warren said that besides advocating the college's (and SUNY's) position on the tuition increase and the governor's furlough plan, the correspondents have been given information pertaining to "The Case for SUNY" that conveys:

- New York State ranks 45th in America in public higher education expenditures as a percent of state tax revenues;
- While New York State ranks first in public welfare, second in police and corrections, and third in primary and secondary education, it is 43rd in per capita expenditures in support of higher education;
- New York State ranks 34th nationally in average cost of public higher education (tuition and fees);
- In terms of expenditure of state tax dollars for higher education, New York, at 5.8 percent, lags far behind many other states, including North Carolina (12.2 percent), California (10.6 percent), Wisconsin (9 percent), and Florida (7.8 percent); and •While the Consumer Price Index rose 29 percent from 1983 to 1990 and the higher education price index rose 41 percent, tuition for SUNY students hasn't budged.

(Over, please)

Program Review

Dr. E. Thomas Moran, vice president for academic affairs, said that the college-wide program and activity review is proceeding smoothly. However, he added, the review should be viewed not only in the context of the college's budget situation but also from the standpoint of its importance to preparation for the upcoming Middle States reaccreditation process.

Moran emphasized that no decisions have been made on program or activity cuts or reductions.

Energy savings

To effect savings on energy costs, the college will lower temperatures in virtually all campus buildings during the work weeks beginning December 24 and 31. A liberal leave policy will be in effect during the Christmas and New Year's weeks, meaning most offices will not have to remain open. J. Derek Allan, director of facilities, said that the temperatures will be reduced noticeably in unoccupied zones in a variety of buildings from Jan. 7 to Jan 20 , but that they will be maintained at a reasonable comfort level in work areas in others.

Enrollment curtailed

Janet Edwards, director of enrollment management, reported that the college has received nearly 1,200 applications for admission for the spring semester beginning in January. The number of students to be admitted has been trimmed from an original count of 350 to 250. The curtailment impacts not only new students, Edwards reported, but also former students reapplying for admission.

Parking fee

The college is still awaiting approval from SUNY Central Administration to implement a sliding scale approach to implementing a parking fee. Further review of this approach will be conducted by the College Council.

In the meantime, an interim, minimum parking fee of $4 per month ($20 for the period Jan. 1 through May 31 for affected employees and $18 for students, based on a shortened calendar) will go into effect on January 1, 1991. It was explained that the fee is necessary to recover state budget funds already spent to maintain campus parking facilities.

Rumor control

College officials have received no information about an early retirement incentive program. They also say that there is no substance to idle talk that the campus will be closed by mandate during the week of January 21, 1991. To control potentially hurtful rumors, members of the campus community are requested to contact individual members of the Executive Staff. For the convenience of the public, offices that ordinarily remain open but decide to close under the liberal leave policy are requested to notify the Office of College Relations which, in turn, will pass the information along to campus switchboard operators.

Future concerns

President Warren reported that where the current year's revenue shortfall in New York State is expected to be $1 billion, it is projected by many Albany observers to be in the range of $2-4 billion in fiscal 1991-92.

this week on campus

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1990 — TUESDAY, JANUARY 22, 1991
Unless otherwise noted, all events are free and open to the public

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 13

12 pm — Holiday Sing sponsored by Center for Art, Music & Theatre. Angell Center Blueloom, 2nd floor.

7 pm — Club International — weekly meeting. New members always welcome. Open to the campus. Angell Center Meeting Room #8.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 14

7:30 pm — The Newman Center Fall '90 "Alternative Film" Fest presents: "March of the Wooden Soldiers." No charge, but donations of money, non-perishables & clothing will be accepted. Newman Center.

8 pm — Friday Night Film Series, sponsored by Campus Life, presents "The Gods Must Be Crazy II." Open to the campus. Tickets: 50 cents, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Yokum CL 200.

SUNDAY, DECEMBER 16

6:45 & 9:15 pm — ACB Film Committee presents "Flatliners", sponsored by your Student Association Mandatory Fee. Open to the campus. Tickets: 50 cents, SA Members, $1.00 faculty/staff, on sale at the Angell Center Desk. Hawkins Hall, E. Glenn Giltz Auditorium.

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 18

10 am - 4 pm — Counseling and Fellowship (3 R's) sponsored by Baptist Campus Ministries. Open to the campus. Meeting Rm. #2, Angell College Center, 2nd floor.

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 21

2 pm — Commencement Ceremony — reception to follow. Open to the campus. SUNY Plattsburgh Field House.

3 pm - 5 pm — CSEA Christmas Party. Open to members only. Angell Center Centennial Room.

5:30 pm — Residence Staff Association banquet. Open to members only. Angell Center Cardinal Lounge and Ballroom B.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 8

10 am — Workshop for OSU Employees sponsored by CSEA. Open to OSU employees only. Angell Center Conference Room.

8 pm — Men's Basketball vs. St. Michaels. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $1.50 Students under 18, $2 Public, available at the door. Memorial Gymnasium.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 12

1 pm — Swimming vs. RPI. Memorial Pool.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 15

7:30 pm — Hockey vs. Potsdam. Open to the campus and community. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $2 Students under 18, $3.50 Public, available at the door. Field House, Stafford Ice Arena.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 19

1 pm — Swimming vs. Potsdam. Memorial Pool.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 22

6 pm — Women's Basketball vs. Albany. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $1.50 Students under 18, $2 Public. Memorial Hall Gymnasium.

8 pm — Men's Basketball vs. Albany. Tickets: $1 SA Members, $1.50 Students under 18, $2 Public.

NOTES

SUM1MER EMPLOYMENT — Upward Bound is seeking 12 Tutor-Counselors for its summer 1991 program. This is a seven-week position (June 18 - Aug. 2). The salary ranges from $1,100 to $1,200 (depending on funds), plus room and board. If interested, stop by the Upward Bound office (254 Macdonough) or call ext. 2030. First consideration given to applications received by Feb. 15.

SPOTLIGHT

"Double Vision in Racine's Phedre," an article by Dr. Thomas J. Braga, professor of French and Portuguese, appears in the December 1990 issue of The French Review ... Dr. Sophie Jeffries, who holds a joint appointment as visiting associate professor in the Center for Teacher Education and the Department of Foreign Languages and Literature, has been identified by the French government as one of 15 American teachers invited to attend a special institute in Strasbourg, France this summer to study the European community and its formal unification in 1992 ... The poem "9. November 1989" by Dr. Jurgen Kleist, assistant professor in the Department of Foreign Languages and Literature, which deals with the fall of the Berlin Wall, has been published in the anthology "Kommt Zeit-Kommt Rat?! Moderne Sprichwortgedichte von Erich Fried bis Ulla Hahn," Frankfurt am Main: R.G. Fischer, 1990, which is edited by Professor Wolfgang Meider of the University of Vermont. Also, his short story "Totenwache" ("The Wake") has been accepted for publication in the literary magazine literatur-express (University of Maryland) ... Albert Montanaro, associate professor and chairperson of the Department of Communication, and Peter Ensel, instructor in the department, are judging the Syracuse Advertising Club's 1990 media awards in the "news category competition." Ensel's article, "SNG: Changing the Way We See the News," has been published in the Nov.-Dec. issue of the National Broadcasting Society's Signals Journal.

Current Position Vacancies (All positions tentatively are subject to a hiring freeze)

Faculty

Assistant Professor (English). Anticipated Vacancy.
Asst./Assoc. Professor (public speaking, Communication Dept.) Fall '91 (Deadline: Open).
Assistant Professor (History; Western European) Fall '91 (Deadline: 12/15/90).
Lifelong Learning, P/T Vita Bank for extension sites. Summer/Fall '91 (Deadline: Open).
Arts & Science, P/T Vita Bank (Anticipated positions; Deadline: 12/15/90).
Asst. Prof. (Sociology; anticipated vacancy) Fall '91 (Deadline: 1/15/91).

Research Foundation

Counselor, Upward Bound (Deadline: Open).

Complete details are available in the Office of Personnel and Affirmative Action.

SUNY Plattsburgh is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Sophomore Lichte Elected Student Association President

Jacqueline Lichte will become the first sophomore elected to lead the SUNY Plattsburgh Student Association (SA) when she assumes office on January 1. To this point in SA history (it was established in 1963), only upper division students have won the office of president.

Lichte

Higgins

Lichte (pronounced "Light"), an undeclared major from Burke, Va., was elected SA president last Tuesday (Dec. 4) by a margin of 1,041 to 180. Her opponent, Gina Vecchiarello, had withdrawn from the race on the eve of the election.

Susan Higgins, a junior international business major from Hauppauge, defeated T. Christian Corroon 850 to 362 to claim the SA's number two position — executive vice president. The election of Lichte and Higgins marks the first time the top two slots in student government at Plattsburgh have been occupied by women.

Lichte and Higgins have compiled impressive records for involvement in campus activities in their brief careers as students here. The new president has served as a senator, as vice president of central affairs, and as a member of the SA's legislative review board, college-community relations board and finance board. Higgins has been a member of the SA Senate and has served for two years as a resident assistant.

In other contested races, Rob Antonelli was elected vice president for finance, Chris Holfester was elected vice president for academics and Michael Nowicki was elected vice president for activities. Ken McDonnell, vice president for student services; Michael Rapley, vice president for central affairs; Toni Ann Internicola, vice president for athletics; and Richard Beame Jr., vice president for the arts, all ran unopposed.

The 15 new SA senators, elected from a field of 36 candidates, are Paul Child, Scott Cohen, Larry Condon, Dawn Connors, Larry Ellis, Louise Heimberg, Matt Malvese, Atsuyuki Manabe, Jose Martinez, George McMurtry, Jennifer Powers, Bob Schofield, Pete Sprague, David Weinstein, and Allison Wise.

Continuing Legacy

Dr. Edgar G. Barton (c), professor emeritus of art and SUNY Distinguished Teaching Professor, and executor of the estate of the late Dr. Edward E. "Doc" Redcay, presents a check for $70,000 to college President Charles O. Warren while Don Garrant, executive director of the Plattsburgh College Foundation, looks on. The amount represents the balance of the estate of Doc Redcay, the former professor of psychology, dean of the college and acting president who served SUNY Plattsburgh for 53 years prior to his death in October of 1989. An endowment created by Redcay and his late wife, Lillian, is valued at more than $325,000. It ranks as the largest endowment held by the Foundation and establishes the Redcays as the college's leading benefactors. Besides the endowment, Doc Redcay bequeathed lakefront property on Cumberland Head to the Foundation. The property is currently up for sale.

SEFA Drive Winds Down; Campus Gifts at $26,500 but All Pledges Not In

The State Employees Federated Appeal (SEFA) Campaign on campus is winding down successfully, according to coordinator Clara LaRose. LaRose said that, as of last Friday, the campaign has raised $26,500 in pledges and contributions, but she added that quite a few pledge cards have not yet been returned. She urged those SUNY employees who have not returned the cards to consider making a pledge and joining the campaign.

"Overall, this has been a very good campaign," LaRose said. "Our participation in the SEFA appeal shows that SUNY Plattsburgh is an integral part of our North Country community. The many organizations which receive assistance through SEFA provide valuable services to countless people, and many people on our faculty and staff have been touched by those agencies in one way or another."

"I'd like to thank all those who have participated in this drive and urge the others to join us now."

Hoffman Named ODK Circle's '90-91 Leader of the Year

Deborah Hoffman, a senior psychology major from Lockport, has been selected the 1990-91 Leader of the Year by the campus chapter of Omicron Delta Kappa.

Hoffman, who is currently in a Study Abroad Program in Australia, is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, the national freshman honorary society, and Psi Chi, the national psychology honor society. Two years ago, she was named Sophomore of the Year by the ODK chapter.

Hoffman won the Redcay Sophomore Award in Psychology and a Redcay Research Apprenticeship Award. She has been involved with two research projects, one on moral judgment and behavior with Dr. William Tooke, and one on Alzheimer's Disease with Dr. Jeanne Ryan. Her proposed honors project, entitled "Animal Model of Alzheimer's Disease: Pre-operative vs. Post-operative Training in Morris Water Maze" has been accepted for funding through the Redcay Research Program for the spring semester.

Active in student government for several years, Hoffman served a term as SA vice president for academics and has also served as chair of the Academic

7 Inducted to Sigma Delta Pi, Hispanic Honor Society

Seven students were inducted into the campus chapter of Sigma Delta Pi, the international Hispanic honorary society, in a ceremony held on December. The new members are Sharon Baker, Theresa Baumgartner, Joanna Lynn Belair, Ellen Bernagozzi, Regina Marie Dubois, Tracy Ann George, and Jose J. Martinez.

The only university level Spanish honorary society, Sigma Delta Pi was founded in 1919 at the University of California-Berkeley. It now has more than 200 chapters in the United States and Canada.

To be eligible for membership, students must demonstrate scholarly and leadership qualities, as well as an appreciation of the Hispanic world in general.

Final WEEKLY of '90

This is the last issue of Weekly for the fall, 1990 semester. Publication will resume on January 16.

The editorial and production staff of Weekly would like to thank the faculty and staff for their cooperation and support during the fall semester and wish everyone a happy holiday season.

Affairs Board, a member of the College Community Relations Board and a member of the SA Memorial Scholarship Selection Committee. She has also been a member of the CAS Board of Directors, the CAS Executive Committee, the College Store Advisory Committee, a Freshman Experience resident assistant and student mentor and treasurer of the Cardinal Cheerleading Squad.

Hoffman will now compete with students from the various colleges and universities in Province I for the Province Leader of the Year Award.

Senate Oks 2 Resolutions; Discusses Five-Year Plan

The Faculty Senate passed two resolutions during its regular meeting last week, then Senators divided into groups and had a lengthy discussion on the Plattsburgh Plan.

The first resolution, "to support action by the New York State Legislature to provide voting membership on the SUNY Board of Trustees for the University Faculty Senate President and to provide for voting membership on local College Councils for local governance leaders," passed unanimously with no debate and little discussion. The resolution was explained by University SUNY Faculty Senator James Dawson who said that the CUNY Senate Leader has been a member of that board of trustees and student representatives are voting members of both the Board of Trustees and College Councils. He noted that, while the University Faculty Senate has held observer status with both the SUNY Board of Trustees and the Plattsburgh College Council, observers are excluded from certain key executive sessions and do not always obtain complete agenda packets and distribution materials.

The second resolution, to separate the Art, Music and Theatre Center into three governance units consistent with the newly-formed art, music and theatre departments, also passed, with one "no" vote. According to Vice President Thomas Moran, separate departmental status for the three disciplines was established on an acting basis two years ago. The resolution was supported with a petition urging the return to departmental structure which was signed by every member of the Center faculty.

The Senate also heard a report on the budget from President Warren, who presented some facts and figures in support of a tuition increase. Warren noted that New York State, with tuition and fees of $1,375, ranks 34th in average cost of public higher education tuition and fees, and substantially below such public institutions as the University of Vermont ($4,200), Pennsylvania State University ($4,048), the University of Michigan ($3,502) and the University of California ($1,646).

Weekly

BUDGET BULLETIN

TO: The Campus Community
DATE: December 18, 1990

Since a number of important events have occurred following the printing of a budget update in the most recent WEEKLY, I wanted to take this opportunity, prior to the holiday break, to share with you the information that is currently available.

As a result of legislative and executive agreements, and anticipated action by the University's Trustees, the following initiatives are in place:

- Undergraduate and graduate tuition will be increased by $150 for the spring semester. (Trustee approval is expected by Friday, Dec. 21.) Charges for part-time students will be prorated. Plattsburgh students will receive a supplemental billing for the increase and for the parking fee in early January.
- Non-student groups affected by the parking fee will be billed in early January.
- Apparently, a TAP reduction for all families earning between $8,001 and $50,000 annually remains in place.
- Effective January 3, 1991, all state employees will receive only nine day's pay for a ten-day period for five payroll periods; the first payroll actually reflecting this additional one-week lag will be January 17, 1991. Upon leaving state employment, each person will be compensated for the additional week of deferred payment. Further information from Albany regarding an equitable policy for adjunct faculty, 21-pay-period faculty, and graduate assistants will be forthcoming. Please note that all state payrolls are subject to the new lag payment policy.

(Over, please)

- A targeted early retirement incentive plan for colleagues covered by ERS or TRS — similar to the plan implemented earlier this year — will be in effect between December 17, 1990 and February 28, 1991. Further information is available from staff in the Personnel Office (Kehoe, 9th floor).
- The campus share of the most recent reductions for the University is $274,300 (0.97 percent of budget) and an additional 6.2 FTE positions. The position target will be met temporarily with currently open positions ... some of which may be filled at a later date.

As you know, the state's budgetary problems are likely to be even more severe during the upcoming fiscal year. Accordingly, we are proceeding with savings plans (energy consumption, etc.) and a thorough program and activity review as announced and discussed previously.

We will keep you posted as further information becomes available.

Again, please accept my sincere gratitude for your many strong and ongoing contributions and for your support and understanding.

Have a wonderful holiday.

Charles O. Warren